GEORGETOWN AND SILVER PLUME

Georgetown and Silver Plume—towns located in mountainous areas of Colorado and colored with the robust history of the heyday of early mining are covered in this set. In Georgetown, which came into existence with the discovery of gold in 1859, there are shots of the unique stores, hotels and other buildings of the former boom town, while coverage of Silver Plume, another formerly prosperous mining town, includes scenes of picturesque Clear Creek which runs through the city, as well as typical buildings and homes of what was once described by Colorado historians as a "pretty village".

CARLSBAD CAVERNS

Photographed by R. F. Casper

In the Pecos River Valley of southeastern New Mexico in the foothills of the Guadalupe Mountains lies the most extensive and spectacular cavern yet discovered in America, if not in the world—Carlsbad Caverns. Enormous underground rooms and miles of vaulted hallways, with stalactites and stalagmites of various shapes and sizes (in which iron or other mineral matter in the limestone produce delicate tints)—the graceful, the grotesque, the quaint and the massive, decorating the 32-miles of the underground caves. Slides include some of the outstanding striking formations and rooms which annually attract thousands of tourists to the vicinity and have been studied extensively by the geologist, the mineralogist, the biologist and others.

IN AND AROUND COLORADO SPRINGS

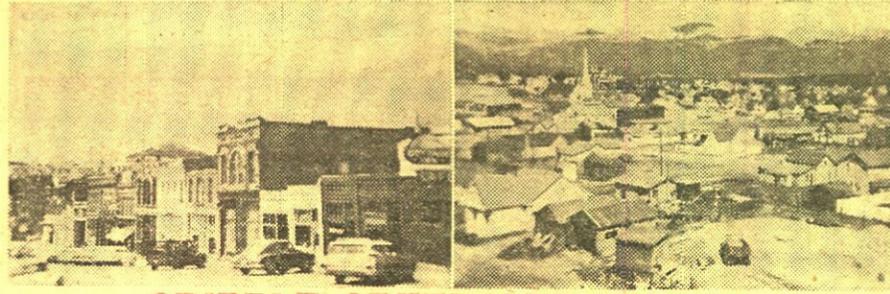

Covers the picturesque city of Colorado Springs at the foot of Pikes Peak—tailor-made year-round resort, residential city and cultural center, with many scenes at points of interest in environs. Includes the Garden of the Gods, a hilly area studded with beautiful red sandstone rock masses of fantastic shapes and sizes; Manitou Springs, colorful resort city lying in the forested foothills that swell up toward Pikes Peak; Seven Falls, only completely lighted canyon and waterfall in the world; the Cave of the Winds with its underground rooms of onyx calcite and alabaster stalactites and stalagmites, and a visit to Santa's workshop, North Pole, a fairy-tale village where Santa and his workmen may be visited.

U. S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY

Shows the various modern halls on the grounds where the 2500 cadets undergo four years of training and study; the formal gardens; the Planetarium (which is open regularly for public programs), the parade grounds, the ultramodern chapel, and shots of the graduating exercises in the huge stadium with President John F. Kennedy in attendance.

350-499, 30 35mm. 2"x2" color slides, 5-ozs. $4.19

CRIPPLE CREEK AND VICTOR

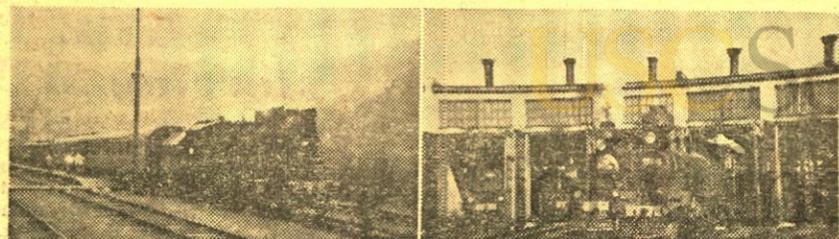

Covers the Cripple Creek area and Victor, one of the world's most famous gold fields (has produced $380,770,422 of the yellow metal since 1891). Cripple Creek (now about 1000) once had a population of 20,000 and was a riotous mixture of mining activity and the Wild West. Many names, now celebrated, are associated with the town—here Texas Guinan began her career as an entertainer—Lowell Thomas lived and attended school, and prize fighters, Jack Johnson and Jack Dempsey both worked in the town. Victor, always a rival of Cripple Creek is another picturesque old mining town and is said to still have streets literally paved with gold—for in the early days, the low-grade ore was used to surface the streets.

LEADVILLE—CITY TWO MILES HIGH

Once a fabulous gold camp and one of the richest silver camps, and once a lusty brawling town where millionaires were made and destroyed in a day, Leadville, located just below the timber line in the upper vally of the Arkansas (almost two miles above sea level) is a colorful blend of the old and the new. Slide coverage includes bits of Leadville's lively history—buildings which are landmarks of the bawdy era and some of the modern buildings which are indicative of the rebuilding which has taken place in the town during recent years. Also includes shots of the chief prop of the town's economic structure, the world's largest molybdenum mine at Climax.

COVERED BRIDGES of VERMONT

Photographed by William Schermerhorn

The New England states have great concentrations of covered bridges and among them, the state of Vermont has some of the finest examples as well as some of the most photogenic backgrounds. In this new Blackhawk set, almost four dozen different bridges are pictured, photographed at different seasons of the year. Included are a handful of covered railroad bridges, almost a rarity nowadays. This comprehensive set will have, of course, special appeal to all covered bridge enthusiasts, but it is an exceptional supplementary set for adding to your travel coverage of this picturesque area. Captions indicate names of bridges and mounties in which each is located.

THEIR PURPLE MOMENT

starring
STAN LAUREL & OLIVER HARDY
with ANITA GARVIN

Stanley Pincher was a goodly man—the boldest thing he ever did was to whistle in the back yard. Oliver was just another husband. Both of the boys were “holding out” part of their pay checks on their wives. Ollie gets caught, so they decide to enjoy themselves with Stan’s money. They head for a bowling alley but get sidetracked along the way at a night club by two damsels in distress. The neighborhood gossip sees them enter. They order steak dinners all around. When the time comes to pay the waiter, Stan finds that his wife too had discovered his hoard—for his billfold is empty. Their wives arrive! Pandemonium breaks loose! How can they explain? Stan says: “I have an idea!” Ollie replies: “Tell them your idea!” Stan says: “We started for the bowling alley, but he dragged me into this den of vice!”

Their Purple Moment went into theatrical distribution in the late spring of 1928. Our version is complete and substantially as it appeared on movie screens around the world in those waning days of the silents.

ALL NIGHT LONG

starring
HARRY LANGDON

Of all of the comedy stars of the silents, Harry Langdon’s climb to prominence was perhaps the most rapid, as was his ultimate skid into relative obscurity, closely following the end of the silent era. Langdon came from the stage where he had appeared in stock, musical comedy and vaudeville since boyhood. Mack Sennett began starring him in a series of comedies in the mid-1920’s. By 1926, his popularity had attained a degree sufficient for him to set out on his own as star and producer of a series of comedy features which were distributed by First National.

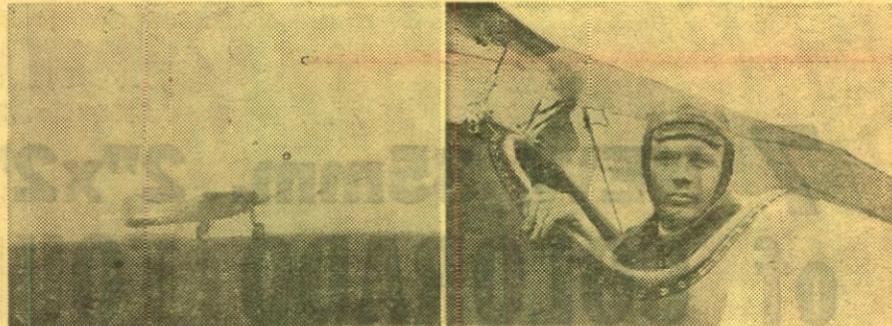

But Langdon’s stardom vanished with the coming of the talkies. In the early 1930’s he did appear for Hal Roach in a number of comedy short subjects, and later in a series for Columbia. During the 1930’s he was seen in an average of little more than one feature picture a year, first for the major companies and then for the independents. The calibre of his assignments became poor imitations of his earlier work.

During the early 1940’s there was a brief spurt back into the running in several appearances in features produced by Hal Roach. On the heels of these were two or three low budget independent films of no consequence, and then his passing late in 1944.

Various writers have come up with differing points of view as to Langdon’s short span of such great success. Some say that he never should have attempted to produce his own films—others that he should have stayed out of features altogether—others that his comedy character seemed inflexible and not subject to further development. Yet, his portrayals in some of his silent features of the late 1920’s, in the opinion of some critics, were as much of a challenge as Chaplin ever had from any other comedy star.

All Night Long is one of his relatively early two reel comedies, produced by Mack Sennett and first put into release through Pathe in the fall of 1924. It is one of the very best of the Langdon’s, and a major sequence from the film was used by Robert Youngson in one of his great comedy features. It’s the story of two “buddies” in France during World War I. Vernon Dent is the sergeant—and Harry’s “pal”. But poor, little, timid Harry walks away with the girl.

LINDBERGH'S TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT

Edited from newsreel coverage of the historic and magnificent flight of Charles Augustus Lindbergh from New York to Paris on May 20-21, 1927—marking man’s first non-stop transatlantic airplane jump. Includes pictures of “The Spirit of St. Louis” at take-off from Roosevelt Field, New York, for the 33½ hour journey through rain and snow and ice, and covers the subsequent events—huge stampeding hysterical crowds in France, Belgium and England who gave the young pilot the most triumphant receptions ever accorded an American. Lindbergh’s stature as a hero grew, and when he returned to America, he was granted an outpouring of admiration and affection from millions of persons as evidenced in these newsreel highlights. Includes excellent shots of Lindbergh along with many of the politically and diplomatically important personages of the era.

A TWO-CYLINDER COURTSHIP

starring
BILLIE RHODES and JAY BELASCO

A Two-Cylinder Courtship was a Strand Comedy made for distribution by Mutual. It bears a striking resemblance to Christie Comedies of the period and may actually have been produced by Al Christie who, earlier in 1917, had left Nestor to form Christie Film Co. and distribute on a States’ Rights basis.

Billie Rhodes and Jay Belasco who were starred in A Two-Cylinder Courtship were almost simultaneously featured in a number of Christie films, and Scott Sidney, who directed it, was active as a director for Christie well into the 1920’s.

Billie Rhodes is cast as a tomboy farmerette who has a distinct mechanical aptitude and is more at home in repairing her “two-cylinder” automobile than in her sweetheart, Jay Belasco. Billie’s father wants her to have nothing to do with romance—he needs her to work on the farm. Jay is all for eloping, which is just what they do—with Billie’s father in close pursuit in his Model T Ford. This leads into quite a complicated chase, with the father and one of his accomplices finally locked in a hotel room while another “parson” proceeds with the marriage ceremony on the sidewalk below.

This is a fast moving comedy of the period and today of more than casual interest because of the appearance and the antics of the various vintage automobiles.

THE TOLL GATE
starring WILLIAM S. HART

“The Toll Gate” is one of William S. Hart’s films made early in 1920, produced by his own company under his personal supervision, and originally distributed theatrically by Paramount-Artcraft, although reissued later in the 1920’s as a Sandee Picture. Many individuals consider “The Toll Gate” to be one of Hart’s best films. Certainly its story thread is razor sharp—characterization surprisingly realistic and vivid—and the finished result today is an outstanding offering for collectors.

To quote from the original press book: “William S. Hart is at the . . . Theatre this week in one of the best pictures of his career. It is called ‘The Toll Gate’ and is a thrilling and unusually appealing story of the rugged days of the olden West.

“Mr. Hart appears as Black Deering, head of a bandit gang, but an honorable man beneath his rough exterior. Deering is anxious to abandon his life of pillaging, but Jordan, his chief lieutenant, urges him to one more hold-up. It is a frame-up and Deering is captured. But he manages to escape and performs several thrilling and hazardous feats in order to elude the sheriff’s posse that is trailing him.

“Anna Q. Nilsson makes an appealing leading woman. Bill Hart’s famous Pinto pony comes in for a good share of the attention and takes a notable part in many of the thrilling scenes.”

LILLIAN GISH

It is said that D. W. Griffith made Intolerance because of the storm of controversy that had swirled around The Birth of a Nation, and that it was possible because of his share of profits in that first monumental film. But while The Birth of a Nation was made for a few tens of thousands of dollars, Intolerance cost almost a million, and Griffith ended up by buying out his unhappy financial associates.

Intolerance was a commercial failure, perhaps because it went into release only months before America entered World War I, and the country was preoccupied with the war in Europe and in no mood to seriously consider the philosophical and historical aspects of intolerance—or perhaps because it just did not get through to a large enough segment of the public. Yet, Intolerance was an artistic success and has, perhaps, grown in stature with the years. Certainly, when all of the films of Griffith are considered, The Birth of a Nation and Intolerance stand at the top.

During the years since Intolerance faded from theatre screens, it has been available only for restricted use on rental from The Museum of Modern Art in New York. The Birth of a Nation, however, has continued in distribution to both theatres and in the non-theatrical field. Because Intolerance has been less in evidence in recent years, our release of the subject in 8mm. for home and non-theatrical use has created an uncommon amount of attention and interest, and we are pleased to make this announcement of its availability.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

COPYRIGHT 1915, 1942 BY EPOCH PRODUCING CORPORATION

with LILLIAN GISH, HENRY B. WALTHALL, MAE MARSH, WALLACE REID, MIRIAM COOPER, ROBERT HARRON, ELMER CLIFTON, RALPH LEWIS, DONALD CRISP, SPOTTISWOODE AIKEN, WALTER LONG, GEORGE SIEGMANN, JOSEPH HENABERRY and

It will be of interest to film collectors everywhere to learn that our fine grain master positive (from which our printing negatives are made) struck from the original 1915 35mm. negative of "The Birth of a Nation" is likely to be the last use to which this original negative is put. Down the years, hundreds of prints have been made from it and shrinkage, perforation wear, and the extreme difficulty of getting the timing notches to trigger light changes properly have now brought on its permanent retirement. Our fine grain master positive and the fine grain in the possession of The Museum of Modern Art in New York are now the two authentic records of this historic film in its true original form.

Complete and authentic—every scene and title intact just as when "The Birth of a Nation" was originally released in 1915!

THE FEMALE OF THE SPECIES

with MARY PICKFORD

Also features Dorothy Bernard, Claire McDowell and Charles West. It had never been Biograph's policy, up until its last few years, to identify the cast, director or photographer of any of its films. Thus, in 1912, the movie-going public knew Mary Pickford only as she was billed by the nickelodeons, as "Blondielocks", "Goldielocks", "The Girl with the Curls" or "The Biograph Girl". And the public had probably never heard of D. W. Griffith, who directed The Female of the Species or G. W. "Billy" Bitzer, who photographed it.

Griffith considered The Female of the Species one of the best of his early films.

THE BATTLE AT ELDERBUSH GULCH

with LILLIAN GISH, MAE MARSH, LIONEL BARRYMORE and HARRY CAREY

When D. W. Griffith made The Battle of Elderbush Gulch in the early summer of 1913, his association with Biograph was nearing its end. This pioneer company had given him his opportunity, and had become the industry's dominant producing company because of it. But Biograph was a cornerstone in the Motion Picture Patents Company—the Trust—and its almost inflexible adherence to films of one or two reel length was throttling the future narrative and artistic developments of Griffith's films.

The Battle of Elderbush Gulch was the "master's" try at a Western, and in its two reels he came out with a build-up of suspense and tension perhaps not rivaled in a film of this type until John Ford's Stagecoach some twenty-six years later.

All Blackhawk 8mm. prints are now silicone coated to assure smooth, steady projection, and to minimize the hazards of scratching, torn perforations and finger-marking.

8mm. COLOR MOVIES by BLACKHAWK

On this and the following two pages you will find a complete list of Blackhawk's 8mm. color movies. All subjects in the "820" and "825" series are printed by direct reduction from 16mm. color negatives to 8mm. Eastman Color prints—the most expensive method of making 8mm. color prints and the only method that gives both maximum sharpness and brilliant color.

Subjects in the "805" and "815" series are similarly direct reduction printed, but from either 16mm. originals or 16mm. color masters to 8mm. Kodachrome-type reversal color print stock—the traditional type of color print stock.

To the best of our knowledge, there are no other 8mm. color prints on the general market that are direct reduction printed from 16mm. color negatives to 8mm. color positives, and thus there are no 8mm. color prints in any widely distributed series that approach the quality of Blackhawk 8mm. color movies in our "820" and "825" series.

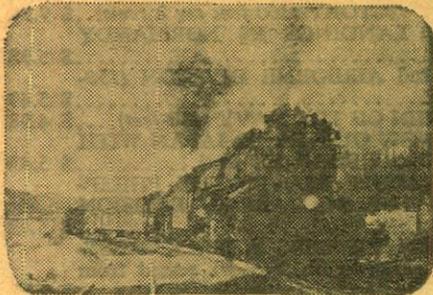

STEAM ON THE SIERRA RAILROAD

Photographed by Mac Owen

The Sierra Railroad, California short line that runs for some 50-odd miles from Tuolumne to Oakdale, where it connects with the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe, has made a specialty in recent years as affording the setting and the properties for many of the television programs dealing with the old west. Its locomotives are thus styled and decorated in the manner of the 1880's and afford the opportunity for some dashing shots of steam power. Mac Owen has taken some very effective action scenes of these steam jobs as they were used on several fan trips, with coaches borrowed from the S. P. and the Santa Fe—some re-lettered for their television assignments. You'll like the effect!

820-32, 8mm. color version, $4.49
about 50-feet, 2-ozs.

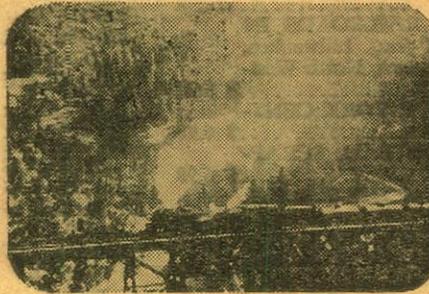

MEMORIES OF STEAM on the RIO GRANDE

Produced by Carl Dudley

Just about everything in the movie and slide line dealing with the Rio Grande has been devoted to the narrow gauge operations of the mountain railroad. But here's our first film to concentrate on the standard gauge aspects of that line, including two scenes of D. & S. L. ten-wheelers at the Moffat Tunnel before that line was merged into the Rio Grande. You'll see such Rio Grande steam power as 2-8-2's, 4-8-4's and 4-8-2's—plus a 2-8-2—at such spectacular spots as the Royal Gorge and Tennessee Pass.

825-14, 8mm. color version, $8.99
about 100-feet, 11-ozs.

MEMORIES OF STEAM on the WESTERN PACIFIC

Produced by Carl Dudley

In the last decade, everything in the movie line on the Western Pacific has been devoted either to the California Zephyr, or to the lines diesel-powered freights. Here's a collection of spectacular scenes behind the W. P.'s steam locomotives that were its active power in the middle 1940's. You'll see 4-8-2's, 2-8-8-2's, 4-6-2's at such spectacular spots as Williams Loop, Willow Creek Viaduct and on the Keddie Wye.

Sylvania SUN GUN

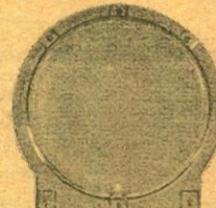

The first new development in home movie lighting in many years! The Sun Gun makes use of a quartz iodine lamp with light output equivalent to four R-30 photofloods. It gives 35,000 center beam candlepower, using only 650-watts, as opposed to 1,000-watts required by four photofloods. It operates on 110-120-volt AC, and draws 6-amps. The life of the Sun Gun ranges between 10 and 15-hours, compared to only 4-hours for photofloods. Further, the Sun Gun maintains both its light output and color temperature over its entire life. The beam from the Sun Gun is broad enough to be used with most wide angle lenses. It provides adequate light for shooting with indoor Kodachrome. Camera shown in illustration not included.

WHAT BLACKHAWK'S CUSTOMERS SAY

"Just this week I finished viewing 'The Birth of a Nation' which I had received from your company last week. It is a monument to the memory of D. W. Griffith, and also, if I may say, this 8mm. version is a monument to your company for releasing it in its entire length, and for its exceptionally fine print quality.

"I have always had good prints from you and excellent service and hope to continue ordering from your company for many more years to come."

SLIDE STIFFENERS

for use with 2 3/4 x 2 3/4 CARDBOARD MOUNTED SLIDE TRANSPARENCIES

It has been found that 2 3/4 x 2 3/4 inch cardboard mounted slide transparencies do not perform well in automatic slide projectors because the cardboard frame in this larger sized slide is not rigid enough to hold the film surface flat. Bausch & Lomb now has the answer to this problem in an inexpensive, easy-to-use slide stiffener that is a thin steel frame into which a cardboard-mounted transparency is inserted. This frame prevents buckling and eliminates jams in today's automatic projectors capable of handling these larger slides.

FILMAGIC SILICONE CLOTH

USE IT TO CLEAN, POLISH AND PROTECT YOUR FILMS

This Filmagic Silicone Cloth is treated with silicone to apply an invisible but highly lubricated surfacing to your 16mm. and 8mm. films. This makes them more resistant to scratches and blemishes. New prints so treated will run through the projector much more steadily than a "green" untreated print. Polishing both sides of the film channel at the film gate of your projector with this Filmagic Cloth will also give further protection to your films and make for steadier projection of new prints.

22-03, 4-ozs. $1.89

for the conditioning and protection of your movie film and color slides!

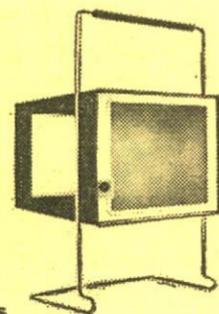

Filmagic SURFASET is a perfect conditioner when used on newly-processed film. The treatment removes all traces of "greenness" and permits immediate use of film in still projectors, motion-picture projectors, continuous or repetitive equipment. The conditioners in SURFASET will make older film flexible, removing "set" and allowing steady projection under most adverse conditions. Filmagic SURFASET gives perfect results when used on magnetic sound tracks (8mm, 16mm. or 35mm.).

A treatment that has a pleasant odor in dispersion, is usable in any climate, under any condition of heat or humidity, and which is proof against mildew, fungus or film embrittlement.

A treatment that provides a buffer against abrasion during handling and projection, resists oil spots or dirt, stores indefinitely without excessive evaporation, and protects the film against loss of inherent moisture and color fade.

A treatment that is easily applied by wiping, spraying or dipping, under local conditions. The chemicals employed are of low toxicity, harmless to normal skin, and easily removed.

SAWYER'S PANA-VUE 2x2 SLIDES

What is a Sawyer Pana-Vue Slide? How does it differ from a 35mm. 2"x2" slide? Outside, both the Pana-Vue and the 35mm. slide measure 2x2-inches—both fit the same standard 2x2-inch projectors. Inside, the actual picture area of the Pana-Vue Slide is 84% larger. The big, square Pana-Vue picture fills your square home screen or viewer, although some 35mm. 2"x2" projectors made several years ago may crop in slightly at the corners when Pana-Vue Slides are projected on them.

Just as important is the tremendous photographic quality of each Pana-Vue Slide. Each Pana-Vue Slide is a direct optical print from the original color negative and will match or surpass your own originals.

EACH SAWYER'S PANA-VUE SET CONTAINS FOUR SLIDES

Shipping weight per set: 2-ozs.

PORTS OF PARADISE

Used 16mm. sound prints of about 1000-feet available in both color, and black and white versions

Ports of Paradise is perhaps the most outstanding travel film we have yet been able to offer in used print form. Produced only three years ago by Dudley Pictures Corporation for the Matson Line, these prints have been withdrawn from circulation not because they are in any way outdated, but because two or three additional ports of call have been added to the cruises, and the productions have thus been revised and reprinted for sponsored and television distribution.

Ports of Paradise pictures an American couple embarking on a South Seas cruise aboard one of the fabulous ships of the Matson Steamship Lines. Life aboard ship is pictured, and quite detailed coverage is given of the beautiful ports of call along the way—Tahiti, New Zealand, Australia, Fiji, Samoa and Hawaii. If you long for the adventure of travel, dream of a luxury cruise or feel a yearning for a far-away place, this film is for you. Prints are all in above average used condition.

THE PERFECT CLOWN

starring
LARRY SEMON
with DOROTHY DWAN, OLIVER HARDY, KATE PRICE and OTIS HARLAN

Larry Semon became a popular star in comedy short subjects soon after starting with Vitagraph in 1916. He was first known as Lawrence Semon, soon switching to the less formal "Larry" as being more in keeping with his comedy character. In the years that spanned the period of World War I and ran through 1923, his one and two reelers for Vitagraph—which he both starred in and directed—were among the most popular comedy short subjects in release. By the end of 1923, with Vitagraph's fortunes declining, Semon's association with that company came to an end, and he shifted to Chadwick Pictures Corporation. In 1924 and 1925, Chadwick made three features starring Semon, The Girl in the Limousine which was distributed by First National, and The Wizard of Oz and The Perfect Clown which went out through States' Rights exchanges.

The Perfect Clown was directed by Fred Newmeyer, one of the top comedy directors of the period, who was responsible for most of the Harold Lloyd features of the 1920's. It went into distribution late in the fall of 1925.

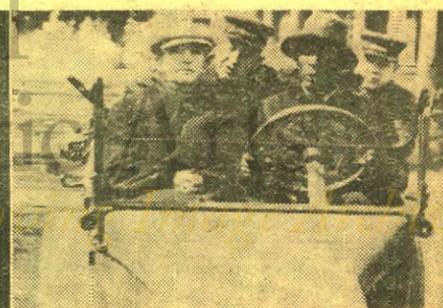

Of special interest today is the appearance of Oliver Hardy—billed as O. N. Hardy—cast as the heavy. Less than two years later he was to be teamed with Stan Laurel and on the way to becoming one of the most beloved comedy stars of the screen.

In The Perfect Clown, Larry Semon is cast as a clerk in an investment firm headed by Otis Harlan. Dorothy Dwan is Harlan's secretary. Kate Price is Larry's landlady, Oliver Hardy is the landlady's husband. Many ingredients are present in this comedy feature that made it a good one for its day, and of varying appeal today.

Larry is entrusted with a deposit of $10,000.00 in currency—but gets to the bank too late. When he gets back in the building in which the office is located, he meets Dorothy at the entrance and is informed that the office is closed and that everyone has gone for the day. So, he takes the bag of currency home for the night—or starts to. But he meets up with a tough guy on a street car whom he takes for a gangster, leaves the street car and grabs a ride on the spare tire of a passing car. This is only the start of his misadventures with midnight finding him and the colored porter from his office building meeting in a cemetery, stumbling into a haunted mill and getting involved with two escaped convicts.

This feature is substantially complete, and representative of many comedy features of the mid-twenties and of Semon's work at that particular time. It will be a welcome addition to your collection.

810-355, 8mm. version, about 950-feet on 5 reels, 2-lbs. $24.98
620-149, 16mm. silent version (available on special order only), about 1900- feet on 5 reels, 6-lbs. $99.98
