THE SILENT ENEMY

AN EPIC OF THE AMERICAN INDIAN

Described for the Blackhawk Bulletin by Kevin Brownlow

The title refers to hunger. The film is an impeccable reconstruction in story form of Ojibway Indian life as it was before the white man came. Conceived and produced in full awareness that the Indian and the wilderness were both rapidly vanishing, it was made forty-five years ago for the purpose of leaving a visual record for the America that was to come of the America that used to be.

Douglas Burden, a young explorer, had been profoundly impressed by the Merian C. Cooper — Ernest Schoedsack film Chang, and with his partner William Chanler, director H. P. Carver, and a team of Hollywood professionals, independently financed and produced the picture for release by Paramount.

The story-line, which H. P. Carver's son Richard elaborated into a scenario, was based on a study of The Jesuit Relations, a running record in 72 volumes of the travels of Jesuit missionaries in New France (1610-1791). "Not one episode was invented by us" declared Burden, "with the exception of the bear on the cliff."

Chief Yellow Robe, who plays Chief Chetoga, was a hereditary chief of the Sioux and a nephew of Sitting Bull. He also wrote and spoke the moving prologue that opens the sound version of the picture. The hunter Baluk was a highly-decorated World War veteran, Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, a Black Foot and a contemporary of Jim Thorpe at Carlisle. For the remainder of the cast, Burden spent six weeks travelling by canoe along the shore of Abitibi Lake searching for photogenic and co-operative Ojibway Indians.

He assembled a group of 150. But holding them was another matter. None had ever seen a motion picture, and the abstract idea of screen continuity was hardly their main concern. Mr. Burden still recalls the shudder that went through him every time he heard "Me think we go back to our trapping grounds."

Indians capable of the craftsmanship of their forbears were rare. One of the few who knew how to make birch-bark canoes in the style of the pre-Columbus Indians was an old man of almost a hundred. He worked hard. The shots were taken, and his canoes were used in the film. But no one told him the end of photography meant his work was done. Six weeks later, somewhat pathetically, he asked for a day of rest. Burden discovered he had been carrying on non-stop with his ancient craft!

Animal specialists included Dr. Alan Bachrach, Louis Bonn, and an old Indian hunter who had taken Burden on many trips through the north woods, Archie Miller. Earl Welch and Count Ila Tolstoy were second unit directors.

Conditions were rugged. The temperature frequently plummeted to 35° below. Many scenes were taken a thousand miles north of the railroad, in areas accessible only by canoe in summer, or dog team in winter. Burden, suffering from amoebic dysentery picked up in Nicaragua in 1924, was confined to his teepee for three weeks at a stretch, surviving on tomato juice. Fights broke out in the camp between lumberjacks and the Indians. In the midst of their work, the company received regular visits from a charming grey bearded Catholic priest who, after each visit, would somehow manage to drive off on his dog team with most of the money the Indians had earned. And of course, many common law marriages took place among the Indians, not to mention an assorted array of newborn babes who emerged with the strangest names, such as William Chanler Benoit and Douglas Burden Batiste.

One point that is almost certain to arouse curiosity involves the amazing animal pictures. There is no fakery. The wolves, for example, are not Malamutes or wolf dogs — they are real honest-to-God wolves. The animal sequences were obtained by dint of endless patience, plus a great deal of ingenuity.

The fight between the mountain lion and the bear is a scene which causes a great deal of comment, even today. Burden was not present when Louis Bonn shot the sequence. But he remembers the principle. "They found that the bear was always the attacker. Here was a dead deer; both the bear and the mountain lion were damn hungry. They let the mountain lion get at the deer first, then they released the bear from another enclosure. He went at the mountain lion, and a fight broke out. The mountain lion escaped up a tree, and the bear was so mad he went right up the tree after him, and out on a limb. They fell off the limb and continued fighting together on the ground. That was how the scene worked out."

Douglas Burden edited the film with Richard Carver, and was extremely gratified when The Silent Enemy opened at the same New York theater where Chong had been so successful. A special orchestral score was composed for the picture by Massard Kur Zhene. Mr. Kur Zhene spent time among the Ojibways collecting original melodies, and from the hundred and fifty separate songs he wrote down, he drew the themes he used in working up the music. Blackhawk's sound prints offer a new recording of the Kur Zhene score performed by John Muri on theater organ. The beautiful melodies add immeasurably to the film's effect.

Jesse L. Lasky promised Burden and Chandler the best advertising and promotion Paramount could give — but the picture came out in 1930, when silent films were already obsolete. Once away from Broadway, despite the spoken prologue and the musical track, the film was a financial failure and all that was left were the glowing reviews:

"High on the list of the cinema's nobler achievements," wrote Robert E. Sherwood, "are the names of Nanook of the North, Grass, Stark Love, and Chong. They were contributed to the screen by enterprising explorers who took their cameras into remote, neglected regions and recorded the drama that is life. By such courageous deeds has the humble movie justified its existence. Now there is another picture to be added to the distinguished list. It is called The Silent Enemy, and the quality of its reception by the great film-loving public will be extremely interesting to watch. For it is a story of primitive life among the American Indians as they were in the centuries before Columbus.

"To say that this admirable production is "educational" is to condemn it to be shown in empty theaters. There is no more demand for education among movie fans than there is among college students. So I shall carefully avoid all use of this ugly word in writing of The Silent Enemy and I urge all other reviewers to do likewise. It deserves to be seen, for it is beautiful, it is superbly acted, and in many of its scenes, tremendously exciting.

"Strangely enough, the most important feature of The Silent Enemy is its silence. No one can tell until the returns are in whether it is possible at this time for a non-talking picture to gain the favor and support of the public. I hope so, for production of pictures like Nanook, Grass, and The Silent Enemy is one of the cinema's most important functions. Such pictures will continue to be of intense value after Alice White and Buddy Rogers have been forgotten. They are permanent, eloquent records of races and customs that are vanishing from the earth."

Sherwood's prediction was inaccurate; forty-five years later, Alice White and Buddy Rogers are vividly remembered. The Silent Enemy, forgotten in a Paramount vault, was rescued only just in time. Had we lost it, no one would have mourned. For it is only by screening it today that we can appreciate what a priceless treasure it is.

THE RIVER

THE CLASSIC DOCUMENTARY by Pare Lorentz

During the Depression of the 1930's, the Federal Government's Works Progress Administration commissioned works of art as a way of creating employment for artists. The Federal Theater Project created a voodoo Macbeth and "The Living Newspaper," paintings and murals for public buildings were provided by Jackson Pollock, Henry Varnum Poor, Charles Burchfield, Reginald Marsh, Willem de Kooning and many others. A photographic record of the country was made by Dorothea Lange. In film, a series of documentaries made for various Federal Agencies overcame tremendous bureaucratic resistance to tell the country about its problems, offer hope to its people, and incidentally become classics of the screen.

THE RIVER is a milestone in the history of film; one English critic, writing years later, called it "the most important single documentary America has so far produced." It brought fame to many of those who collaborated on it: Writer-Director Pare Lorentz; Photographers Stacey and Horrace Woodard, Floyd Crosby, and Willard Van Dyke; and Composer Virgil Thomson. In content as well as style, THE RIVER is like a time capsule of the New Deal era, concerned with planning for water, for land, for people.

The river is the Mississippi, "carrying every drop of water that flows down two-thirds the continent; carrying every brook and rill, rivulet and creek."

The plan is against flood for (to quote the narration) "Year in, year out, the water comes down, down from a thousand hillsides; washing the top off the valley."

The land is the Tennessee Valley, for the final sequence describes the work of the TVA against flood and for erosion control. The people are impoverished "farmers who were caught by years of depression and in need of only a stake to be self-sufficient." All these things are described, not in the style of a dry report, but in images of raging floods, malnourished sharecroppers, steamboat races — images so powerful that, re-used as stock scenes, they have become familiar as the heart of many films.

When THE RIVER was finished, Paramount Pictures licensed it from the Government for theatrical distribution. Time called it "a motion picture of startling photographic beauty, sweep, and importance." The New York Times held it to be "poetic, stirring, and majestic," and said that "to call it a great documentary does it an injustice. It is a great motion picture."

For two decades, THE RIVER was the most popular film available on 16mm, familiar to every school child, but over the years people forgot its message. Studs Terkel in Hard Times quotes a 19-year-old student: "When I was at Cornell, a documentary film group showed THE RIVER, the Pare Lorentz thing, a fantastic movie. . . . And people were laughing all through the movie. . . . I was so horrified. It sort of hurt me. I said to the faculty guy, 'What's the matter with these people?' He said 'it doesn't mean anything to them.' So I suppose that's the way it goes. . . ."

In a stroke of supreme irony, the original negative of THE RIVER was destroyed in the late 1950's — by a flood — and prints generally available during the last twenty years have been travesties of the beautiful originals. Last year Blackhawk discovered perfect 35mm nitrate master material stored in the vaults of a Hollywood studio, and from it we have restored these excellent copies, distributed by permission of The U.S. Department of Agriculture and Mr. Virgil Thomson.

ANYTHING FOR A THRILL

with Kane Richmond and Frankie Darro

Don Mallory (Frankie Darro) is the younger brother of Cliff Mallory (Kane Richmond), an ace newsreel photographer. Don is fascinated by this precarious business and is continually urging Cliff to let him become a cameraman rather than go to college. Cliff is adamant. Then he is assigned the task of getting some newsreel coverage of Betty Kelley (Ann Evers), young and attractive heiress, who has never been "shot" for any newsreel.

The thing that gives "Anything for a Thrill" its appeal today, is the manner in which it was produced — at an absolutely minimum budget. The sets are more-or-less static arrangements which were used, with only minor changes, in countless independent films. The venetian blinds are always pulled — you never look through a window from an office to the outside and see a second plane to action. The mike is in evidence in a couple of spots — or its shadow.

But "Anything for a Thrill" was filmed on Sunset Blvd. and Santa Monica Blvd. in the vicinity of the studio, getting all of the flavor of life of the day — and a presentation which purports to show newsreel photography and production of almost forty years ago — in a preposterous sort of way. So, in its upside-down sort of way, it has a certain charm for 1975!

16mm prints will be made up on receipt of your order and sent to you direct from the laboratory. Super 8 prints will be ordered in limited quantities so we may or may not be able to ship from stock when your order arrives. But we will fill all Super 8 sound orders that reach us by Thursday, August 29, and thereafter only so long as any prints remain in stock. We have no plans to print thereafter and prices are not effective after these prints have been sold.

We have in the wings a potentially long series of "Poverty Row" features with a great range of famous Western stars and dramatic, musical and comedy stars who were either past their box-office peak when these films were made — or on their way up. We plan to try a similar offering for several months (for a three month period) and if it goes sufficiently well we will continue it indefinitely.

THE SKY GIANT

THE SAGA OF AMERICAN DIRIGIBLES AND THE STORY OF REAR ADMIRAL CHARLES E. ROSENDAHL

The story begins at Annapolis after the First World War. Charles Rosendahl was an instructor, known chiefly for his scholarship until the sight of an early dirigible transformed him into a man of action. Rosendahl witnessed, as you will in this film, the construction of the dirigibles Los Angeles and Shenendoah. He was among the Americans who flew the German-built Los Angeles across the Atlantic to the naval air station at Lakehurst, New Jersey. The Golden Age of Airships in America had begun.

Rosendahl was navigation officer for the Shenendoah when it broke in half carrying fourteen men to death. A senior surviving officer of the tragedy, he was determined to prove that dirigibles were superior to airships in every way, and was given command of the Los Angeles.

To capture the imagination and support of the public, Rosendahl performed spectacular stunts. You will, for example, see a dirigible as it lands on an aircraft carrier as well as other milestones in lighter-than-air flight: the maiden voyage to the United States of the Graf Zeppelin, the construction of the Akron, the Hindenburg explosion and the subsequent grounding of the Los Angeles and too, the war use of blimps as "the eyes of the Navy." All of these scenes are related to the life of a man who had in youth pledged himself to silver sky giants and who, in old age, still believed in the future of the rigid airships.

THOMAS INCE'S

THE STRUGGLE (1913)

with ELMER L. MORROW, EDGAR M. KELLAR, RICHARD STANTON, SHORTY HAMILTON and J. BARNEY SHERRY

THE STRUGGLE, a Broncho production released by Mutual on January 29, 1913, is really an outstanding example of the work of the pioneer producer-director Thomas H. Ince. It shows the heights to which he raised the Western in less than two years. "The cowboys road uphill on Tuesday, and downhill on Thursday" was how Ince described the production of Westerns in 1911. By 1913, with the lease of a huge tract of land in the Santa Ynez Canyon at Santa Monica, the occupation of it by a tribe of Indians who were on call as extras, and the hiring of the entire Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Wild West Show, the pioneer had created a new art form.

An advertisement in The Moving Picture World described THE STRUGGLE as "containing tremendous casts and depicting scenes of spectacularism and wonderful dramatic interpretation." The cast might not be so tremendous today, but the "spectacularism" is still there; the action is brilliantly staged, and there is a sophisticated use of exterior locations, camera placement, and editing. Blackhawk's preprint was the original negative, and the quality of our copies is excellent. With films such as THE STRUGGLE, it is not difficult to understand Thomas Ince's place among the film greats.

THE FILMS OF

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

Keystone Period

Chaplin came to the movies late in 1913 when he was signed by Mack Sennett to appear in Keystone Comedies. This was the period in which Charlie's comedy character was taking form, and his style developing from his days in pantomime. Starting out at the tremendous salary of $150.00 a week and as an unknown he was signed by Essanay at $1250.00 a week in December, 1914.

Essanay Period

Here was the time that Chaplin began to come into his own. With more time devoted to the preparation of his films, his talent became even more in evidence and there was less and less dependence on slapstick. Almost all of his Essanay films were two reelers (most of them are or will be available from Blackhawk) and were more painstakingly produced. But, so high had his popularity skyrocketed in 1915 that Mutual was able to sign him away from Essanay in February, 1916, at salary and bonus totaling $670,000 for a year.

Mutual Period

In this period, during 1915-1917, Chaplin produced and directed a dozen two-reel comedies for Mutual. As a group, these rank at the very top of any series of short comedy films ever produced. And it is here that Chaplin came into his own. Every film of the twelve is a delight.

HAL ROACH PRODUCTIONS

"For fifteen years, the children of the television age have been enjoying the antics of 'The Little Rascals.' Run over and over again, the comedies never grow tiresome, and the youthful audience for the films is perhaps bigger today than it has ever been. At no time does anyone feel impelled to explain that the films are thirty-five to fifty years old; for they are timeless, as timeless as childhood itself.

The 'Our Gang' Kids are reflections of what we'd all like to be as children. In all probability, most of us never had as many adventures in five years as the Gang does in every comedy. There is a beguiling fantasy world for us on the screen as we watch these kids, without money or help from adults, build their own fire engines, run a clubhouse, organize a band, or do any of the thousand-and-one things we wish we could have done ourselves. The puncturing of dignity is a timeless yearning in all audiences, and here again we experience the vicarious pleasure of seeing the Gang emerge victoriously after doing battle with snooty matrons, cruel guardians, and the like. Nor is this limited to the adult world. Throughout the 'Our Gang' films, there is an active dislike for rich kids, and even more so for consciously cute kids — something the remarkable youngsters in these comedies never became.

Hal Roach has said that he always had the idea of making "kid comedies." He experimented with the idea several times in the early stages of his producing career.

Robert McGowan was given charge of the series. He played with the kids, became an unofficial "uncle," and learned how to get the best reactions from them. In 1922, 'Our Gang' was born. McGowan and Anthony Mack directed the series through the 1920s, as the Gang grew in popularity to become the top comedy attractions in films. The kiddie performers stayed essentially the same through the late 1920s, with occasional newcomers broken in. In 1929, there was a changeover in cast.

These newcomers would have an easier time starting out in talkies, not having to unlearn any silent film techniques. In 1931, Jackie Cooper left the Gang to achieve stardom on his own — for awhile. Wheeler was made the center of the shorts, and then a new "star" was brought in, Dickie Moore, one of the top child actors of the 1930s. That same year, in 1932, another member, who became one of the most durable members of the series, was added to the cast: Spanky McFarland.

One cannot overlook the importance of a black child in the makeup of 'Our Gang.' In an age before even tokenism was heard of, Hal Roach chose to show black and white children playing together, without prejudice, and without calling attention to it. Like everything else in 'Our Gang,' the subject was treated naturally, and if there were occasional lapses into stereotype, one must remember the positive aspects of an integrated group of kids — especially at a time when few films depicting adults would ever dare show friendship between black and white men.

SWORDS AND HEARTS (1911)

with WILFRED LUCAS, CLAIRE McDOWELL, DOROTHY WEST and CHARLES WEST

Griffith's Civil War films at Biograph are among his most impressive works, and SWORDS AND HEARTS is one of the finest. Griffith demonstrates his talent for spectacle and action to an extent amazing for a one-reel film. Combining dynamic movement with editing on action and sudden reversals of camera angles as Dorothy West flees her Union pursuers, Griffith fashions one of his most exciting chase scenes. In addition, the billowing smoke and flames as the poor farmers loot and destroy the rich planter's mansion provide a dramatic and visually exciting climax to the film. At the same time, Griffith and Bitzer remain sensitive not only to the nuances of light and shade, but also to the compositional beauty of the wooded road where the chase takes place. In one reel Griffith could shift from fiery action to the melancholy resignation expressed by Wilfred Lucas as he sits before the ruins of his once grand mansion.

THE SUNBEAM (1912)

with CLAIRE McDOWELL and DELL HENDERSON

Though a comedy which takes its point of departure from a deathbed, THE SUNBEAM is a charming little film, emphasizing the kindness of even apparently grumpy people and the ability of a loving child to bring out the best that is in them. In it, a little girl is playing with her doll when her mother dies. Supposing her to have fallen asleep, she tiptoes in search of companionship, winning first the affections of a stern spinster and then those of a lonely old bachelor across the hall. Some mischievous children fasten a SCARLET FEVER sign on the bachelor's door, and the police take this seriously just long enough for the two adults to get acquainted. When the quarantine is lifted, they take the child back to her own quarters, where they find the mother dead. Since neither of them now wishes to give her up, they decide to accept each other along with her.

Claire McDowell is perfect as the angular spinster, and Dell Henderson is a worthy opposite as the bachelor who, without knowing it, needed looking after almost as much as the child.

NEAR TO EARTH (1913)

with LIONEL BARRYMORE, ROBERT HARRON and WALTER MILLER

Gato loves and weds a fisher girl and brings her to live in the little house near the Mediterranean coast which he shares with his brother. But after the marriage he is so absorbed in ciphering that she cannot get his attention even when she bakes him a beautiful cake, and in time, wounded pride causes her to yield to the stranger who has professed to be in love with her. But the farewell note she left when she ran off with him is found by her husband's brother, who pursues the fugitives and, after a struggle, rolls the seducer over a cliff.

Though her husband is crushed when he finds the note, the film ends in forgiveness and reconciliation.

The scene of NEAR TO EARTH is Italy, but the picture was made in California, and there are some stunning views of the coast, including some spectacular extreme long shots. Lionel Barrymore does an outstanding piece of work as Gato, and Robert Harron has an unusual role for him as the brother. This is one of a number of Biograph films which deal with the hot passions of Southern and primitive peoples, but this one avoids tragedy and stresses a basic goodness of heart. Even the would-be seducer, (Walter Miller) does not seem much worse off for his roll down the cliffside.

THE GIRL AND HER TRUST (1912)

with DOROTHY BERNARD, WILFRED LUCAS, ALFRED PAGET

Blackhawk Films is especially pleased to release one of D.W. Griffith's finest Biograph productions in a print of first-rate quality. THE GIRL AND HER TRUST is a little masterpiece and shows the great director at the peak of his powers. Made on location in Southern California in January, 1912, this one-reeler shows a marked advance in both story and technique over the similar railroad melodrama THE LONEDALE OPERATOR, made just a year earlier.

Griffith builds one of his most intricate and exciting chases, this time between a handcar and a locomotive, through a masterful editing of more than one hundred shots, most of them photographed with a moving camera. The director effortlessly intercuts close-ups of objects, such as a bullet and a keyhole, for dramatic emphasis. This production possesses a narrative polish and smoothness that Griffith seldom equaled and never really surpassed, even in his later films.

Today this film has an added value and interest. D.W. Griffith accurately captured a long ago period of rural America with immaculacy and warmth; that bygone time when steam engines pulled the trains, hoboes rode the rails, and pretty girls sent messages over the wire.

THE MOTHERING HEART (1913)

with LILLIAN GISH, WALTER MILLER,
VIOLA BARRY and KATE BRUCE

Filed in California in April, 1913, THE MOTHERING HEART was one of the last ten productions Griffith was to make for the pioneer Biograph Company. Mrs. Griffith remembered that "it was a time of tremendous ambition for him. Mr. Griffith refused to have it the conventional length, refused to finish it in a stated time, refused to consider expense, introducing a lavish cabaret scene costing eighteen hundred dollars exclusive and the salaries." Mr. Griffith himself said of it, "If it serves no other use it will teach cafe managers in the interior how to run a cafe."

For Lillian Gish, the film was her first major dramatic role. Her lovely performance is the greatest strength of the film.

THE MOTHER AND THE LAW (1914)

with MAE MARSH
and ROBERT HARRON

Immediately after shooting THE BIRTH OF A NATION, Griffith began a short, simple picture, THE MOTHER AND THE LAW, in October, 1914. His Civil War film proved such a success that Griffith began to believe in only gigantic productions. He decided not to release THE MOTHER AND THE LAW, but to include its footage in his four-part super-epic INTOLERANCE.

When Griffith returned to Hollywood in the Spring of 1915, he continued to improve THE MOTHER AND THE LAW, changing sequences and sometimes adding shots within episodes already done.

The story was taken straight from newspaper headlines of the day. It is Griffith's trenchant comment on the do-gooders who interfere with the freedoms and rights of the people.

Griffith was sentimentalist but no Puritan. He makes a good case for saloons, brothels, love and people's freedom to live their lives as they see fit.

THE TRANSFORMATION OF MIKE (1911)

A SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION OF
D.W. GRIFFITH'S EDITING TECHNIQUE with BLANCHE SWEET and WILFRED LUCAS

This film provides an extraordinary demonstration of Griffith's realization that the shot, rather than the scene, was the basis of film narrative.

The technical problems in printing Biograph negatives made it impossible for the Griffith productions to be assembled in story order. Rather, the negatives were printed just as they had been photographed, and every original release print was then assembled shot by shot.

First you will view the edited footage, followed by the same material assembled according to Griffith's instructions.

ON THE BUSINESS SIDE

First, let me give you a further report on the continuing development on our WATS line experiment.

We do seem to be busy. Orders are being phoned in with regularity. That would indicate that the WATS line is serving the purpose for which it is intended. So — for the foreseeable future, we will continue it in full operation.

As you know, you may call us without charge from anywhere in the Continental United States but outside the State of Iowa on our WATS number (800-553-1163) without charge during the hours of 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Central Daylight time Monday through Thursday. Our operators will be glad to accept your orders and see to it that they are entered promptly. It is necessary that you have either a Blackhawk charge account, a BankAmericard account, a Master Charge account or (if your order is less than $25.00) that you authorize COD shipment.

Now, I'd appreciate any further guidance you can supply.

Again, are our hours of 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. (Central Daylight Time) the best available? We could change this timing and provide any two consecutive hours during the business day from 8:00 a.m. through 5:00 p.m. (Central Daylight Time). If you have strong feelings on this score, won't you drop me a note and explain your recommendation.

We think that we are offering enough time so that you should have no difficulty in getting hold of one of our operators. If you have experienced any busy signal problems, would you let us know? I do know that on April 2nd and April 7th, there were some line malfunctions which resulted in a number of busy signals. Other than those two days, though, it would appear that the lines were open enough so that there should have been no difficulty in reaching us. If you had contrary experience, won't you let me know?

We want to make the WATS line as useful to you as possible. Any ideas that you have we'll receive with open arms.

We'd like to make this column as helpful to you as we possibly can. Recently, my correspondence has included a number of requests — any one of which would require almost a full column to answer. Here are some of them:

"Why do you indicate optical sound on 16mm prints and magnetic sound on 8mm prints? What's the difference?"

"You recently referred to 'laboratories' in a letter. I thought laboratories were chemical places.

What do they have to do with films?"

"How do you handle back orders? If I order at the sale price and you can't ship, will I get that sale price even on a back order? And will my order be handled ahead of somebody else's order which might have come in later?"

"What do you do with a computer to handle orders? Would you tell us how you process them?"

"How are your films made? Do you just copy them from the films that are shown in movie houses?"

If you'd like information on any one of these topics, I'll be glad to attempt to provide it. However, I'd like to be sure that the information is of general interest. If you're writing us, would you include your reaction? Or, would you pen a note on the bottom of any order that you might send us? I'm sure that our people will be glad to see to it that the information gets to my office. And, when I have a reaction, I'll know better the things which would be of interest to you.

FOOLISH WIVES

A RECONSTRUCTION OF THE ORIGINAL FILM BY AND WITH ERICH VON STROHEIM

After a few years of being an assistant to D.W. Griffith and a portrayer of Cruel Huns during the War, Erich von Stroheim talked Universal's Carl Laemmle into letting him direct and act in his film, BLIND HUSBANDS (1919). His second film, THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY, was also successful, and Stroheim was given a blank check for his first really big effort, FOOLISH WIVES.

Stroheim wanted to depict the confused milieu of post-war Europe in a realistic fashion, tracing all through the actions of a bogus court and his seductive, corrupt ways. The plot concerns a Russian emigre adventurer and two of his mistresses posing as his cousins, who lease a villa on the sea near Monte Carlo. When a special American envoy accompanied by his young wife comes to confer with the Prince of Monaco, the imposters are anxious to meet and cultivate them. The "count" very nearly seduces Mrs. Hughes, first in an old hut where they are forced to take refuge from a storm, and later in the tower of his villa. The tower is set on fire by his maid, whom he has also seduced, and as the "count's" escapades begin to unravel, he prepares to flee. First, however, he pays a last visit to his counterfeiter, Ventucci, where he violates Ventucci's feeble-minded daughter. She is his last victim, for Ventucci kills him and deposits his body in a sewer. The Hugheses are reconciled.

Stroheim was understandably worried about being removed from this unusual venture in the midst of production, so he made himself the star actor, and shot all his key scenes first, leaving his backers no choice except to continue with him through to the end or to begin all over again at prohibitive expense. But Laemmle liked Stroheim and supported the venture to the amount of $1,103,736.38. The vast Monte Carlo set proved more expensive than Griffith's Babylon although much of the cost was for almost unobservable details, such as real plate-glass windows. Ultimately, an electric sign over Broadway spelled the director's name "Stroheim" — this film established the reputation for extravagance which helped cripple his career — but although FOOLISH WIVES lost money, its artistic success established Universal as a major studio.

MACK SENNETT'S

YANKEE DOODLE IN BERLIN

with FORD STERLING, BEN TURPIN, MARIE PREVOST, MAL ST. CLAIR, BERT ROACH and EVA THATCHER

YANKEE DOODLE IN BERLIN stands alongside Chaplin's SHOULDER ARMS as one of the finest comedies of the First World War, yet it has received little acclaim. In part this stems from its first release, in March of 1919. Four months after the Armistice, war films were a glut on the market and producers were being urged to "use other than war characters and avoid scenes of human destruction." Although YANKEE DOODLE IN BERLIN is propagandistic in its dismantling of the German High Command, to Sennett the War was just another place to loose Ford Sterling, Ben Turpin and Marie Prevost in an endless battle against storyline and sanity. As much as anything, YANKEE DOODLE parodies the serious propaganda films which flooded wartime screens with "Hun" atrocities and depraved spies. Its director, F. Richard Jones, was later responsible for the Mabel Normand feature MICKY, for Douglas Fairbanks' THE GAUCHO, and for Ronald Colman in BULLDOG DRUMMOND. Although only six actors received billing on the screen and in the original advertising, the film features virtually the whole Sennett troupe: Mal St. Clair, Bert Roach, Eva Thatcher, Eddie Gribbon, Edgar Kennedy, Chester Conklin, Charlie Murray, Tom Kennedy, Kala Pasha, Mack Swain, Baldy Belmont and Heinie Conklin. Bothwell Browne, who plays the American hero Bob White, was a famous female impersonator of the period. He steals the Kaiser's war plans by dressing in feminine togs and seducing him, then signals the key information to a telegraph operator disguised as a scarecrow in the field adjacent to the palace! Although some decomposition in the nitrate preprint shows on the screen in Blackhawk's copies, image quality is generally quite good and the film itself is extremely funny.

FINAL OFFER EXPIRES JUNE 30, '75 STAN LAUREL SPECIAL!

For anyone who cares about Laurel & Hardy, the name John McCabe conjures up thoughts of admiration, and particularly gratitude. Gratitude for writing the story of Mr. Laurel and Mr. Hardy, and fostering so much deserved interest in the lives and careers of the screen's greatest comedy team.

Now we have something more to be thankful for. John McCabe has written a wonderful new book, THE COMEDY WORLD OF STAN LAUREL, an affectionate, informal portrait of the man whose comedic genius has done so much to enrich our lives. This is a book no one should be without, and we're glad to be able to offer it to you. As a special bonus, we've arranged for Autographed Copies, and each book you purchase will be personally signed by John McCabe, at no extra cost!

THE COMEDY WORLD OF STAN LAUREL

062-20-0373, 2-lbs. $7.95

To complement this written tribute to Stan Laurel, Blackhawk is releasing three of Laurel's early solo shorts, all produced by Hal Roach for Pathe Exchange in 1923. These will be available, however, only until June 30; also, we can't guarantee autographed copies of the book after June 30, so don't delay your order!

Before his teaming with Oliver Hardy, Stan Laurel had of course been quite successful on his own, but with a much different kind of characterization. You'll be surprised by these three films, and we think you'll enjoy them. All star Stan Laurel, feature Jimmy Finlayson, and were directed by George Jeske.

MICKEY'S MOVIES (1928)

with MICKEY ROONEY
as "Mickey (Himself) McGuire"

Toonerville's Little Scorpion's Club was tough — the members used sandpaper to scrub their necks. Mickey (Himself) McGuire was elected president — but appointed himself treasurer. The members are all in evidence including Hambone, Tomboy Taylor, Little Chocolate, and Katinka. When a movie company is found to be filming in the vicinity of the club — the "members" get an "idea" — why not film their own movie. Naturally, Mickey comes up with the scenario — and assumes direction, for he is eminently qualified — "Me father once shook the hand of a man who shook hands with Charlie Chaplin." This all sets the stage — the fun unfolds. Get in on it in MICKEY'S MOVIES.

THE TRAMP (1915)

starring CHARLIE CHAPLIN
with EDNA PURVIANCE, BUD JAMISON,
LEO WHITE and PADDY McGUIRE

THE TRAMP was Chaplin's sixth film for Essanay and the final one to be produced at Essanay's Niles Studio near San Francisco. It was his first film in which pathos was evident and the first one to end on a note of sadness. It is generally regarded as the first Chaplin classic.

With Charlie in THE TRAMP are Edna Purviance as the farmer's daughter, Bud Jamison and Leo White as tramps, Paddy McGuire as a farm hand and Lloyd Bacon as the lover.

SUPER-HOOPER-DYNE LIZZIES (1925)

with BILLY BEVAN
and ANDY CLYDE

A Mack Sennett Comedy of 1925. Super-Hooper-Dyne Lizzies is one of the best of the period with its story being built around radio controlled Model T Fords — as devised by Sennett funny-man Billy Bevan.

Billy, the little Australian stage comic, had failed to develop an identifiable screen character in his early years in film, but with Sennett in the 1920's, given the benefit of fine directing and scripts written especially for him, he developed a slowly paced slapstick comedy of reaction to the world around him. Surrounded by beautiful girls and supported by some of the finest "second bananas" in the business, Bevan quickly became a popular favorite. And Super-Hooper-Dyne Lizzies is one of almost universal appeal.

DOUBLE WHOOPEE (1929)

starring LAUREL and HARDY
with JEAN HARLOW

DOUBLE WHOOPEE released to the theatres by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer late in the spring of 1929 was one of the last silent comedies starring Laurel and Hardy.

This comedy marked one of the early screen appearances of Jean Harlow, who the following year, was to be rocketed into stardom on the heels of her role in Howard Hughes' HELL'S ANGELS. Stan and Ollie as prospective hotel footman and doorman are mistaken for visiting royalty. The climax comes when Jean Harlow alights from a cab in front of the hotel — and footman Stan closes the cab door on the train of her gown.

RECENT BLACKHAWK RELEASE
NOW IN SOUND

(1922)
as Fagin

Oliver Twist, published 1837-39, was Dickens' first long integrated story, and since it is one of the most dramatic and sensational of all his works, it has always been a great favorite with dramatists and film-makers. The dramatizations began during the author's lifetime, and his own reading of the Murder of Nancy by Bill Sikes was described as "two Macthens" by the greatest contemporary English actor, William Charles Macready.

This film version, long thought completely lost, has been restored from a 35mm negative located in Eastern Europe. Released on November 5, 1972, it was the second of young Jackie Coogan's starring vehicles after he had become famous overnight in Charlie Chaplin's The Kid, and he never found a better or more winning role. To present viewers the film abundantly tests both his charm and to his wonderful acting ability, even when he did not have Chaplin to guide him.

When Lon Chaney created his impressive, evil Fagin in this film, he had The Miracle Man, The Penalty and his work with Maurice Tourneur in Victory and Treasure Island behind him; but he had not yet made either The Hunchback of Notre Dame or The Phantom of the Opera.

The character of Sikes was a "natural" for the always workmanlike Griffith "heavy," George Siegmann, and though Nancy is not as prominent in this film as she has been in some productions of Oliver Twist, Gladys Brockwell makes the best of some vivid moments. She went on to play in Seventh Heaven and some other films of the late twenties, then unfortunately died while her career seemed traveling on an upward curve. Esther Ralston, who appears as Rose Maylie, was to attract much more attention in 1924 as Mrs. Darling in the Bronson-Bronson Peter Pan.

Because no copy of the original English title texts could be located, new titles were written for Blackhawk by Sol Lesser and Jackie Coogan, with help from Dickens scholar, Edward Wagenknecht. Picture quality of this release is very good.

The picture has indeed lost very little through the past half-century, and much of the credit for this belongs to the director, Frank Lloyd, who also co-authored the scenario. Not even the fact that Oliver Twist had to be considerably younger than in the Dickens novel prevented Lloyd from turning out a richly-mounted production which, though necessarily somewhat simplified in manager, without fatigue, suggests the great complexity of the novel and remain completely faithful to its spirit.

SALES TAX ON IOWA SHIPMENTS

Customers ordering films for shipment to points in Iowa must also add 3% for the State Sales Tax.

C.O.D. SHIPMENTS

Except where noted, Blackhawk will gladly make shipments of merchandise on a C.O.D. basis to any point in the United States. However, on C.O.D. shipments, the purchaser pays all transportation charges, insurance and C.O.D. fees, and money order fees in addition to the cost of the merchandise.

SHIPMENTS OUTSIDE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES

Shipments made to Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Fleet Post Offices, Army Post Offices and other overseas locations move through the regular United States Postal System. We are glad to handle such shipments on exactly the same basis as shipments made within continental United States with the exception that no C.O.D.'s will be made outside continental United States.

Where shipments are made to countries other than the United States, payment may be made by letter of credit, by international money order or in any negotiable currency. Where, on any type of payment, you wish to know the exact cost of your merchandise we will be glad to send a proforma invoice—and hold the wanted items—so that a precise amount may be determined. Where checks, money orders or other remittances are made in currencies other than those of the United States, we will immediately clear these funds through our bank. Your order will be suspended until our bank has notified us of the actual credit resulting from the clearance. This usually takes a matter of a week or ten days.

On shipments to overseas destinations other than those served directly by the United States Postal System, a surcharge of 10% is made to cover postage, and the preparation of necessary customs forms.

Blackhawk cannot guarantee safe delivery on foreign shipments. If you want your shipment insured, we can do so for you at an additional charge. Ask for details.

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE NEW BLACKHAWK "STUFFERS" LISTINGS: USED 8mm, Super 8, and 16mm — AND SPECIAL CLOSE-OUT PURCHASES.

Over the past two months we have been preparing more-or-less monthly editions of three listings of used Standard 8mm, Super 8, and 16mm prints that are available, and then inserting these two or three page long listings in each appropriate Blackhawk shipment and envelope going out. We have also had one such piece listing some items that we have purchased on close-out, available for but a fraction of their original retail prices. Collectively, these are of limited availability, one of a kind, or used print listings that were formerly carried in the regular Bulletin — which we oversold to such a degree that we were making more enemies than friends. If we have but one used print, and receive ten orders for it, we're bound to make nine collectors unhappy, which we don't want to do!

What we are doing is to discontinue the promotion of subscriptions to the Blackhawk Bulletin. But we will continue to offer them to all who want them. The fact that used listings are largely removed from the Bulletin, and special close-outs are included only when stock is available in great depth, makes subscriptions to the Bulletin of less appeal than formerly — although not completely so.

As a starter we offer FIRST CLASS MAIL SUBSCRIPTIONS only to the three new series of stuffer. They will be issued at irregular periods, once a month, more or less, when there is a sufficient amount of material to offer. Sometimes one may be issued in only three weeks after the previous one, sometimes four to six weeks. Normally, Standard 8mm is one stuffer, Super 8 is another, and 16mm is a third listing. Subscriptions by FIRST CLASS MAIL are offered on each or all of the three series, any combinations of ten FIRST CLASS MAILINGS for $1.00.

In short, if you are interested (for example) in Standard 8mm, $1.00 will get you the next ten issues of the Standard 8mm listing. The same for Super 8 and 16mm. You can request any combination on a single subscription.

Thus, if you are interested in both Standard 8mm and Super 8, we'll code your subscription accordingly, and if both are available on the same date, it will subtract only a single mailing from your subscription. The same for Standard 8mm and 16mm — or Super 8 and 16mm — or all three. You'll get a mailing when a new "stuffer" is issued in which you have expressed interest — or if two — or all — are available at the same time, you'll get them all for a single issue deduction from your subscription.

Also, we find that we're occasionally making a stuffer for some specialized types of films. We don't consider these sufficiently broad in their appeal to send out individually on a subscription, but we'll include a copy with the new mailing of a stuffer of that format, whenever it is ready within the next week or two.

Indicate on the coupon below the formats in which you are interested. And, you may subscribe for as many mailings as you want, in units of ten for $1.00. Send $2.00 for twenty; $3.00 for thirty; $5.00 for fifty — but we recommend that you limit yourself at the $5.00 for fifty.

NEW RELEASE

WHEN STEAM POWERED THE RAILROADS

(mostly 1920's)

Mostly from the 1920s and mostly from Fox News, this first issue in what we hope will be a long series of films called "Railroads in the Newsreels" carries some historical newsreel items that are of more than routine interest.

Our film opens with the showing of a train of wheat — 75 cars — box cars on the Missouri Pacific out of Chester, Illinois. This is far different from today, when Illinois is more involved with corn and soy beans than wheat — and hoppers would more regularly carry wheat than box cars.

Next we are shown the cars for the new Alaska Railroad being loaded aboard the steamer at Seattle — used passenger cars, apparently of wood construction. Of course, the early 1920s were less prodigal for the Federal Government — today would be far different — no shopping around in an attempt to save money!

The next big item shows the Boston and Maine taking delivery of the first of their new Berkshire-type locomotives. Three of the big units are shown running on parallel tracks beside each other — we wish it were in sound.

Following this by an item or two we see the contest between steam on electricity on the Virginian when two more-or-less matched trains of coal "race" with each other on parallel tracks, one steam-powered (three 2-10-2 Mallets) and the other behind the Virginian's new electric. The electric run away from the steam!

Another item is of Horseshoe Curve on the Pennsylvania at Altoona, Pa., where we see a lot of varied activity. Part of this item is from the Ford Animated Weekly — a 1916 or 1917 issue — showing double-headed and triple-headed steam on both freight and passenger trains.

There are other items, too, but the final one shows the fast special passenger run from Colorado Springs to Cripple Creek on the Midland Termite in 1949, just before operation ceased and the line was ripped up.

All in all, this is quite a varied film, and one which every rail fan is sure to enjoy.

BOSTON & MAINE— ITS FITCHBURG AND HOOSAC TUNNEL IN STEAM DAYS

That portion of the Boston & Maine which stretches west from Boston to Troy and Mechanicsville, N.Y., was, until the early years of this century, the Fitchburg Railroad. It has since been operated as the Fitchburg Division of the Boston & Maine.

The Hoosac Tunnel was originally thought of as a canal tunnel in 1819, but was ultimately built as a railroad tunnel between 1851 and 1876 at a cost of $8-million to $20-million (no one actually knows, in all, 129 lives were lost in its construction. Its building saw sand drills and black powder give way to pneumatic drills and nitroglycerine blasting. The first train was run through the tunnel on Feb. 4, 1876. Although it has a venting shaft of 1025 feet, it was electrified in 1911. Fires were banked and entire trains drawn through the tunnel by electric locomotives. The Boston & Maine had six electric, generally teamed in twos or threes.

But our film shows steam locomotive activity on many parts of the B&M Fitchburg Division — 8 lbs., 14 ozs., 210 lbs., 240 lbs., 280 lbs. — as well as the electric of the tunnel.

HOW TO OPEN A BLACKHAWK CHARGE ACCOUNT

Open account billing is now available to individuals in the continental United States on the payment of a fee of $2.00 and the submission of satisfactory credit information. (Payment of the $2.00 fee is not required when application is accompanied by an order for $10.00 or more.) On this basis, upon the opening of a Blackhawk charge account, you will be provided with an account number which should appear on all orders from you. Payment for orders shipped and billed during a month are due in Davenport not later than the 15th of the month following. As an example, orders which are shipped and billed to you in December must be paid in full not later than January 15, etc., etc. A Blackhawk charge account will be a particular convenience to our regular customers in that it eliminates the prefiguring of remittance for postage, and the writing of several checks or the securing of several money orders during a single month.

Fill in completely (type or print) the BLACKHAWK CHARGE ACCOUNT APPLICATION below, sign and return it to us with the $2.00 charge account fee or an order of $10.00 or more. ($2.00 fee, if sent, will be refunded in the event an account is not opened by us.) We'll immediately confirm receipt and let you know as soon as the account is open—and your account number.

BUY ANYTHING OFFERED BY BLACKHAWK ON CONVENIENT MONTHLY PAYMENTS!

The following time payment arrangements became effective with the Truth in Lending Act on July 1st, 1969.)

Customers in the United States may purchase anything from Blackhawk on convenient time payments.

TIME PAYMENT ARRANGEMENTS

A. Down Payments

Below are the minimum down payments required based on the total amount of your purchase.

- On orders totaling $25.00 to $50.00 ..... $ 5.00
- On orders totaling $50.01 to $100.00 ... $ 7.50
- On orders totaling $100.01 to $125.00 ... $12.50

The amount of your time payment charge and the amount of your monthly payment is determined by the unpaid balance remaining after we have deducted your down payment from the total of your purchase. Thus, the larger you can make your down payment, the lower will be your time payment charges and the smaller will be your monthly payments.

B. Time Payment Charges

Time payment charges are based on the unpaid balance remaining after the deduction of your down payment from the total of your purchase. Here they are scheduled:

- On unpaid balances totaling $25.00 to $75.00 ..... $ 5.00
- On unpaid balances totaling $75.01 to $125.00 ..... $ 7.50

C. Monthly Payments

As is explained above, the size of your monthly payment is based upon the unpaid balance (including the time payment charge) remaining after deducting your payment from the total of your purchase. Here is the schedule:

- On unpaid balances totaling $25.00 to $50.00 ..... $ 5.00
- On unpaid balances totaling $50.01 to $100.00 ..... $10.00
- On unpaid balances totaling $100.01 to $125.00 ..... $12.50

D. Add-on Orders

New purchases may not be added to existing contracts. A separate contract, requiring a down payment and a time payment charge will be established each time you order. It will be to your advantage, as the time payment charges are fixed figures, to include as many items as possible in each time payment order.

E. Our Action

We've provided this information so that you will know exactly the amount you will owe. However, to help you further, we prepare a time payment schedule for you at the time we ship the merchandise. We show you the exact amount due and the dates on which the amount should be received here in Davenport. So don't let the detail bother you. We'll do the figuring.

OUT OF STOCK ITEMS

Where items are temporarily out of stock, we will create a back order, retain sufficient funds to cover shipment and send the item as quickly as our new stock is received. If there is a delay beyond two weeks, we will notify you, giving you any information we may have. When an item is permanently out of stock, we will send you a credit memo as a refund. We follow the practice of issuing credit memos in such instances because most customers prefer to make another selection. If we return a check, this means that the customer who wants to select another item must then either pay for the cashing of our check and for the writing of another personal check, or must pay for a money order. This can be both inconvenient and expensive. To make alternate selections easy, therefore, we use the credit memorandum system. If you would prefer a cash refund, just tell us on your order and we will send our bank check rather than a credit memorandum.

BLACKHAWK'S LAY-AWAY PLAN

Blackhawk's Lay-Away Plan costs you not a penny more than Blackhawk's regular cash price—you pay 10% of the cost of the merchandise with your order, the balance within 90 days at your convenience. As soon as the balance is paid, Blackhawk ships the merchandise! And, Lay-Away is an easy way for you to get those limited availability bargains and sale items. For the moment we get your order, it is physically pulled and set aside for you! Remember—no interest or carrying charge on Lay-Away!

RETURNS

Should you for any reason desire to return items to Blackhawk for credit or for any other reason, YOU MUST RETURN ALL PAPERS INCLUDING YOUR ORIGINAL ORDER WITHIN 10 DAYS from the date you receive it. Because of the thousands of orders we handle, we do not keep copies of all orders, nor a list of the items you purchased. Unless you return the papers listed above, we are not in a position to handle your request without undue delay. For fast service, return to: Blackhawk Films, Davenport, Iowa 52808.

PARCEL POST CHARGES

Shipping weights are given on all mailable merchandise so that you can remit approximate postage charges with your order. Just add up shipping weights on all items to be shipped by Parcel Post and figure total pounds (16 ounces to a pound).

A phone call to your local post office will get you information as to your zone from Davenport, or you can estimate it on the basis of distance as given in the table below. Alaska, Hawaii and territories of the United States are in the 8th zone from Davenport. APO/FPO addresses in San Francisco and Seattle are charged as the 8th zone from Davenport. APO/FPO addresses in New York are charged as the 5th zone from Davenport.

Then, having determined the total shipping weight of your order and the zone in which you are located from Davenport, refer to the table below to determine the amount of postage to include when placing your cash order. (There is no need to figure this in advance on C.O.D. or Time Payment orders as actual postage charges will be billed to you.) We will send a credit voucher for any overpay.

READ BEFORE YOU ORDER

Blackhawk Films' prices do not include postage. Shipping weights are given with each item and you can compute the approximate total weight and postage charges by referring to the postage table given below. While weights of a single shipment to virtually all post offices in continental United States are limited to 40 pounds, shipments to the states of Alaska and Hawaii may run as heavy as 70 pounds. These two states are in the eighth zone, and Blackhawk customers can approximate the correct postage to remit by figuring 18¢ per pound for each pound above twenty. The same formula applies to all U.S. Territories and Protectorates. Some larger and heavier items, because of size and weight, are not mailable and will thus be shipped to you by express or freight, you paying the transportation charges on delivery. In general, shipments of size and weight requiring express or freight transportation will not be forwarded on a C.O.D. basis.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO AND HIS 88 AMERICAN BEAUTIES (1923)

In 1923, the Beauty Foundation of America sponsored a beauty contest. This event in itself would be forgotten today were it not for the attempt made by David O. Selznick to capture on film not the contestants as much as one of the judges — Rudolph Valentino.

Due to a rift with Paramount, Rudy's smoldering presence was absent from the screen for a time. Growing restless and chilly without him to "light their fires," ladies clamored for his return. Selznick heard them, made this film and brought palpitations speeding back to the hearts of millions of American women in addition to $15,000 for himself. The eighty-eight contestants, lest we forget, were not immune to swarthy beauty as captivated with him as he is with them.

After a "parade of beauty" five finalists are selected, the Queen to be chosen from Norma Niblock of Toronto — The American Queen of Beauty. The winner is finally announced, Miss arms and, amid swoons and cheers, Rudy escorts Norma to her throne where he places the crown squarely on her head — so squarely, in fact, that she can hardly see! How-nub and diamond crown but, clearly, it is Rudy's night to shine.

Among the more amusing scenes in the film is a picture taking session after the contest as Rudy stands flanked by the winner and four finalists, one of whom appears to Valentino while, a little later and unaware that the camera is filming her, she demonstrates her somewhat dubious talents!

This little light-hearted romp through a beauty pageant is genuinely enhanced by Valentino's presence. Perhaps, too, the real value of this film is that the discerning eye is able to catch a glimpse of the person underneath the one who was adored and idolized by the movie going public. Looking beyond the glitter, glamour and slicked I-do-now glances suggest the uneasiness with his role as "great lover" he is said to have felt.

H. L. Mencken, although not referring specifically to the beauty contest, once described Valentino as — a man of relatively civilized feelings thrown into a situation of intolerable vulgarity." The astuteness of his observation is evident in this film.

THE FIRST ROUND-UP (1934)

CAST: SPANKY, SCOTTY BECKETT, STYMIE, BUCKWHEAT and PHILBROOK LYONS

The idea of a week-long camping trip sounds like a great adventure to the He-Men of Our Gang, but Wally's father predicts that the would-be outdoorsmen will be home early that evening. Sure enough, the Gang's expedition to Cherry Creek is just one mishap after another. A two-mile hike to the campsite leaves them exhausted, while the unwanted "little kids" Spanky and Scotty had the brains to thumb a ride and save all the wear and tear. As evening nears, the kids' imaginations run wild, fearing spooks and animal intruders — while once again, Spanky and Scotty take it all in stride. A lightning and thunder storm sends shivers down even their spines, however, and has the whole group of campers scurrying for home.

WILD POSES (1933)

CAST: SPANKY, STYMIE and TOMMY BOND

Our Gang Comedies are usually about kids, but they also feature some of the most memorable adult comic actors of the day. Wild Poses is a four de force far delightful Franklin Pangborn, as harried photographer Otto Phocus, who spends hours trying to get a natural portrait of Spanky and his parents. Spanky has overheard the cameraman talking about "shooting a boy nine times", and retouching a photo to "take an inch off a boy's nose," and he wants no part of this guy.

Spanky's parents, exasperated Emerson Treacy and bird-brained Gay Seabrook, are no help to the photographer either. In fact, even first-rate photographer can't help Pangborn, because some of the other kids have been poking around his darkroom and exposed his paper and chemicals to the light!

SHIVER MY TIMBERS (1931)

CAST: STYMIE, WHEEZER, DOROTHY DE BORA and SHERWOOD BAILEY

The Gang is playing hooky again; they're down at the docks listening to more wild windjammer stories as told by a salty old sea captain (Billy Gilbert). These repeated fruancies are naturally upsetting to the schoolteacher, Miss Crabtree (June Marlowe), who seeks out the captain and explains why his far-fetched storytelling is harmful to the kids. Determined to cure the Gang's fondness for sea adventures, together they plot a scheme whereby the kids will get their wish to sign aboard the captain's ship as pirates and treasure seekers — except that the captain and his crusty mates will try and teach "the little tars" a lesson by scaring them all to death during their first night at sea! But the resourceful Little Rascals turn the tables and the plan doesn't work out quite as intended.

PUPS IS PUPS (1930)

CAST: WHEEZER, FARINA, JACKIE COOPER, CHUBBY and DOROTHY DE BORA

The Gang is busy sprucing up their pets (everything from a parrot to a pig) for the city pet show, which is a high society affair, where Farina is working as a page. The event turns into shambles when the gang's unruly pets appear and all is chaos when the white mice cause a matron to fall into the fountain and sends the ladies scurrying in all directions. Wheezer's affectionate little puppies are running every which way chasing bells, while Jackie Cooper has his own problems with his bratty kid sister, who, in a new dress, lumps into a large mud puddle.

THE KID FROM BORNEO (1933)

CAST: SPANKY, STYMIE, DICKIE MOORE, DOROTHY DE BORA and TOMMY BOND

Spanky's near-do-well uncle, who has evidently seen King Kong, comes to the gang's home town to show a wild man from Borneo, and the kids mistake the attraction for the impresario. "What makes him so black?" asks Stymie. "My mother says he's the black sheep of the family," replies Dickie Moore. Despite his ferocious appearance, the wild man is completely docile and has an enormous craving for candy, to which he responds with his one English phrase, "Yum Yum, eat 'em up, eat 'em up!" "I don't think I'll taste so good," says Spanky. "Mom says I'm spoiled." But the confusion persists and the chase is on.

SHIVERING SHAKESPEARE (1929)

CAST: CHUBBY, FARINA, JACKIE COOPER, MARY ANN JACKSON and WHEEZER

"Shivering Shakespeare" might be called the Gang's "Battle of the Century." The entire performance of the Children's Audubon Society's presentation of "The Gladiator's Dilemma" is destined from the start to end in a pie-throwing disaster, for refreshments seem to be limited to a long table covered with pies of the type that will deliver the greatest coverage of the recipients.

This three act spectacle features such members of the gang as Jackie Cooper, Farina, Chubby Chanev, Wheezer and Mary Ann, along with Edgar Kennedy, who does everything from operating the moving props to playing one end or the other of various four-footed participants in the action.

CAST: DICKIE MOORE, STYMIE, SPANKY, BREEZY and DOROTHY DE BORA

As a kid, everyone dreams about being a fireman, but never content to dream about things, the Gang decides they want to be real firemen. They convert a barn into their station house, duplicating all the fire department accoutrements and procedures — from the fireman's slide pole to sleeping (and snoring) in the daytime. Dickie Moore is the fire chief, abetted by Stymie, and aggravated by Spanky, who tags along and confounds everything with his mischievous tricks. Up on the roof Breezy is the lookout and when he spots a real fire engine heading out of the fire house to fight a fire, he sounds the alarm. The Gang, wearing fire hats and raincoats, pile into their fire engine, an amazing contraption that wobbles from side to side as it trundles down the road. By the time the Gang arrives at the real fire department, the real fire engine is long gone. Now the question is "where's the fire?"

FOR PETE'S SAKE (1934)

CAST: SPANKY, SCOTTY BECKETT, WALLY ALBRIGHT, STYMIE and MARIANNE EDWARDS

When a child's favorite doll is accidentally broken, the gang volunteers to get her another, with eyes that open and close, and by bedtime. The plaster baby of their dreams is available for $1.25 from the misanthropic, child-hating proprietor of the neighborhood toy store. To earn the money, Spanky and Scotty Beckett harness Pete, the dog, to a lawn mower, and everything looks promising — until Pete takes off after a passing cat, mowing the carpet in the process. "Oh," says Spanky, "that can happen to anyone." Finally, they agree to trade their dog for the doll, and things look bleak until Pete takes the situation in paw, wins his freedom, gets the doll, and wreaks retribution on he who dared resist the winsome little rascals.

MOAN AND GROAN, INC. (1929)

CAST: FARINA, JACKIE COOPER, MARY ANN JACKSON, CHUBBY and WHEEZER

"Don't play around that powder house," Officer Edgar Kennedy warns the gang. "Ain't got no other place to play and we want to make a little noise," says Farina. But off they go instead to dig for buried treasure in the abandoned mansion "haunted" by Max Davidson, a sort of misanthropic Ben Gunn who wants to frighten the kids away and keep his castle his home. Jackie Cooper, Wheezer, and Chubby are all in the gang; there are some engaging sight gags with a Japanese finger trap, and one innocent race joke when Kennedy, who sings "Wearin' of the Green" while changing a diaper on Farina's baby brother, discovers the "Flesh Color Baby Talk" to be a rich mahogany!

SCHOOL'S OUT (1930)

CAST: JACKIE COOPER, FARINA, CHUBBY, MARY ANN JACKSON and DONALD HAINES

"Nostalgic" is a trite word these days, but it was meant to describe comedies of warmth and honest sentiment like SCHOOL'S OUT. The sequel to TEACHER'S PET, it opens with Jackie Cooper pining for Miss Crabtree. He loves her so much he circulates a "partition" to keep the scenic little schoolhouse open in the summer. Later, riding to school in Miss Crabtree's roadster, the gang discussed marriage. Farina chimes in "Believe me, I'm never going to get married, and I'm going to bring up my children the same way." Then during recess, a stranger begins asking questions about Miss Crabtree. Afraid he'll marry her, and not realizing he's her brother, they follow him to a stream where he goes swimming, and steal his clothes.

MAMA'S LITTLE PIRATE (1935)

CAST: SPANKY, SCOTTY BECKETT, STYMIE and JERRY TUCKER

Along the California coast, long-lost pirate's treasure has just been salvaged, and Spanky leads the gang into a spooky cave in search of another fabulous strike. Almost magically, the kids find a chest full of gold and rubies so large they have to chin up simply to peer over its edge. Soon their clothes clank with wealth beyond dreams of avarice. When starting home, they stumble into a huge subterranean room with towering furniture and an enormous footprint on the muddy floor. "Dat certainly ain't no midget," says Stymie. Just as the situation seems hopeless, Spanky wakes from his dream.

THE LUCKY CORNER (1936)

CAST: SPANKY, SCOTTY BECKETT, BUCKWHEAT, ALFALFA and MARIANNE EDWARDS

Irreverence for pretentious people is a frequent theme in Gus Meins-directed comedies. Few illustrate the concept of upsetting stuffed shirts as well as "The Lucky Corner", where the clearly drawn meanies are a father and son who operate a diner and do their best to crowd competition off the block. The "competition" takes the form of a tiny portable lemonade stand run by Scotty Beckett and his grandpa. Chasing their stand off the corner, bratty Leonard Kibrick snarls "Get that thing out of here" at which the outsized Spanky retorts "Don't rush me, Big Boy." Now with their dander up, the gang stages a makeshift parade and succeeds in gathering a crowd of potential customers in front of the stand's new location. Somehow, Alfalfa's off-key rendition of "Little Brown Jug" holds their attention, building to a rousing, hilarious confrontation with the miserly father and son, highlighted by a scalp-massaging apparatus stuck down Leonard's trousers.

SMOKE AND STEAM ON THE C.&E.I.

The Chicago & Eastern Illinois is a railroad which stretches from Chicago south to Evansville, Indiana, and down into the "Little Egypt" section of Illinois, with a spur over to St. Louis. By all standards of comparison, its size is about the equivalent of three divisions of one of the big rail systems.

The locomotive types shown here are steamers that were in service from the mid-1930's until the coming of the diesels. What they lack in variety is made up for by several dramatic shots that Mr. Miller captured down through the years.

860-77-2441, Super 8, 195-feet, 11-ozs. $7.00

THE SUPER CHIEF

A super film about America's No. 1 glamour train, the Santa Fe's Super Chief, daily extra-fare streamliner between Chicago and Los Angeles on a 39 1/2-hour schedule.

810-77-2320, Standard 8mm, 165-feet, 11-ozs. $7.00
860-77-2320, Super 8, 180-feet, 11-ozs. $7.00

THE PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL

One of the most unique films in our whole railroad collection. Produced by Edison in 1914 in the northern New Jersey and eastern New York areas. There are some choice shots of wooden passenger trains powered by the famous 4-4-0 American Standard locomotives of the period — as much on the scene then as diesel roadswitchers are today. There are some very good train interiors, too, and some effective shots of an old brass radiated Ford of the period.

810-77-2426, Standard 8mm, 260-feet, 11-ozs. $13.00
860-77-2426, Super 8, 290-feet, 11-ozs. $13.00

THREE TRANSCONTINENTALS

On the Southern Pacific, we see a freight train of 1898 in the Tehachapis, right-of-way scenes near Port Costa on the east shore of San Francisco Bay, a local passenger powered by a 4-4-0 and the 1902 version of the Sunset Limited. The Union Pacific scene covered is the arrival of a transcontinental passenger train at Cheyenne. Western Pacific scenes include the Panama-Pacific Limited freight trains in the Feather River Canyon and a train departing from the then new Sacramento Station.

860-77-2331, Super 8, 220-feet, 11-ozs. $7.00

THE CONGRESSIONAL

Here is the story of the two juice-powered Pennsy. streamliners which each make a round trip daily between Washington, D.C. and New York City.

CLEAR IRON — STORY OF THE RDC

A winter release in 1954 and a most unusual film, it shows why the Budd RDC — rail diesel car — has brought about a revolution in railroading second only to the coming of the diesel-electric locomotive and the streamlined train. We see how the RDC is used by many railroads: the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Line, the Baltimore and Ohio, the New York Central, the Chicago and North Western, the Santa Fe, the Western Pacific. A most interesting addition to your railroad library.

860-77-2304, Super 8, 190-feet, 11-ozs. $7.00

END OF ST. PETERSBURG (1927)

(Available in sound and silent versions)

DIRECTED BY V.I. PUDOVKIN

The revolution in October-November, 1917, transformed Tsarist Russia into the Soviet Union, when communist-led troops deposed the coalition government in the old imperial capital of St. Petersburg (now Leningrad). In 1927, to commemorate the tenth anniversary of these events, the Soviet government commissioned a film by each of its two most famous directors, Sergei Eisenstein and Vsevolod Pudovkin. OCTOBER, Eisenstein's film, became a theoretician's brilliant demonstration of ideas on the nature of cinema. Full of spectacular scenes, it is, nonetheless, cold and intellectualized. END OF ST. PETERSBURG, Pudovkin's film, is built around the problems of an individual family in which the characters also stand for broader concepts. It functions both on the story level and on the symbolic level, and is exciting and emotionally stirring. Both directors filmed in the actual locations where events of the revolution had occurred, and as their deadlines grew close, their two production crews converged. One night, while Eisenstein shelled the Winter Palace from the sea, breaking three hundred windows, Pudovkin's crew bombarded the building from the land, severely damaging the cornice! In any case, both of the resulting films have become classics, documenting both in form and content, one of the most significant events in modern history.

END OF ST. PETERSBURG was Pudovkin's third feature. It was made after his book, Film Technique had made him almost as widely quoted as Eisenstein. As a director, Pudovkin was a sort of human sponge who absorbed any and all filmic influences that came his way. Like his fellow Soviet craftsmen, he believed that editing was the basis of film expression, and he jauntily borrowed his teacher Kuleshov's theoretical discoveries of associative montage and simplified visual composition. Pudovkin, as well as Eisenstein and many others, greatly admired the work of D.W. Griffith. In END OF ST. PETERSBURG, this admiration was carried to its most "sincere form" as whole scenes were duplicated almost shot from Griffith's WAY DOWN EAST, INTOLERANCE and A CORNER IN WHEAT!

Pudovkin also reflected the atmosphere of the studio where he worked, Mezhrabpom (the Russian M.G.M. of its day) which concentrated on star performers telling the story through their characters. Indeed, he had made his reputation on MOTHER, working with two outstanding stage actors, Baranovskaja and Batalov. As END OF ST. PETERSBURG was being planned, a similar human interest parallel narrative, involving a well-to-do officer and a poor farm boy on opposite sides of the barricades, was scripted, evidently for a great young actor like Batalov. But, perhaps as a result of censorship, the starring officer role was written out of the film and instead, Pudovkin, eager to live up to his newly-won reputation as a great film theorist as well as a great director, created a film in which the main characters were mobs of workers or caricatures of stockbrokers, military officers, and policemen. A few key scenes are developed into mind-boggling cavalcades of images, reaching a high level in the chauvinistic declaration of World War I by the Tsarist government. Indeed, counting the shots in the film, one finds more than ten per cent of the total devoted to just one unforgettable sequence — the parallel "attack" by the "Army" of capitalists at the stock market and the doped Army in the trenches.

Pudovkin's warm and humanistic side is also seen in many details, as when a simple glass of hot tea offered in a communist's basement apartment, is made to serve four purposes as a narrative device, or when a handful of potatoes at the end brings the battered human beings back together and gives them hope for a better future. Another personal touch was to refer in the inter-titles to Penza, a Russian "midwest" farm town where Pudovkin was born in 1893, and east of which the rural scenes of this film were taken.

Altogether, Pudovkin was to make fifteen feature films before his death in 1953, three of which were made in association with the most famous Soviet co-director, Dmitri Vasiliev. Long after Pudovkin's death, it was this same Vasiliev, working with the film's original cameraman, Anatoli Golovnia, who supervised the reconstruction and scoring of the version presented here. Blackhawk's release, taken from a new 35mm master print imported directly from the Soviet Union, is by all odds the best-looking and most complete version of END OF ST. PETERSBURG available in North America. The new English inter-titles were translated by Professor Steven P. Hill, a leading authority on Soviet film history; and the sound track consists of synchronized music performed by a full orchestra.

BERLIN: THE SYMPHONY OF A GREAT CITY (1927)

With the single exception of NANOOK OF THE NORTH, Ruttmann's famous BERLIN is the most important and influential non-fiction film of the silent era. Even today, with its subject a world war and half a century away, BERLIN is brimming over with ideas about the expressive possibilities of film. It is so packed with energy and imagination that it still stuns viewers who discover it anew, and still inspires forty-five out of every fifty young filmmakers who see it into going out and producing an imitation.

At its simplest level, BERLIN creates an impression of the city from dawn to late at night. In what John Grierson called "smooth and finely-tempo'd visuals," a train swings in from the suburbs. Wheels, rails, details of engines, telegraph wires, landscapes and other simple images flow along in procession: the rhythm of the editing conveys the rhythm of the train click-clacking over the rails, causing viewers to feel, purely from visual cues, the experience of riding on a train. So it goes through the day — factories get under way, the streets fill, the traffic tangles. Noontime and lunch: Ruttmann contrasts the simple meals of workers, the elegant meals of the wealthy diners, and the huge meals of the elephants in the Berlin zoo. The city resumes work, but is brought to a halt by a rainshower in mid-afternoon. There is a casual suicide at dusk; in the evening, it is cabaret, Charlie Chaplin, and a veritable geometry of dancing legs.

On the surface, then, BERLIN is about the city; but looking a little deeper, it is also about the art of film itself.

Blackhawk's release is by arrangement with the original producer, and our prints are of flawless photographic quality.

PROJECTORS

ELMO ST-1200

The ELMO ST-1200 is a sound projector which brings out all the advantages of Super 8 and Single 8 films. Sound editing permits you to record or re-record sound, after filming, which you could not easily capture on the spot. The projector incorporates a sound mixing device which lets you make double-recording of suitable background music and narration. This revolutionary new, special alloy head has the high resistance to wear and deterioration. The largest reel in the 8mm film world accommodates an astonishing 1200-feet of film. This means continuous projection extended over one hour. (The projector is equipped with an 800 foot reel at Standard but is able to accommodate the 1200-foot reel.) The projector incorporates a special new light source which utilizes a 150W-15V halogen lamp of the mirror condenser type. Outstanding bright and powerful zoom lens free you from the problem of selecting where to position the projector. One case accommodates all the items you should require. The end result is a compact, light and easy-to-carry projector set.

MARK S-810D
DELUXE
HQS-DUAL 8

The principal innovations in the new HQS (HQ stands for high quality sound) model are: (1) Integrated circuitry in the record playback amplifier. (2) Automatic Gain Control and Frequency Response Control. The sound volume remains constant regardless of the distance between the microphone and sound source. (3) The sound frequency response at 18 frames-per second projection rate is 75-10,000 HZ, a new Eumig fidelity standard. (4) P.A. Facility. The sound system of the projector can be used as a public address amplifier. The projector uses a superbright zoom lens, the new f 1.2 12.5-25mm Eumig Suprogon zoom lens, developed especially for the Eumig Mark S 810D Lux HQS projector. 030-24-0098, Mark S-810D Deluxe HQS, 18½ lbs. $549.95

EUMIG S 807D
Dual 8-Super 8 Sound Projector

The new 807D projector differs from the Super 8 model insofar as it is designed for either Standard 8 or Super 8 Single-8 film screening instead of Super 8 Single 8 alone. In all respects, the two models are identical.

The illuminant is a pre-heated 12-volt 75-watt dichroic reflector tungsten halogen bulb. The projection lens is an f 1.6, 17-30 Vario Eupronet. Film threading is automatic on to a 600-foot take-up reel. A single control knob governs forward or reverse projection, with or without light and fast rewind. The knob is set at "forward with lamp" for the three basic magnetic sound input operations: recording, sound-on-sound mixing, and erasure. A red indicator light goes on during straight sound recording, and an amber light during sound-on-sound mixing.

SPLICERS

GUILLOTINE SPLICER WORKSHOP

This kit contains the Guillotine Super 8 Splicer plus everything needed to splice both sound and silent Super 8 film.

It is a frame-to-frame line splicer — actually butting the two pieces of film being joined together without overlap or space in between. The splicing block features a recessed register in channel to precisely position and hold the film being spliced. The non-magnetic stainless steel blade eliminates all chances of "clicks" or "pops" being introduced into the sound-track of Super 8 sound film. Any color or black and white film can be spliced, even if a magnetic strip has been added. Torn film can be butted at the tear and repaired by the Guillotine Splicer and broken sprocket holes can be rebuilt. Splicing without frame loss is another outstanding feature of the Guillotine Splicer.

GUILLOTINE SUPER 8 FILM SPLICER

This splicer features precision splice block for accurate film registration, tool steel sprocket hole punch for perforating mylar tape to A.S.A. Super 8 film standards, stainless steel U-shaped Guillotine blade for cutting tape smoothly and cleanly, a stainless steel film cutter you'll never have to sharpen or replace, screw holes for mounting on table, custom manufacturing and hand assembly under rigid quality control.

GUILLOTINE'S SPLICING TAPE

Guillotine makes the only non-bleeding frame-line-to-frame-line splicing tapes. Today's strongest and optically clear tape offers a space that cannot be seen, even with the finest projection or TV broadcast equipment. Guillotine tape does not discolor, its permanently uniform adhesive does not bleed under pressure or projection heat, and the resulting bond is stronger than the film itself. The only tape designed for use with Guillotine splicers is economical too — costs only half a penny a splice.

034-11-0046 $3.50

2 LITTLE RASCALS RECENT RELEASES

OUR GANG FOLLIES OF 1936

with SPANKY, ALFALFA, DARLA, SCOTTY, BUCKWHEAT, PORKY, ELMER THE MONKEY and an advertised cast of 100 kiddies Directed by Gus Meins

The Gang stages a rollicking neighborhood musical revue. There's no story, but lots of wonderful gags and snappy tunes. Spanky croons the opening ballyhoo: "Step up kids if you want to know, about the swell stuff, in this show. There's singin', dancin', and hotcha, too. It's only a penny — if you won't break you."

The lively and extremely entertaining song and dance novelty acts include cowboy Alfalfa "singin'" "Comin' Round The Mountain," an ensemble of hula beauties dancing to "Honolulu Baby," the Bryan Sisters harmonizing the cornpone musical question "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?", Darla cooing "I'll Never Say 'Never Again' Again," a jaunty, chilling skeleton dance specialty entitled "The Ghost Frolic" (often cut by T.V. censors), Darla and Alfalfa joining to sing "The Object of My Affection," and then the grand finale, THE FLORY-DORY SIXTETTE. The trouble is, the chorus girls seem to be late, and resounding audience chants of "We want the FLORY-DORIES" force Spanky and the Gang to don the girls' costumes and improvise the routine as best they can. Which is none too good — but very funny!

880-05-1602, Super 8 magnetic sound, 350-feet, 14-ozs. $32.98
640-05-1602, 16mm optical sound, 640-feet, 3-lbs. $59.98

MIKE FRIGHT

starring SPANKY, SCOTTY, STYMIE, TOMMY BOND and LEONARD KIBRICK with JAMES C. MORTON, CHARLIE HALL and MARVIN HATLEY

The Gang enters their International Silver String Submarine Band in an audition on a radio broadcast. The station manager needs to interest a sponsor in his program ideas and he recruits what he believes to be the finest kiddie talent available. Our Gang's makeshift band is a last minute entry, booked over the phone, sight unseen. Arriving at the station, the shabby looking Little Rascals disrupt everyone from the elevator operator to the sound mixer to the harried on-air announcer. Since no one believes such ragamuffin kids carting such junky-looking homemade instruments could possibly be any good, the Gang's number is postponed, and instead of the studio audience, is treated to a parade of dolled-up ultra-cutesy child acts, such as the ensemble of pint-sized chorines cooing "Honolulu Baby."

880-05-1614, Super 8 magnetic sound, 340-feet, 14-ozs. $32.98
640-05-1614, 16mm optical sound, 630-feet, 3-lbs. $59.98

MEN O' WAR (1928)

with JAMES FINLAYSON

The boys are cast as two seafaring gobs and the action takes place on their riotous shore leave. The high point in hilarity is where Ollie tries to stretch the 15 cents they have between them, to cover refreshments for four and Stan, stuck with the check, figures it as all or nothing, plays a one-armed bandit and hits the jack pot.

This was the first talking comedy with Laurel and Hardy. At this transitional period, many films made as talkies were also released in silent form, with subtitles, to play the theatres not yet equipped for sound.

BERTH MARKS (1929)

Stan and Ollie are a "big time" vaudeville team enroute from one theatre to another in the upper berth of an open section Pullman. While the space is confined, the laughs are not, and this one has some great moments.

BERTH MARKS was one of the peculiar type of silent films made during the period of transition from silent to talking pictures, and was released both as 100 per cent talkie and as a regular silent subject.

THEIR FIRST MISTAKE (1932)

Ollie's wife is getting sick and tired of the time he spends with Stan. Stan advises Ollie that the Hardy's should have a baby so that Mrs. Hardy can keep busy and the boys can continue to pal around. Ollie sets about to adopt a child, and returning home finds that his wife has left him. So Stan and Ollie have the responsibility of caring for the child. Can't you imagine the results?

HOG WILD (1930)

Ollie has promised his wife to put up a radio aerial on the roof, and he's stuck with it. Laurel arrives just in time to "help." The climax comes when the ladder to the roof, balanced on top of a Model T, takes off in city traffic with Hardy on top and Laurel along, but not really at the wheel. They become involved with one of the old Los Angeles narrow gauge trolley cars, between which Stan's Model T develops a neat accordion fold.

BLACKHAWK FILMS EXCLUSIVE LINE OF 35MM. 2X2 COLOR SLIDE SETS

In many subject areas—particularly travel and railroads—Blackhawk offers a wide range of color slide sets of the same or similar subjects. There is, however, no duplication of identical individual slides between any one set and another with respect to the specific sets offered here. All Blackhawk slides give true color fidelity. Using the more expensive reversal method of duplication, Blackhawk produces slides you'd be proud to include with your own... yet they are less expensive to own than are slides you shoot yourself and have processed.

ORIGINAL TITLES

Letters! We get letters, lots and lots of letters — about original titles. Particularly concerning Hal Roach films. In fact, I used to write some of the letters myself. So let's see if we can't sort out the issues and explain things so that you'll have a full understanding of the "problem."

At the outset, let's emphasize the positive: it's important to understand that of the approximately 1300 films we have in release, only on less than a mere 200 of these have we been obliged to use titles of our own manufacture instead of the originals. Thus in focusing this column on subjects where we may be unable to utilize full original titles, we're treating the exception and not the general rule.

Many of us collectors suffer from a genial malady that might be characterized as a quasi-religious-fanaticism for wanting to view films complete, and exactly as they were presented when first shown in the theatres. That extends to wanting to see the original distributor, producer, main, credit, inter, and end titles all remain intact. Insofar as is possible, Blackhawk is glad to oblige in this respect. In years past, admittedly, there were isolated cases when we may have needlessly replaced original production credit titles with those of our own manufacture. But we want you to know that gradually over the past year our policy has been modified. On new releases, and on long standing subjects where we need to replace worn 8mm and 16mm negatives, we are being very careful to include original titles where this is possible.

You ask, why wouldn't it be possible? Three reasons. First, in some cases, the only extant and serviceable pre-print material may no longer carry original titles. Being as vulnerable as they are at the head of the first reel, these original titles may have been partially, destroyed by careless threading or storage or handling through the years. Equally likely, the subject may have been reissued theatrically or for television by a different distributor, and the original titles could have been replaced and discarded at the time of the release.

Second, for legal reasons, we may be constrained from reproducing prints containing the registered, live trademark of another corporate entity.

The Eastin-Phelan Corporation's trademark is the silhouette illustration of our Indian friend, Chief Blackhawk. We own this symbol. It distinguishes our products from those of all other companies, and our exclusive right to the use of this distinctive symbol is protected by law.

No one may misappropriate our trademark, in the same way that we are not authorized to use a live trademark owned and still controlled exclusively by some other company, without specific license from that company. For instance, Fox-Movietone News, Inc. has licensed us the use of their trademark. M-G-M has elected not to. In fact, our contract with Hal Roach Studios has a clause prohibiting use of the Metro trademark. Thus, we cannot reproduce film titles containing M-G-M's trademark (Leo the Roaring Lion), since M-G-M is still a "going concern."

Another example: Even if a motion picture studio has inadvertently failed to renew a copyright after the first term's expiration, and a film supposedly falls into the public domain, no one may reproduce the studio's registered trademark used in this film so long as the studio remains a "going concern," and even beyond that for a period of twenty years from the point of the trademark's last use.

Third, as many of you know, where a film's copyright has been renewed for a second 28 year period of protection, it is a recommended practice of the copyright office that notice of copyright renewal be disclosed on the film's main title, and we therefore must revise that title accordingly. Both the original and renewal dates must be shown.

As an example, just to illustrate the variables involved, let's take the 16mm (only) version of the 1938 Laurel and Hardy feature film BLOCK-HEADS, which incidentally boasts some very interesting title design.

First, our 35mm BLOCK-HEADS pre-print material is in excellent condition, and all of the original titles are intact. They've not been inadvertently destroyed, or worn out, or purposely replaced somewhere along the line for a reissue.

Second, BLOCK-HEADS is licensed to us by Hal Roach Studios, but was originally distributed theatrically by M-G-M. Thus, originally, BLOCK-HEADS carried M-G-M's roaring "lionhead" trademark, as well as the smaller reclining lion trademark at the bottom center of the main interior title, both of which we cannot use since M-G-M retains all rights to the use of its own trademarks. Hal Roach Studios can license this film to us, but cannot grant us the use of a third company's trademark; no one but M-G-M can use M-G-M's trademark. The use of a trademark is exclusive. It's the law.

Third, BLOCK-HEADS is still protected by copyright, having been renewed after expiration of the initial 28 year term. As licensee of the copyright holder, we are therefore bound to disclose updated copyright information, and necessarily would alter the main title card for this reason alone. This, again, is the law.

In the past, we had been replacing all BLOCK-HEADS credit title cards with those of our own manufacture. But responding to our many good customers who have gently objected to this practice over the years, we have now restored every original production credit card to our 16mm prints of BLOCK-HEADS, and replaced only the original main title card, and only because (A) it does contain the small M-G-M reclining lion trademark and torch insignia at the bottom-center of the frame, and (b) it does not contain the revised copyright data.

This salvages original titles to the fullest extent possible, since we have retained the original "Hal Roach presents" title, replaced only the main title card and then retained all six original production credit titles (and the lap dissolves that bridge them), each cleverly illustrated with caricatures drawn by no less than Harry Langdon.

In another bonus, the final title card before the fade-in to the "no-man's-land" montage contains the oft-used "any similarity to persons living or dead..." disclaimer, which is signed by Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy. The many collectors who corresponded with Stan will recognize his distinctive signature instantly.

Concerning the one "offending" main title-card, why, you might ask, don't we simply (somehow) block out only the M-G-M lion logo appearing at the bottom-center of the frame, inserting instead the required up-to-date copyright information, thus enabling us to reprint the remaining portion of the original title card intact? Well, we've just tried this with our new version of TWO TARS (see page 79). We fully realize how much enjoyment the special optical effects and the florid artwork and insignia of the original titles adds for some collectors. That's why we've expended considerable time and effort and money to adjust the titles for TWO TARS. If the demand for the new version of TWO TARS is strong enough, it may well justify the material expense we incurred, and could warrant us doing it again for another subject. We shall see.

We've discussed BLOCK-HEADS and TWO TARS, but gradually and without fanfare we've been re-inserting the original production credit titles on many Hal Roach subjects, and want you to know about it! The new course we are following then, in the preparation of our new and replacement 8mm and 16mm Hal Roach negatives, is to go back to the original credit titles, if they still exist, and then if they do not carry the M-G-M trademark, we will replace only the single main title card, in order to disclose renewal copyright information. In cases where the production credit titles also carry the M-G-M reclining lion trademark as they sometimes do, then both the main and credit titles necessarily have and will continue to be remade, in order that we may be in compliance with the law, as well as our contract with Hal Roach Studios.

Also, while we've focused on Hal Roach comedies in this column, it's because this is one of the few lines of film product we offer that has generated a certain amount of collector dissent. In other words, it goes without saying (until now) that a high percentage of our releases present us with none of the three problems outlined above, and we gladly offer these films to you in their original form. Such groups of motion pictures include the Fox-Movietone newsreels, the Griffith Biographs, and many of the short films featuring "Fatty Arbuckle, Buster Keaton, Charlie Chaplin, and the rest of 'em," as W.C. Fields once said. Lots of our dramatic features carry original production titles, too.

Through all of this, it's important to remember one thing: titles are not more important than the films themselves! What would the titles mean if we couldn't also view beautiful prints of all the wonderful entertainment the titles only introduce?

Does that cover it? If not, we do want to be responsive to your interests, so please let us know what any of your unresolved questions may be, and we'll try and answer them in a follow-up column.

BLACKHAWK'S NEWSREEL

As this issue of Blackhawk's Bulletin goes to press, we are beginning to receive in Davenport the duplicate set of lavenders and masters that were sent to the studios in California as each issue of the newsreel went into release. These were simply protection prints, and have rested in film vaults more-or-less ever since.

The years from 1950 (approximately) to the end of the newsreel in 1962, all represented by safety films, have already been received and are indexed down to some hundreds of vault cans. Those from 1927 to 1933 are enroute, and the others will follow, week-by-week, until we have the complete lot of material.

Having this pre-print material on hand will greatly expedite our release of new subjects based on this Movietone footage. Some of the earliest subjects on which we wish to work is a sound film of the railroads before the introduction of the streamliners in 1934. There are a number of Movietone railroad items in this 1927-1933 period, which we believe will edit into a very effective film for railroad collectors.

Another film, or series of films, on which we propose to begin, is an annual of major news events of the year. We hope to begin this with 1928, and do one for each year, 1928, 1929 and 1930. Ultimately, we expect to have one for each year until the wind-up of the newsreels in the early 1960s. In the 1930s material, we are proposing to make a film of "Roosevelt's First 100 Days" — a time when an unprecedented number of innovations were brought into the Federal government in Washington. We think this will be a particularly appealing special release.

On this, all of the Movietone items over the year offer us an opportunity to come up with a film or films of famous personalities as they appeared for Movietone — there are famous authors and poets — famous opera stars — stars of Broadway and Hollywood, many gone for thirty or forty years. A series of films presenting these personalities will offer us all sorts of opportunities.

We hope, as time goes on, to do films on the Kentucky Derby, the World's Series, famous ocean liners, possibly one of the dirigible Hindenburg, famous events in aviation down the years, in fact, almost any coverage of events that holds interest today. Your own ideas as to what you'd like to see covered in new releases drawn from this historic newsreel coverage will be very helpful to us. We're in no position to guarantee anything — or to tell you just how soon any film or type of film will be made available. But we'll keep you informed through this Blackhawk's Newsreel column as to what things are in the works.

PUSS 'N BOOTS Cartooned by Walt Disney

In 1919 Walt Disney settled in Kansas City as a commercial artist with the Kansas City Film Ad Company.

In 1920, Disney was moonlighting and outside his regular job, made some short animation and stop motion advertising films called "Newman's Laugh-O-Grams" for the Newman Theatre in Kansas City.

In 1922, Disney formed his own company, "Laugh-O-Gram Films, Inc." was soon advertising a series of six modernized fairy tales done in animation. Disney's backer went bankrupt, leaving him with the completed cartoons and no money. One of the existing cartoons from the Kansas City period, PUSS 'N BOOTS was the fourth of the six completed fairy tales, and is a charming precursor of all that was to come.

BARNEY OLDFIELD'S RACE FOR A LIFE (1913)

starring MABEL NORMAND, FORD STERLING,
BARNEY OLDFIELD AND MACK SENNETT
(who also directed)

What is perhaps Mack Sennett's most famous and representative comedy is now available for the first time with a rousing pipe organ score. You haven't really enjoyed this classic Keystone fun-film to its fullest extent until you've seen it while listening to this remarkable theatre organ soundtrack, as played by John Muri.

This fast moving film's storyline has assumed legendary proportions in the annals of screen comedy, and represents the apotheosis of the kind of absurdities, classic slapstick and even clichés that we associate with Mack Sennett Keystone Comedies. Spoofed countless times over the years, BARNEY OLDFIELD'S RACE FOR A LIFE, the "original" burlesque on Victorian high melodrama, featuring a lovely young girl kidnapped and menaced by a truly dastardly villain, who even goes so far as tying her to the railroad tracks before he's foiled by the girl's not-too-bright boyfriend after a thrilling chase — involving a Santa Fe ten-wheeler No. 492 train, and of course, Barney Oldfield, the world's "fastest man on wheels." Thrill to Barney's heroic exploits as he races to rescue the girl and give the villain his just desserts!

THE WOMAN IN GREY

with Arline Pretty and Henry G. Sell

The Saturday movie serials were an important part of the entertainment world back in the early days of film. Each week the house would be packed with people eagerly waiting to see how the heroine would escape the adversity in whose clutches she had been snared last Saturday. That's how — not if — for her escape was a foregone conclusion. The real fun and excitement lay in the heroine's fortitude and ingenuity not to mention her tremendous physical prowess. Indeed, this is one of the most ubiquitous features of the early serials — the "superwoman" outwitting, out-manuevering and, when occasion demanded, out-fighting her male adversary. She was often imbued with strength, dexterity and adventuresomeness which was not just uncharacteristic of real life women in those times, but certainly would have been frowned upon!

In its entirety, the serial closely resembled the turn-of-the-century melodrama, complete with hero, heroine, villain and comic relief characters. Suspense, thrills, spectacle and the triumph of virtue over evil were all inherent characteristics of the form and expected by the audience. What movies did for melodrama that the stage could not, was to present it in installments — wonderfully action-packed with thrills galore. The plot, like a good stew, had time to thicken, new ingredients could be added and simmered leisurely, thus serving up a less contrived and more intellectually palatable dish. THE WOMAN IN GREY is just such a dish! Produced in 1919, it was to be shown over fifteen weeks, enough time for the heroine, Ruth Hope (played by Arline Pretty), to get herself into and, naturally, out of some of the most hair-raising situations imaginable, let alone filmed! In just the first three chapters alone, she is thrown over a bridge, landing in a coal car of a moving train, thrust out of a plate glass window, about to be mercilessly stabbed with a deadly dagger and Chapter 3, appropriately titled, THE STEEL TRAP, ends with poor Miss Pretty's foot caught in the railroad track just as the train, which appears to be traveling at the speed of sound, roars straight for her! and this is just the beginning for the poor girl — there are twelve more chapters to go!

For those of you less enchanted by feats of derring-do, THE WOMAN IN GREY, offers a number of plots and subplots, all remarkably and logically developed. In the tradition of the best mystery writers of the time, the main plot cannot be fully resolved until some questions are answered, such as: What is the key to break the Amory code; where is the Amory fortune hidden; who really killed Mrs. Haynes, the Amory housekeeper; who is the evil J. Haviland Hunter and, of course, what is the true identity of the Woman in Grey?

The old Amory house itself is not without mysterious charm. Moving panels and walls, trap doors and even a hidden entrance in the most unlikely place will keep you riveted to the screen wondering who will disappear into where next!?

Predictably, in Chapter 15, all is revealed and the mystery is solved, however, not without providing a few shocks and surprises for even today's sophisticated audience. We are sure that the most knowledgeable among you in the "who dunnit" line won't be able to figure this one out!

FILM FIRSTS, Chapters I and II, is an absorbing assembly of motion picture history from the early flip cards and zootrope to the movies' earliest days. Highlights from a variety of silents that present "film firsts" are excerpted and presented here in two exciting chapters.

There are scenes from several early Griffith features such as, CLEOPATRA, MUSKETEERS OF PIG ALLEY, and THE BATTLE. A sequence of a chase down Riverside Drive in the early 1900's employs a tracking shot which is interesting mainly because it demonstrates a technique in use long before Griffith was supposed to have invented it. Scenes from Porter's THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY, Melies' A TRIP TO THE MOON as well as Biograph's 1905 version of THE NIHILISTS, a pre-Communist anarchist film, are included in Chapter I.

Chapter II highlights some delightful pieces from the first important animated film, Windsor McKay's, GERTIE THE DINOSAUR. One of the earliest examples of social criticism is illustrated by the ruthless businessman in Griffith's film A CORNER IN WHEAT, a scene of which is presented here. Also, excerpts from such films as Melies' BARON MUCHAUSEN'S DREAM, Edison's 1905 film THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS and the first feature version of Jules Verne's immortal 20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA, are comprised in this chapter.

FILM FIRSTS, CHAPTERS I and II is sure to be one of the most entertaining lessons in the history of film.

KING OF DIAMONDS, THE STORY OF LOU GEHRIG

This film is about the immortal Lou Gehrig. If you follow sports, that's all you need to know. For the uninitiated, the Lou Gehrig story is as dramatic and eventful as almost any Hollywood movie. (Coincidentally, Gehrig did make a feature picture in Hollywood, and later Hollywood made a superb movie about Gehrig, starring Gary Cooper and entitled PRIDE OF THE YANKEES.)

Lou Gehrig, "The Iron Horse," played first base for the greatest of the great New York Yankee dynasties during the 1920s and 1930s. Like teammate Babe Ruth, Gehrig was one of the mightiest sluggers of all time, and his name fills baseball's record books. Though Ruth's home run mark was finally broken, it's less likely someone will break Gehrig's monumental record for consecutive games: 2,130. Many stars in the Hall of Fame never played in as many games, much less consecutively! The record might have been even longer, were it not for Gehrig being stricken with a rare form of infantile paralysis that took his life while still a young man.

In this Fox Movietone reel, we trace Gehrig's shining life through newsreel footage, showing the crowded streets and tenements where Gehrig grew up in New York City, on through his days of glory with the Yankees, where in battling behind Babe Ruth, the pair formed the most awesome 1-2 punch the game has ever known.

This kind of action footage, showing baseball's greatest stars performing in hallowed Yankee Stadium, is invaluable as a means of documenting The National Pastime at its proudest moment. You'll also see (and hear) baseball's saddest moment: Lou Gehrig Day at Yankee Stadium, where Gehrig, knowing he was going to die, came back to say his tearful goodbye to an adoring baseball world. As much as for his feats on the diamond, "Larrupin' Lou" will be remembered for his rare courage and good sportsmanship. You'll see why...

If you already have FENCE BUSTER, THE STORY OF BABE RUTH, you know what a perfect companion piece KING OF DIAMONDS will make. If you're not seen the Babe Ruth reel yet, we'd urge you to get both subjects and run them in tandem. With spring training upon us already, it's an ideal time to screen this pair of enduring sports stories for friends — those who remember, and those lucky ones who have yet to discover this legendary piece of Americana.

FENCE BUSTER, THE STORY OF BABE RUTH

Babe Ruth (1895-1948) was known throughout the world as the "home-run king" of baseball. During his major league career, Ruth held 76 all-time records — made 714 home runs — batted in 2,209 runs, and played in 10 World Series.

When he died he held 17 World Series records. His record for home runs was not bettered until 1974 when Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves went over the top!

For George Herman Ruth, the beginning was in the slums of Baltimore. His father's saloon and the slum streets were his playground. Ruth wound up in reform school. In his spare time he played baseball — played it so well that in 1914 he went almost directly from reform school to the major leagues.

Ruth's bat soon became more valuable to the Red Sox's than his pitching arm. He was shifted to the outfield where he could take a turn at bat everyday. The result was a new home run champion at the beginning of a new era in baseball.

Ruth was traded to the New York Yankees and in 1921, with Babe shattering his own record by slamming out sixty-nine home runs the Yankees won their first American League pennant and the World Series victory.

In 1925, fame had gone to Ruth's head. The Bambino had become an overstuffed playboy. Was the Bambino washed up as the sports writers predicted? That winter Babe proved them wrong. The comeback trail was hard.

When the baseball season opened in 1926, the Babe was ready. Workouts had brought back speed to his body, sharpness to his eyes and power to his arms.

By 1929 Ruth's playing days were drawing to a close, his ambition was to become Yankee manager. He was rejected and a bitter Babe wanted money — lots of it. His new contract called for $80,000 a year.

The Bambino went down hill fast in 1933 and 1934. In 1935 the Yankees released him to the Boston Braves. Ruth poked feebly at balls he formerly would have smashed out of the park. The time had come to quit. It was a relief to drop the Braves uniform for in his heart Babe Ruth had never stopped being a Yankee.

RECENT BLACKHAWK RELEASE

(1922)

(Restricted to the United States)

The review of Nanook of the North reproduced below was written by Cecile Starr. It originally appeared in The Saturday Review of Literature on January 6, 1951, on the occasion of the 16mm release of the film with added music and commentary. Slight internal changes were made in the Blackhawk Bulletin version to tie in with the 8mm silent version release. It is here reprinted by kind permission of the author.

Robert Flaherty's Nanook of the North is now available for 8mm purchase. However you look at the film — as one of the all-time classics in motion picture history, as one of the great grandparents of the present-day documentary film, as a striking photographic achievement, as an exciting romance of life in the Arctic, or as an epic tale of man against the elements — one thing is certain: Nanook of the North is a wonderful film, and Robert Flaherty is a greater man for having made it.

The history of this film is only one small chapter in the remarkable history of Flaherty himself. It has been told and written a number of times, and I shall do my best to summarize it here. Flaherty, according to all accounts, was a man of remarkable wit and warmth, unconventionality, and stoutheartedness. He began working as a mining engineer and explorer, and on one of his early ventures into the Arctic took a camera to record what he saw. The film he brought back from this trip was subsequently destroyed by fire from his own cigarette. The loss was not mourned, however, for Flaherty found that he had taken a series of unrelated shots — "a scene of this and a scene of that." But it was enough to make him decide to go back and make a really good film about Eskimo life.

Flaherty's first concern was for financial aid, and after having been turned down by a number of potential backers, he finally succeeded in interesting a Paris fur company, Revillon Freres, in financing his trip and his film. The Eastman Kodak Company showed him how to develop and print his film as he shot it so he could see the "rushes" as he worked.

Once having reached the Arctic, Flaherty, with his heavy and cumbersome equipment which often had to be carried over long portages, found the hardships formidable, and on several occasions he almost froze to death. He spent another year with the Eskimos, and in spite of the bitter cold and the primitiveness of the life, there is reason to believe that he loved every minute of it.

When he returned to New York, he had a film the likes of which had never before been seen. And within the next few years it was seen and loved by people all over the world. It has been said of Nanook, as of the old British Empire, that the sun never sets on it. Perhaps this is an overstatement. But now that 8mm distribution of Nanook has been announced — fifty-three years after the first release of the film — it seems unlikely that its popularity will ever diminish.

Good humor is the keynote of the film, despite the grimness of the setting. Everyone seems to be playing jokes on everyone else. There are so many little jokes, in fact, that sometimes it is hard to tell where they begin and end. In the introductory scene, for example, who can help laughing when about a dozen happy men, women, and children crawl out of the top of what seems to be a bottomless kayak? And who is kidding who then later at the trading post Nanook bites into a phonograph record which he grinningly has mistaken for a new kind of canned food? After trading his furs for civilized products he presumably had no interest in (practically no equipment or clothes for food from the outside world appear in the rest of the film), Nanook sets off in the same jovial manner for a new year of catching fish through ice holes, hunting furbearing animals, building magnificent one-night homes, outwitting and outpulling walrus, and in general providing for his family and his dogs as well as a man can be expected to, circumstances being what they are.

There is beauty in Nanook of the North — real beauty seldom equaled on the screen: the faces and postures of the people and animals; the skilled hand at work on an igloo; the peaceful dogs rolled up into snowy roundnesses on a stormy night; expanses of snow, hills and valleys, light and shadow. And there is drama such as only a skilled artist can convey: hunting, eating, and sleeping; the training of the child to take the place of the father; the fierceness of starving huskies; the limp, dead seal; the code of the walrus; the menacing sky; the magnitude of the place and the occasion.

As long as films can be preserved, and longer, this film will live as a master-unique in motion-picture history. But my word is not enough; here are the words of other reviewers: "It contains more beauty, drama, suspense and excitement than a dozen average films." "Every shot is composed with the eye of an artist." "Nanook is filmmaking as we had almost forgotten it — a sequence of moving pictures telling their own story through the eye." "What gives Nanook its astonishing vitality? — the secret is something in Flaherty himself..."

BLACK AND TAN (1929)

with DUKE ELLINGTON

Duke Ellington's first screen appearance was this extraordinary and deeply moving film produced in the second year of sound by Dudley Murphy. True, there is a flimsy story line featuring the dancer Freddie Washington, as well as an astonishing pair of stereotype darkies in one of the early scenes; but these incidentals, so appalling as to have an inverse charm all their own, serve merely as pretext for keeping Ellington on screen in nearly every foot of film, and make Duke's wonderful playing shine ever more brightly by contrast! BLACK AND TAN is made up of three sequences showing Duke on piano with only a trumpeter in support; at work in a night club with his full orchestra and a corps of precision dancers; and playing the title composition backed by the Hall Johnson Choir as well as his own group. Dudley Murphy, who provided both story and direction, was an American who worked in France with Fernand Leger to make BALLETT MECANIQUE, had previously directed Bessie Smith in ST. LOUIS BLUES, and four years later was to helm Paul Robeson in THE EMPEROR JONES. In complete contrast to the usual haphazard style of band shorts, BLACK AND TAN was made with immense care and great visual imagination, especially by the standards of 1929 films. There is a deco nightclub set designed by Ernst Fegte which features a mirror floor (for reflecting dancers in) and a glass floor (for photographing through). Some shots are done entirely in shadow and silhouette (inspired, no doubt, by Rouben Mamoulian's staging of Porgy in 1927); others feature prisms, rotating mirrors, and similar devices which look forward to Busby Berkeley. Both picture and sound quality of our prints are very good.

BROKEN HEARTS OF BROADWAY (1923)

with COLLEEN MOORE, JOHNNY WALKER, ALICE LAKE, TULLY MARSHALL, KATE PRICE and CREIGHTON HALE

While BROKEN HEARTS OF BROADWAY is from that somewhat obscure period before Colleen Moore's great success in FLAMING YOUTH, released only five months later, it is an extremely interesting feature from the early twenties period, produced and directed by Irving Cummings, who became one of the prominent directors for Twentieth Century-Fox in the thirties.

It is the story of Mary Ellis, a stage-struck girl who heads for Broadway and gets a job in a chorus line. But she is soon without a job as a result of repulsing the attentions of one of the "angels" of the show. A song writer, George, living in a near-by apartment gets her a job in a Chinese cabaret but there, due to a combination of circumstances, Mary is falsely accused of murder. But Mary is freed from jail through the devoted efforts of George, whom she marries. They both become successes when George writes a hit play, in which Mary stars, based on their own experiences.

BROKEN HEARTS OF BROADWAY has many of the ingredients typical of the time, many of them elementary and simplistic from the point of view of the 1970s, but quite evidently the right recipe for success in 1923.

MEET ME DOWN AT CONEY ISLAND (1933)

For decades Coney Island was the mecca of New York City at spring, summer and fall holidays and week-ends. This Movietone offering shows us the crowds literally jamming the place — swimming on the beach, in controlled pools, and with bathing beauties contesting for a prize. Hot dog consumption is shown — the "delicacy" for which Coney Island is noted. We see all sorts of appealing things for the kids, including dog and pony rides — and for the adults the mammoth rides for which Coney Island is famous — including the roller coaster. So "Meet Me Down at Coney Island" forms highlights of a week-end's fun — 40 years ago.

NOW IN SOUND

IT'S A GIFT (1923)

SNUB POLLARD

This laugh riot contains the best example of a man with a system ever filmed and it's all a prelude to the most sensational gasoline discovery of the century. You've heard that oil companies suppress revolutionary products — now see why!

No comic of the silent screen was more at home with a mechanical gag than Snub Pollard. Backed by the creative gag writing of Charlie Chase and Stan Laurel in the mid-twenties, Snub turned out masterpieces of precision comedies whose basic humor, though dated now, remains hilarious in execution. For almost a decade, Snub was one of the mainstays on the Roach lot and IT'S A GIFT demonstrates why!

Movietone MANHATTAN MEDLEY (1932) From the Fox "Magic Carpet of Movietone"

Fox having produced in Walter Ruttmann's BERLIN the greatest of all symphonies, the company perhaps deserved to win first place in the race of film-makers who were eager to perform the same treatment on New York. For though the form was no longer new by the time this little film was made, MANHATTAN MEDLEY is a clever, lovingly-made and impressive work which was obviously a labor of great love for its anonymous director.

Like its progenitor, the film traces life on the island from early morn to late at night, finding in the ethnic pockets and the business mainstream of the city those common elements which unify and give flavor to our most colorful metropolis.

Although the form and rhythm of the film are responsible for its charm and its content, native and even expatriate New Yorkers will find little shivers of recognition running up their spines at shots of chorus lines rehearsing at the Roxxy, Brooklyn Bridge at sunrise, Automats, hot jazz in Harlem and Jewish peddlers on Hester Street.

The music score, especially compiled for the film by Louis de Francesco, adds another whole layer of early thirties nostalgia in the sound versions.

HAL WALLIS PRODUCTIONS

It's Elvis Presley and Ursula Andress in another of Elvis' rollocking musical comedies. His (lucky) thirteenth feature film, made in 1963, this one has Elvis in sunny Acapulco working as a part-time trapeze artist, lifeguard and entertainer. In his free-time, he's a full-time lover. Done on location in Mexico, FUN IN ACAPULCO is a beautifully scenic film, even apart from gorgeous Ursula Andress. As always, Elvis' films abound in songs, action, light comedy, scenery, and that inevitable bevy of girls, girls, girls!

In all, there's a generous total of eleven smash tunes, including "Bossa Nova Baby," one of Elvis' biggest hits.

Full length, not an abridgement, and in full color!
859-85-0004, Super 8 color, magnetic sound, 1600-feet, 7-lbs. $259.99

Jerry plays a Navy ensign who loses a battleship during the war, but doesn't remember now he lost it. So he and a pal and the Navy go looking for it!

Jerry Lewis has made some very funny films and some unfunny films, but even his critics will concede that DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP is Jerry Lewis at his finest.

Norman Taurog directed this Paramount 1959 black and white feature, which runs an hour and a half.

Leonard Maltin, writing in "TV Movies," calls DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP "one of Lewis' all-time best."

869-85-0002, Super 8 magnetic sound, 1600-feet, 7-lbs. $159.99

This lavish, big-budget 1966 follow-up to Elvis' BLUE HAWAII is the story of a dashing unemployed airplane pilot who starts a charter helicopter service in glamorous Hawaii with an old buddy. Along the way there are plenty of girls and songs and more girls and more songs in this escapist Presley fluff. A fun picture that lets you sing and swing with Elvis in scenic Hawaii!

Variety, in their review, said, "Seldom has the panorama and terrain of Hawaii been utilized to such lush advantage ... It's a natural for all of the many Presley fans."

859-85-0005, Super 8 color, magnetic sound, 1600-feet, 8-lbs. $259.99

This 1959 Paramount western pits two erstwhile friends against one another. Anthony Quinn is the strong man, the powerful rancher of Gun Hill; Kirk Douglas is the staunch marshal who sets out to find his wife's slayer. It's Anthony Quinn's weakling son, played by Earl Holliman, who committed the rape-murder of Kirk Douglas' Indian wife, for which Douglas is determined to gain retribution. First, though, he'll have to get the young man out of Gun Hill, the town practically owned by Quinn ... The lines are drawn for the confrontation!

Like another suspense-charged Hal Wallis film, GUNFIGHT AT THE OK CORRAL, ... GUN HILL boasts drama, action, compelling character portrayals, and is climaxed by the inevitable shoot-out showdown between the now implacable enemies.

Special bonuses are the outdoor thriller's location work done in scenic Arizona, and Dimitri Ticmkin's background music score.

859-85-0002, Super 8 color, magnetic sound, 1600-feet, 7-lbs. $259.99

Jerry Lewis is perfectly cast as the world-famed cartoon character, "The Sad Sack," in this 1957 George Marshall directed army-life laugh-fest. Playing a hapless, misfit G.I., Jerry wreaks havoc against friend and foe on two continents, all with the kind of distinctive slapstick that sets Jerry Lewis apart from other comics. You'll enjoy Jerry as he loses a tank, gets mixed up with an exotic dancer, and makes life miserable for his sergeant, to name a few comic complications! The armed-services will never be the same.

869-85-0001, Super 8 magnetic sound, 1600-feet, 7-lbs. $179.99

DEAN MARTIN & SHIRLEY MACLAINE

This 1961 Dean Martin-Shirley MacLaine comedy-mystery is the story of a New York publishing empire which nearly crumbles at the death of its founder — particularly when it's learned that a half-clad girl was seen running from the old gent's Palm Beach hotel suite on the night of his demise. Realizing that this information could jeopardize a large bank loan the shaky company is negotiating, the board of directors sets out to buy the mystery girl's silence. But where to look? The late publisher's playboy nephew (Dean Martin) is assigned the task of finding the extortionist and thwarting her scheme. Suspicion points to Shirley MacLaine, but romance intervenes, and Dean refuses to believe lovable Shirley's unclad mystery girl. This sets the scene for the romantic comedy and "mystery" that follows!

Jerome Cowan, Charlie Ruggles, and Gale Gordon shine in supporting character roles.

RECENT BLACKHAWK RELEASES

A TRIP TO THE MOON (1902) by GEORGES MELIES

Georges Melies, a talented conjurer, was the first man to realize that film could be used to create illusions unfettered by logic or probability. Refused a camera by Lumiere, he constructed his own equipment and a month later opened the first public cinema in the world at the Theatre Roubert Houdin, Paris.

All the fantastic possibilities of the Lumiere invention were grasped by Melies, who produced nearly 4000 films between 1896 and 1914. Melies himself financed, wrote the script, designed the tableaux, planned the tricks, painted the sets, directed, and appeared as the principal character in this, his most famous work and the first great international success in the history of film.

A TRIP TO THE MOON, begins at a Congress of Astronomers, with the President explaining his plan for the journey; he and five colleagues will be shot off in a projectile shaped like a large bullet. After a visit to the construction workshops, where the gun to fire the vehicle is cast before their eyes, the scientists are launched amid much ceremony, and they disappear into space. Here, quoting an original catalogue description, "the moon is visible at a distance. The shell coming closer every minute, the moon magnifies rapidly until finally it attains colossal dimensions. It gradually assumes the shape of a living grotesque face, smiling sanctimoniously."

The shell pierces the eye of the moon, and the astronomers stretch out for a fitful sleep on the lunar landscape. Stars with human faces, comets, and Saturn in his rings appear in the sky. Snow falls and the scientists descend into a crater for warmth. Again quoting the Lubin catalogue, "The astronomers arrive in the interior of a most curious grotto filled with enormous mushrooms of every kind. One of them opens his umbrella in order to compare its size with a mushroom, but the umbrella suddenly takes root and, transforming itself into a mushroom starts growing gradually, attaining gigantic proportions."

Attacked by strange moon men, the scientists flee back to their shell which, thrown off the moon, plunges back to earth and lands in the depths of the sea "amongst the debris of ships, marine plants, corals and fishes of all kinds." But the projectile is hermetically sealed, so it bobs to the surface and is towed to shore.

The original prints of A TRIP TO THE MOON included five scenes of celebration after the astronomers' safe return. These scenes, lasting about one minute, were missing from the original print from which Blackhawk's copies are taken, and apparently do not survive elsewhere. The film comes to a logical conclusion as it is, however, and otherwise seems fully complete. Picture quality is the best we have ever seen on this particular subject. The sound versions have been stretch printed for projection at 24 frames per second; the optical work is smooth and the sound versions look as good as the silent ones. The track consists of piano accompaniment newly recorded and edited from piano rolls made in the late 19th century.

MONKIES IS THE CWAZIEST PEOPLE

From Lew Lehr's Dribble-Puss Parade

Produced by Movietone News

Remember Lew Lehr? Some people find his commentaries hilarious and others think them stupid, but they are unforgettable. Lew Lehr was Movietone's house goofus who popped up in the "Newsette" at the end of many newsreels to offer a wacky review of such aspects of the passing scene as diaper-changing speed contests, unicycle races, and pogo-stick factories, which he usually delivered in an outrageous dialect sounding like a cross between fractured German and Elmer Fudd. "Monkeys is the Cwaziest People" was Lew Lehr's trademark line and here, at its source, he applies to a film on monkeys at their most anthropomorphic: changing tires, skating, fixing (?) clocks, and shaving; as well as doing (some) of what comes naturally — acrobatics. Blackhawk's customers have asked for this short more often than for anything else in the whole Movietone library. We don't know whether that's more a comment on the film or on our correspondents, but here it is. The monkeys are appealing, and if you do like Lew Lehr, this is a full-strength dose!

"ONE OF THE BEST SELLING"

PIONEER PLANES, PILOTS AND DAREDEVILS

with ORVILLE WRIGHT, WILBUR WRIGHT, LOUIS BLERIOT, GLENN CURTISS, CHARLES VOISIN, HENRI FARMAN, LINCOLN BEACHEY, EDDIE
RICKENBACKER, JERSEY RINGLE and others

"Pioneer Planes, Pilots and Daredevils" is one of the most significant and certainly one of the most absorbing compilations that it has ever been Blackhawk's privilege to place in distribution. For all the years we have been working with early films, we never dreamed that some of the bits of history we are able to bring you ever existed, or if they did, ever survived the years. Not that all the film is perfect — there is some decomposition in evidence in a few of the scenes, and much of it suffers from being removed from the original negative — doped — in the days when film stocks and techniques left much to be desired. But the over-all result is amazing, and here's just part of what you'll see...

Two early French low gliders, one a Voisin-Archdeacon and the other a Voisin-built Bleriot Model II shown crashing on the Seine River, Paris, France, 1905.

The Wright Brothers, successful since 1903, giving the first public demonstrations of controlled flight, as we know it today, in France, Italy and the United States.

The first movies ever made from an aeroplane as it flies over ancient Roman Aqueducts in 1908.

NEW RELEASES

Three Long-Lost Comedy Treasures starring STAN LAUREL, JIMMIE FINLAYSON, and OLIVER HARDY.

IN THE GREASE! (1925)

Supervised by F. Richard Jones
Starring JIMMIE FINLAYSON

James Finlayson is best known as the bald-headed, peo-eyed nemesis who was pitted against Laurel and Hardy in such classic films as BIG BUSINESS. But after graduating from supporting roles over at the Mack Sennett Studio, Finlayson made a short-lived bid for stardom at Hal Roach Studios several years before Stan and Ollie teamed up. IN THE GREASE! is a rare example of one of Fin's solo starring shorts.

Jimmie is trying to raise a son and run the household himself, but confusion reigns, especially when the boy tries to pull a fast one on his Pop. One day Junior comes home from school complaining that the teacher hit him. Fin goes to investigate and tells the instructor that he ought to try some kindness; in return, the teacher tells Fin that if he knows so much, he can teach these brats for a day. The pupils really go to work on the "new teacher," and comic chaos is the result.

While durable Jimmie Finlayson made his mark in supporting roles, he did bid fair to become a comedy star on his own in the mid-1920s, and the Hal Roach comedy IN THE GREASE! shows that with the right kind of material, he could have succeeded. It's a brisk and enjoyable outing and gives Fin a number of opportunities to demonstrate his comic trademark: The famous "double-take and fade-away." As Stan Laurel himself said to biographer John McCabe about Finlayson "He could just lift that eyebrow, and I'd break up."

FIN: Master of the Double-Take

L&H buffs will note ties between this funny short and the classic schoolroom sequence in PARDON US, where Fin tries to teach another unruly bunch — with equal unsuccess! The only difference is that the young rowdies of IN THE GREASE! aren't prisoners — not just yet anyhow.

Prints of IN THE GREASE! are of sparkling quality, and come with original main and text titles all intact.

SHOULD TALL MEN MARRY? (1928)

Hal Roach All-Star Series
Directed by Clyde Bruckman

starring STAN LAUREL and JIMMIE FINLAYSON with TEDDY VON ELTZ, MARTHA SLEEPER, EDGAR DEARING and LEW MEEHAN

This is an unusual western two reel comedy. Indeed, the film's working title had been COWBOYS CRY FOR IT. Even without the title, the comedy's "it" is very ably provided in the personage of attractive Martha Sleeper. She plays rancher Jimmie Finlayson's cute daughter, and is contested over by Teddy Von Eltz (the worthy good guy), and Stuart Holmes (the unworthy bad guy). There'll be little trouble telling which is which.

Although generically a Hal Roach All-Star short (meaning a casting repository for actors who had been stars, or hopefully would be stars), it's actually a Stan Laurel comedy. Laurel receives top billing, and he's essentially teamed with Finlayson as the two seek to rescue Fin's kidnapped daughter from the filthy clutches of the villainous Stuart Holmes. The concept is rife with comedic potential, and famed director Clyde Bruckman brings it off in fine style. (Bruckman, after a lengthy association with Buster Keaton, had just directed the classic pie-fight film, THE BATTLE OF THE CENTURY, released two weeks before SHOULD TALL MEN MARRY?)

There's plenty of whirlwind slapstick (literally since this comedy was filmed on location out at Hal Roach's scenic but wind-swept Arnaz Ranch), with Laurel clowning around in his best pre-L&H form (making love to a calf), and Fin practicing his comic forte: the art of belabored, disbelieving reaction ("How long has this been going on?")

Historically, too, this film is of no little importance in that it represents the last time Stan Laurel would ever work in front of a motion picture camera or a live audience without his partner, Oliver Hardy. Oddly enough, according to production dates, by this time Laurel and Hardy had already worked together in eight

Title Introducing Stan Laurel:
"He came from Arkansas, and his name was Bill — so they called him Texas Tommy."

Roach comedies, and since SHOULD TALL MEN MARRY? was held out of release by Pathe until January 1928, audiences had enjoyed Laurel and Hardy as an evolving team in fourteen Roach comedies.

Also, SHOULD TALL MEN MARRY? was one of the last shorts Hal Roach would deliver to Pathe Exchange to fulfill their expiring contract before Roach allied with M-G-M.

Collectors have been looking for this short for years, and at last, Blackhawk is able to offer it, and better yet, with gorgeous quality prints and complete original titles!

ONE TOO MANY (1916)

The Plump and Runt Comedy Series

starring OLIVER HARDY, BILLY RUGE with BILLY BLETCHER

Playboy Plump (Oliver Hardy) wakes up in bath robe, evening dress and hangs over to learn the sobering news that rich Uncle John will arrive soon to visit him and his wonderful little family, which is supposed to consist of Plump's lovely wife and child whom Uncle has generously supported and who do not exist. With the aid of Runt (Billy Ruge), Plump winds up with three wives and a set of twins, a dismayed uncle and some very upset and jealous husbands. The deception turns to disaster and by the end of the picture, chaos reigns and any hint of a moral lesson is blissfully obscured in the confusion.

ONE TOO MANY was the Vim comedy company's initial release in its popular Plump and Runt series starring an extremely boyish Oliver "Babe" Hardy and circus aerialist-turned-film comic Billy Ruge. The series consisted of thirty-five one-reel comedies, released in 1916 and produced in the now-forgotten movie capital of Jacksonville, Florida.

What adds especially to the comedy's interest for devout Laurel and Hardy fans is that here is a solo Oliver Hardy short which for once does not obfuscate his appearance. Most do. Usually, one has to look for bulk size and distinctive gesturing to even recognize Oliver Hardy in these solo shorts, but in ONE TOO MANY Hardy appears without villain's top hat, greasepaint eyebrows, huge mustache, beard, etc., and we can actually see what this beloved comic looked like during only the second year of his prolific film career. Here, at age 24, with a full head of curly hair, no mustache, and virtually no makeup, Oliver Hardy as comic stooge more than warrants his lifelong nickname of "Babe!"

The boyish (then) Norvell
"Babe" Hardy

A grand and rare souvenir film every Laurel and Hardy buff should have! And see if you agree that this comedy may have been the forerunner of the 1929 L&H short THAT'S MY WIFE.

Incidentally, featured player Billy Bletcher has labored his lengthy career in obscurity, but it's worth noting that the diminutive character actor (still active) was also an anonymous but important voice animator — he's scared the pants off most of us as the Big Bad Wolf in Disney's THREE LITTLE PIGS and also as Peg-Leg Pete in many Mickey Mouse cartoons.

with STAN LAUREL and OLIVER HARDY

One of the greatest Laurel and Hardy comedies of the silent era, this one has them as convicts making their escape from prison, being picked up by Confederates and changing from prison attire to civilian clothing — only to discover that they have their pants switched. For the first reel, they're constantly being discovered and screamed at or being pursued because of trying to change pants behind some wall or mound of packing cases.

Finally, with a policeman in pursuit, they are whisked in a construction elevator to the top of a new skyscraper of which only a steel skeleton is yet completed. The second reel would do credit to Harold Lloyd in SAFETY LAST as the boys contend with steel beams on hoists, joints not yet riveted and thus anything but secure, and each other!

NEW L & H Silent Musical Now In Sound! NEW

YOU'RE DARN TOOTIN' (1928)

starring LAUREL and HARDY
Supervised by Leo McCarey
Directed by Edgar Kennedy

Working as bandmen in a municipal orchestra, Stan and Ollie antagonize the conductor by missing their musical cues and shuffling all the sheet music. Deciding that they'll ruin his performance no more, the conductor opens the door on a new career for The Boys, as street musicians. Playing clarinet and French horn as best they can, the sidewalk twosome is doing none too good. Falling through manholes, tangling with traffic, and quarreling with cops — The Boys are spectacularly unsuccessful. Finally, tempers flare even between Stan and Ollie (Hardy says, "I wouldn't mind training a seal or an elephant — but you're hopeless!"), precipitating an eye-poking coat-ripping shin-kicking exchange that soon envelops scores of passers-by in a huge, thrashing, pants-sailing free-for-all! And it's all topped by what is probably the neatest closing gag Laurel and Hardy ever did.

All-in-all, the synchronized music and effects, particularly on a silent comedy with music as its theme, make for such a dramatic change in the film's impact that you will have to see and hear YOU'RE DARN TOOTIN' to believe it. A great addition to a great film! If you decide to acquire no other scored-silent, do try this one!

RECENT COMEDY RELEASE

THE NEW TWO TARS (1928)

starring LAUREL and HARDY
with EDGAR KENNEDY and CHARLIE HALL
supervised by Leo McCarey, directed by James Parrott, photographed by George Stevens

(1) We've added a soundtrack in the form of an appropriate orchestral music score, with sound effects.

(2) We've discovered new, sharper 35mm preprint material, which means our 16mm and 8mm reduction copies are of even better quality than before.

(3) We're using all of the original (insert or narrative) titles, including one title not existing in any 35mm preprint material previously available to Blackhawk (meaning all existing prints are by definition not complete). In other words, we've scrapped the text titles that were made over by Blackhawk, in favor of these newly re-discovered original inter-titles, which had not decomposed like all the others.

(4) Most important (for many of us), we have, at great expense, blocked out the small M-G-M logo within the original main title cards and replaced it with our own trademark; so that from now on, Blackhawk prints of TWO TARS will carry the original Hal Roach Studios main and production credit titles! And that's news worth telling a friend about!

So, effective immediately, the 810, 860, 880 and 640 formats (as listed below) will all be issued in this revised, upgraded version, though the silent formats (810 and 860) obviously won't have the soundtrack.

- 810-02-2418, Standard 8mm, 385-feet, 14-ozs. .... $21.98
- 860-02-2418, Super 8, 430-feet, 14-ozs. .... $21.98
- 880-02-2418, Super 8 magnetic sound, 435-feet, 14-ozs. .... $32.98
- 640-02-2418, 16mm optical sound, 775-feet, 3-lbs. .... $69.98

Most of you already have prints of TWO TARS in your collection. It's a famous and brilliantly funny picture — easily among that handful of films deserving to be labeled a true "comedy classic." But for those of you perusing these pages for the first time who might not know, TWO TARS features Laurel and Hardy as sailors on leave who pick up a pair of easily impressed young ladies for a joy ride in the country. En route they encounter a massive traffic jam, which escalates to a kind of spectacular Hal Roach Studios warfare known as "civilized" reciprocal destruction, where nearly every model-T on the road is more or less systematically pulled apart, crushed, smashed, or otherwise disfigured. ... Frenzied motorists treat each other accordingly.

Blackhawk has had TWO TARS in release for many years, but we've recently "dressed it up" so much that even if you already own a print, as you probably do, you'll want to obtain this new version, available now for the first time. What makes the new version so special? Four things:

BORED OF EDUCATION (1936)

Winner of the Academy Award:
Best Short Subject of 1936
Directed by Gordon Douglas

starring Hal Roach's Little Rascals SPANKY, ALFALFA, DARLA, PORKY and BUCKWHEAT, with ROSINA LAWRENCE as the teacher.

Facing a new school year, and a new teacher, Spanky and Alfalfa contrive to skip class by rigging a phony, bulging toothache with a balloon. Their scheme seems to be working. Problem is, once they've left class, the would-be truants discover their pretty new teacher has arranged an ice cream party to teach them a lesson, and now the two lakers have to find a way to get back INTO school! Except for the balloon stopper he swallows, Alfalfa's in fine voice for the finale, as this time he renders (in more ways than one) "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

BORED OF EDUCATION is a slick remake of the more famous TEACHER'S PET, but is especially interesting on its own for a couple of reasons:

1. Historically, it was the first Our Gang single reeler after thirteen years of being issued in the two reel format.

2. Artistically, it won the Academy Award as the Best Short Subject of 1936.

Despite the Oscar, signal prize though this may be, BORED OF EDUCATION should hardly be confirmed as the "yearstick" Our Gang Comedy against which all others are measured. The Academy Award appears to have been a product of timing, whim, and Hollywood politics, rather than strictly a consideration of merit, for while a pleasant, amusing comedy, BORED OF EDUCATION is not the enduring classic short film that many of the other Our Gang Comedies indeed are.

SPEEDWAY STAR THE STORY OF WILBUR SHAW

To racing car fans, the name Wilbur Shaw is instantly recognizable as belonging to the first man in the history of the Indianapolis 500 to win the race two consecutive years in a row, 1939 and 1940 - a feat which earned him not only fame and fortune but also permanent ownership of the coveted trophy. This coupled with Shaw's previous victory in 1937 gave him further distinction as being one of the only three men ever to have won the grueling race three times.

Our film highlights Shaw's career - his triumphs and tragedies as a racer, his stint in business after disaster in 1941 forced him to quit the track and finally, his victory in 1946 when he became President of the Indianapolis Speedway.

Wilbur Shaw achieved many successes throughout his long career. He was a dashing colorful personality whose contributions, among them being the first American racer ever to wear a crash helmet, and enthusiasm for car racing have been directly responsible for the growth and popularity of the sport.

Although he drove every conceivable type of machine on every type of course, Shaw's career centered around Indy. During World War II, the races were suspended. For four years the track was unattended and lack of maintenance had left it in a sad state.

Eddie Rickenbacker, the then president of the Speedway had little interest in the property so Shaw became a one man crusade to promote it's restoration. His perseverance and determination paid off, the track was saved and in 1946 he became President and General Manager.

No story of a great racer can be told without a look at the sport itself and this film provides vivid evidence of the drama and danger inherent in car racing. You will see the drivers of Yesterday roaring down dirt tracks, leaving those behind them to struggled through blinding clouds of dust; cars burst into flames, near misses and direct hits are all part of the action and thrills as men compete with their lives for the prizes which single them out as heroes to their fans and foes to their critics.

No matter which group you belong to, this film is sure to convince you that whizzing around the track at 150 mph is either sanity or suicide.
