A Memo From Blackhawk

The year was 1939. Only 88,745 square miles of territory remained to be conquered. Then, the Nazis would control Europe.

The 88,745 square miles was Great Britain. One of this month's new releases, THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN, tells why the Nazi conquest never happened.

The film's a fascinating, exclusive documentary. It shows the events and captures the feel of the times because it is compiled entirely of Movietone Newsfilm shot while the outcome of the Battle of Britain was still in doubt.

Another of this month's additions, GOLD RUSH, comes from a happier time. This exclusive Blackhawk edition features a musical score composed and performed by William Perry that compliments the film.

Cordially,

Ted Ewing
President

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN (1940-41)

Restricted to the United States and Canada

Austria annexed and France and Poland victims of the blitzkrieg. Hitler and the Nazis felt mightily that Europe was theirs. The British Isles stood all alone before the assembled military strength of Hitler. From August 6, 1940 thru mid-1941 the Luftwaffe's mass and indiscriminate bombing of Britain continued unabated. The British put up barrage balloons to ensnare the fighters; they sent a valiant teen-aged Royal Air Force into the skies to dogfight; they fought the fires and cleaned up the rubble; and carried on courageously in the face of this Armageddon. Nazi intelligence failed to perceive that British defenses were on the verge of breaking and Hitler was so obsessed by the prize of Russia that he pulled back his airpower and sent it to Russia. This was the highwater mark of the Third Reich.

The British came back stronger than ever and the door to Europe was still open. See the ruin and wreckage of London aflame with the horror of war! See Coventry where 1000 planes dropped a million pounds of bombs on 165,000 people! See the death in the air! Hear Churchill's brave proclamation and be thankful for what the British endured.

Notice: Some vertical scratches were in the original preprint of this subject. Blackhawk has corrected this as much as possible, and the overall quality is good. Due to the importance of this footage, it has been released in spite of these imperfections.

THE BAKERY (1921)

with LARRY SEMON, OLIVER HARDY, LUCILLE CARLISLE and FATTY ALEXANDER

Woe to the innocent customer that enters this bakery! Larry is a clerk and helper and one man disaster. While waiting on customers he's fighting slapstick style with his fellow employees. His gruff shyster boss is Oliver Hardy. Oliver would like to kill our little clown, but everything goes wrong. Ollie is busy embezzling and the bakery is a mess when the owner stops by. Larry continues to totally disrupt everything with more non-stop gags than Blake Edwards, the Pink Panther man. Finally, the jig is up and the chase is on. Keaton's ladder gag in COPS is taken one step further in this chase. From flour bins, dough, pies and cakes to this madcap heroic ending THE BAKERY is a terrific comedy by a great star of the 20s: Larry Semon.

SALLY OF THE SAWDUST (1925)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with W.C. FIELDS, ALFRED LUNT and CAROL DEMPSTER

Directed by D.W. Griffith
 Music by Jack Ward

Long thought lost, this recently rediscovered classic is W.C. Fields' first and most famous silent feature film.

Made when Fields was starring on the stage in the Ziegfeld Follies, it was Producer-Director D.W. Griffith's only full-fledged comedy. The romantic hero is played by Alfred Lunt, then a young Broadway juvenile, and the part of Sally, the orphan circus girl, is played by Carol Dempster, one of Griffith's favorite leading ladies.

Fields has the role of Eustace McGargle, a carnival barker who has adopted Sally, and he has ample opportunity to show off his skills in juggling and in conning the carnival customers. In fact, it is in this film that we see brought into focus on the screen the basic character that Fields has been developing throughout his vaudeville and stage careers — that of a lovable but anti-social charlatan who enjoys an occasional nip or two and is on record as being none too fond of children or dogs.

Much of the filming of SALLY was done on location in Connecticut, and the picture is climaxed by one of those wild automobile race-to-the-rescue chases which were to become traditional in later Fields films.

Griffith produced the film under contract with Paramount, but released it through United Artists. He chose the subject after reading Dorothy Donnelly's play "Poppy".

The film was hailed as a huge dollar and art success and Griffith, as usual, shows more than occasional brilliance in his production and direction.

MACABRE MOMENTS FROM THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA (1925)

with LON CHANEY, MARY PHILBIN and NORMAN KERRY

This new edited version of THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA follows the entire story and includes the most intense and spectacular scenes of the original. The suspense mounts as the imminent introduction of the Phantom unfolds. At first he is a mere legend. When the Opera House is sold, the new owners are told they may hear of a ghost of the opera. The men laugh at this, but soon the "ghost" materializes.

MACABRE MOMENTS includes the most exciting moments of the original: The Phantom drops a chandelier on the audience in the Opera House; the masked ball, which was done beautifully in color; the entrapment of Christina's lover Raoul and a detective in a flood near the Phantom's lair; and the chase scene in which the townspeople pursue the Phantom through the streets of Paris to the river front.

The organ score by Gaylord Carter adds significantly to the dramatic tension of this classic horror movie. If you don't own the full length version of THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA, here is an opportunity to acquire a skillfully edited version which maintains the impact of the original.

TOP FLAT (1935)

with THELMA TODD and PATSY KELLY

This next-to-last short in the Todd/Kelly series ranks as one of their best. The girls are roommates, but the cultured refined Thelma is irked because Patsy thinks her modern poetry sounds like a grocery list. Thelma stomps out declaring some day she'll be living in a Park Avenue penthouse writing best sellers. So when Patsy later sees Thelma emerge from a limousine, she assumes Thelma's loaded with dough. It's not so. Thelma's a maid for a wealthy couple, but she doesn't admit it. Then Patsy and her rowdy boyfriend visit ... producing a truly great comedy of errors.

Essanay Period

Here was the time Chaplin began to come into his own. With more time devoted to the preparation of his films, his talent became even more in evidence and there was less and less dependence on slapstick. Almost all of his Essanay films were two reels (most of them are or will be available from Blackhawk) and were more painstakingly produced. But, so high had his popularity skyrocketed in 1915 that Mutual was able to sign him away from Essanay in February, 1916, at salary and bonus totaling $670,000 for a year.

THE CIRCUS (1928)

THE CIRCUS is reminiscent of Chaplin's earlier films. Fast-paced, imaginative, with only a touch of pathos, it is Chaplin's most light-hearted feature.
In the first year of the Academy Awards, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences honored Charlie Chaplin with a special award for "Writing, Producing, Directing, and Starring in THE CIRCUS."

CITY LIGHTS (1931)

When Chaplin began filming CITY LIGHTS in 1928, dialogue movies were largely considered a passing novelty.
For Chaplin the challenge (or threat) of sound presented a special problem. And so, while everyone else was converting to sound and dialogue, Chaplin resumed production on CITY LIGHTS as a silent film.
Many call "CITY LIGHTS" Chaplin's masterpiece and it is undeniably beautiful.
780-04-0007, Super 8 magnetic sound, music & sound effects 81 min. $225.00

A DAY'S PLEASURE (1919)

A seldom-seen short film which shows Charlie and his family on a comically disastrous outing.

THE GREAT DICTATOR (1940)

For THE GREAT DICTATOR, his first dialogue film, Chaplin created two new characters, a meek Jewish barber, who is something of an extension of the tramp, and Adenoid Hynkel, a lampoon of Adolph Hitler. The whole project was considered a daring risk at the time, but audiences loved it, although banned in several countries (and not just the obvious ones), it quickly became the most popular success Chaplin had yet experienced.

PAYDAY (1922)

PAY DAY was Chaplin's last two-reel comedy - also one of his funniest. Charlie goes out drinking with his buddies on payday.
780-04-0005, Super 8 magnetic sound, music 20 min. $49.98

SUNNYSIDE (1919)

Charlie is a hotel handyman in the town of Sunnyside. The boss is a tyrant and Charlie an often inept slave. While bringing the cows in from the pasture, a stray heads in to the congregation filled church. Charlie is knocked unconscious as he attempts to stop the cow. (A wonderful ballet is enacted as Chaplin dreams of dancing with four lovely wood nymphs.)

CHARLES CHAPLIN

In his Greatest Role

THE GREAT DICTATOR

A WOMAN OF PARIS (1923)

When A WOMAN OF PARIS opened at New York's Lyric Theatre on October 1, 1923, critical reaction was unanimously positive.
Despite its importance in film history, A WOMAN OF PARIS has not been available for general audiences since the late 1920's. But in 1976, Charles Chaplin composed a new musical score for his 1923 classic, and has made new prints from his original negative. The excellent prints and the new score by Chaplin ensure that future audiences will have a chance to see this important film as Charles Chaplin intended it to be seen. A WOMAN OF PARIS is no longer a "lost" film.

THE PAWNSHOP (1916)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, EDNA PURVIANCE, ERIC CAMPBELL, JOHN RAND, HENRY BERGMAN, ALBERT AUSTIN and JAMEST. KELLY

Charlie is the handy man in THE PAWNSHOP — handy being a relative term. Edna is the daughter of the owner of the shop. As a combination janitor and clerk, he gets involved in comic rivalry with another clerk, causing pandemonium with the staff, and wild confusion with the customers.

A high spot of the film is Charlie's attempted diagnosis of the condition of an alarm clock brought in for pawning.

A ludicrous short full of terrific Chaplinisms.

HIS MUSICAL CAREER

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, MACK SWAIN and CHARLEY CHASE

"Deliver this piano to 666 Prospect and pick one up at 999 Prospect." A simple statement but in the hands of Charlie and Mack, it leads to comic havoc as the boys confuse the directions and themselves completely.

THE TRAMP (1915)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, EDNA PURVIANCE, BUD JAMISON, LEO WHITE and PADDY MCGUIRE

This is Charlie Chaplin in a consummate performance as his classic tramp character.

The story is about a tramp who saves a young girl from three thieves. She takes him home with her where her grateful father says, "As a reward you can work!". The thieves later return and once again the tramp heroically saves the farmer and his daughter. This time the tramp is injured by gunshot and is pampered by the girl. He mistakes this attention for love, but he discovers his error when the girl's boyfriend comes to visit. Dejected, the little tramp once again takes to the highway alone.

THE COUNT (1916)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, EDNA PURVIANCE, ERIC CAMPBELL, JAMES T. KELLY, LEO WHITE, ALBERT AUSTIN, CHARLOTTE MINEAU and FRANK J. COLEMAN

Charlie catches his boss impersonating a real count — and all kinds of uproarious situations evolve.

A first use of a dollied camera over the floor to follow the dancers is very much in evidence. Fast action, topnotch slapstick and fine examples of Chaplin pantomime.

THE MAN WHO KNEW TOO MUCH (1934)

Restricted to the United States with PETER LORRE, LESLIE BANKS and EDNA BEST

Blackhawk Films brings you 1934 vintage Hitchcock, his greatest British success, THE MAN WHO KNEW TOO MUCH, featuring Peter Lorre as the dedicated anarchist, Abbott; Leslie Banks as the imperforable Englishman Bob Lawrence, and Edna Best as his skeet-shooting wife.

Hitchcock used a real-life incident as his model for the suspenseful climax to his story. In 1910, several Russian anarchists were holed up in an old building on Sidney Street in London. Churchill, as Home Secretary, was called to direct their capture. He summoned soldiers to support the unarmed London Bobbies.

Hitchcock's cameras follow the Bobbies & soldiers over walls, through back doors, into tenements across from the hideout where the anarchists are holding Betty and her father. Final scenes of defeat and death for Abbott, and the split-second roof-top rescue of the kidnapped girl are pure breath-taking Hitchcock.

A rousing suspense film.

COLLEGE (1927)

with BUSTER KEATON, ANN CORNWALL, FLORA BRAMLEY, HAROLD GOODWIN, BUDDY MASON, GRANT WITHERS, SNITZ EDWARDS, CARL HARBAUGH, SAM BRADFORD and FLORENCE TURNER

Honor grad Buster heads for college and an education, but Ann Cornwall soon forgets that she's his girl and begins casting an eye at Harold Goodwin, star athlete and delight to all the coeds.

The only way for Buster to cure her case of "broad shoulder blues" is to make the team, win the big race and save the day. The fun is in seeing how he does this, this is usually when the audiences become unglued with laughter.

It's an unabashed romp from beginning to end and one of Keaton's very best comedies.

HAUNTED RANCH (1943)

with THE RANGE BUSTERS

Tune up your ears, music lovers. You'll not only enjoy the singin' cowboys, but you'll solve the mystery of the hidden gold bullion.

Reno Red, one of the gang who robbed the Denver Mint, secreted the gold somewhere on his ranch, the Triangle W. Before his untimely end, he had the foresight to leave a will naming his next-of-kin as co-beneficiaries — providing they play the old pump organ, particularly his favorite song. The organ has stops — right? And each song has a special combination of stops. So the numbers for the stops in Red's favorite song will be the combination that unlocks the gold's hiding-place. Sounds simple, but the only one left at the ranch who would know the song is old Sam the cook. He's sure he'd remember if he heard it, but he just can't think of the name. So what better excuse for everybody in the cast to break into song!

EARTH (1930)

directed by Alexander Dovzhenko

On more than one occasion EARTH has been voted by critics as one of the top ten films of all time (as at Brussels, 1958.)

The story line of EARTH was taken by Dovzhenko from a newspaper story on "kulaks" (reactionary farmers) who murdered a pro-communist agitator that brought the first tractor to his village.

The film was actually taken in a village in the Ukraine where a young activist had recently been stabbed to death by kulaks.

Dovzhenko focused on the generalized, eternal experiences of nature and living things: love, family ties, birth, death, new birth, planting and harvest, rejoicing in the fruit of one's toil. Dovzhenko's love for the outdoors and for his native region is captured in a series of striking and famous visual compositions: sunflowers blooming in the sun, raindrops glistening on ripe apples and in the fields, little children frolicking in a country cemetery.

A strong yet exquisite film.

WAY DOWN EAST (1920)

with LILLIAN GISH, RICHARD BARTHELMESS, LOWELL SHERMAN and BURR MCINTOSH

The story deals with poor but honest Anna Morre, played by Lillian Gish, who is tricked into a fake marriage by a callous city playboy, Lowell Sherman. He soon begins to neglect his young country bride, and abandons her entirely after Anna tells him she is to have a baby. Alone, Anna has her child, but the infant dies. Gish finds refuge in the home of puritanical farmers and falls in love with the son, handsome Richard Barthelmess but when her former "husband" appears on the scene, her secret is revealed. Driven from her home, Lillian rushes into a winter blizzard, collapses on the frozen river, and is trapped on an ice floe as the ice breaks and rushes towards the falls. Barthelmess, in pursuit, runs across the treacherous water, jumping from floe to floe, reaches Lillian at the very brink of the falls, picks her up, and begins the dash back to safety just as the floe on which she had been stranded plummets to destruction.

SHE (1926)

with BETTY BLYTHE and CARLYLE BLACKWELL

Left a strange legacy on his 25th birthday, Leo Vincey was driven to seek its truth on the strange and forbidding shores of Lybia. The mysterious land ruled by Ayesha (She-Who-Must-Be-Obeyed), who had waited 2,000 years for his return.

A heritage undreamed of by Vincey awaited his arrival and temptation nearly proved his downfall in this faithful adaption of Sir Rider Haggard's most famous novel.

Betty Blythe was made into an exotic sex symbol overnight with this sensational classic!

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS (1922)

with MARGUERITE COURTOT, RAMOND McKEE and CLARA BOW
Clara Bow's films are considered the epitome of the Jazz Age, yet she made her screen debut not in a flapper role, but as a Quaker girl in DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS.

Set in New Bedford, the whaling capital of America in the 1850's, DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS faithfully recaptures on film Quaker life of 100 years ago and the exploits of the whale hunting industry.

THE GREAT K & A TRAIN ROBBERY (1926)

with TOM MIX, DOROTHY DAWN, WILLIAM WALLINH, HARRY GRIPPE, CARL MILLER, EDWARD PIEL, CURTIS MCHENRY and TONY, a horse

THE GREAT K & A TRAIN ROBBERY is perhaps the definitive Tom Mix adventure: short, speedy, light-hearted, full of action and daredevil stunts. Tom plays a detective who is detailed to solve a series of mysterious robberies plaguing the K & A Railroad. He disguises himself as a bandit, boards the train of K & A President Cullen and, with the help of wonder horse Tony, proceeds to capture a dangerous ring singlehandedly.

810-51-2756, Standard 8 silent, b/w, 1012-feet $48.98

880-51-2240, Super 8 magnetic sound, b/w, music 59 min. $79.98

SEVENTH HEAVEN (1927)

with JANET GAYNOR and CHARLES FARRELL
In this love story there are several excellent characterizations combining humor, romance and heroism without bogging down in sugary sentimentality.

Chico (Charles Farrell) works in the sewers of pre-World War I Paris but he has two grand ambitions: to be a street sweeper and to have a good wife with yellow hair.

860-49-2282, Super 8 silent, b/w, 2408-feet $99.98

FROM THE SERIES

— THE HISTORY OF THE MOTION PICTURE —

Produced By Paul Killiam and Saul Turrell

THE HISTORY OF THE MOTION PICTURE is a unique series of half-hours tracing the development of the 20th Century art of film-making. Some units are condensations containing carefully chosen highlights and key scenes from great classics. Others present anthropologically selected material from many sources on specific themes: comedy styles, individual stars, directorial techniques, etc. New musical scores enhance interest for today's audiences, and thoughtful narration pinpoints the significance of each sequence in movie history, recalling the challenges faced by the craftsmen who made them. (Anth.-Anthology; Cond.-Condensation).

These 16mm sound prints are ordered from Blackhawk with the understanding that they will not be copied, reproduced, transferred to other mediums, leased, re-distributed on a rental basis, used theatrically or for television of any kind, all of which other rights are expressly reserved."

CHUCK JONES

HELL BENT FOR ELECTION

HELL BENT FOR ELECTION is a political campaign film for the purpose of reelecting Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944.

Unlike the usual political polemics, issues are graphically illustrated via a wonderful color cartoon with a deceptively simple situation. Two trains, the 'Defeatist Special', an antiquated, rickety old train, 1929 vintage and the 'Win The War Special', a sleek streamliner with an engine closely resembling FDR are both on their way back to Washington. At a junction they are scheduled to switch to the same track — only one, of course, can go — which one will it be?

LIFE IN THE THIRTIES

Restricted to the United States and Canada
The Hindenburg, the Lindbergh kidnapping, the rise and aggression of Hitler, the Depression, FDR; these were some of the sensational events that are shown in LIFE IN THE THIRTIES.

Moreover, this excellent McGraw Hill documentary shows a decade between two eras. The grim and modern aftermath of the Twenties, the fight between two world orders in the Forties.

This pivotal decade in American history makes for an absorbing documentary of LIFE IN THE THIRTIES.

1945: YEAR OF TRIUMPH

Restricted to the United States and Canada
This newsreel is composed of scenes from the important world events of 1945. Among other things you will see: Franklin Roosevelt's funeral shortly before the war's end; plucky Harry Truman, the United States' first new President in 13 years; the meeting of the "Big Three" at Potsdam; the atomic bomb; General Eisenhower's triumphant visits to London, Paris and the United States; people dancing in the streets; kamikaze raids; General MacArthur returning to the Philippines; leaders of defeated nations being tried for war crimes.

Relive that year that began in war and ended in peace and hope — 1945: YEAR OF TRIUMPH.

PAN AMERICAN CLIPPERS

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Juan Trippe, the brilliant young entrepreneur, started Pan American Airlines on a shoestring by swindling major air mail contracts with the U.S. government.

Trippe was a daring businessman who literally blazed mail routes throughout South America and the Pacific.

In the 30s many major cities were without adequate airports. Pan Am's answer was the Clipper Ship. These amphibious airlines were built to land on salt or fresh water, river or harbor, EAST or WEST.

Rare footage of those beautiful giants of sea and air, the great Pan Am ships!

JAPANESE SUICIDE ATTACKS

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Narrated by Lowell Thomas
The Japanese kamikaze pilot knew he would die on his mission before he took off. Yet thousands of Japanese pilots, some with antiquated aircraft and some totally inexperienced in battle, flew to their death in this way.

From a cockpit perspective you'll see the rockets and machine guns devastating their targets. You'll also see what American crewmen saw from their aircraft carriers as the suicidal Japanese pilots aimed their planes, and themselves, at the ship's deck.

This film shows the misses and the hits scored by the kamikazes, and the courageous firefighters battling the flames on their ship's decks. As a document of the extremes men will go to in the name of war, JAPANESE SUICIDE ATTACKS is nearly unbeatable.

THE RIVER

The river is the Mississippi, "carrying every drop of water that flows down two-thirds the continent; carrying every brook and rill, rivulet and creek."

The year is 1937 and the river is flooding and ravaging the valley and its people as never before.

All this is described not in the style of a dry report, but with a dynamic and famous musical score by the American composer Virgil Thomson with images of raging floods, stripped and eroding land and malnourished sharecroppers. Powerful images of the mighty river, the Mississippi.

Like a time capsule of the New Deal, the River shows the problems and presents a plan for water, for land, for people. A stirring documentary that is awesome.

TILLIE'S PUNCTURED ROMANCE (1914)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, MARIE DRESSLER, MABEL NORMAND, MACK SWAIN, CHESTER CONKLIN, EDGAR KENNEDY, CHARLEY CHASE and many more

A classic in every sense of the word, TILLIE'S PUNCTURED ROMANCE was the first American feature comedy and has remained a popular favorite since its release in 1914. Adapted in general terms from Marie Dressler's stage hit, TILLIE'S NIGHTMARE, it was a farcical parody of the city slicker vs. country girl theme popular in turn-of-the-century melodrama.

THE TAHITI AND THE MORRO CASTLE (1930 & 1934)

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Tahiti of the Union Lines, one of the largest liners plying the Pacific, got into trouble August 16, south of the Cook Islands when it lost its starboard propeller and tailshaft and began to leak. All were rescued, but after four days the Tahiti's aft compartments flooded, her bow went 90 degrees and she sank.

The Morro Castle was a new ship of the Ward Line in ferry service between New York and Havana. On the night of September 8, 1934, two days out of Havana, her captain collapsed and died. The same night, off the New Jersey coast, fire broke out in the library. Her acting captain kept the ship on course at full speed, delayed sending an SOS and then abruptly headed for the New Jersey shore. It took 8 days to fully extinguish the fire. There were 133 deaths.

Costly in lives and dollars, these tragedies rank in nautical history as two of the most famous disasters at sea.

THE BOND (1918)¹

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Musical score produced and performed by William Perry

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, ALBERT AUSTIN, SYDNEY CHAPLIN and EDNA PURVIANCE
In 1918 Chaplin did his bit for the Allied cause in World War I with the one-half reeler, THE BOND.

In this short he depicted the various bonds that so many of us make and share through life. The bonds of friendship, love and marriage.

After beautiful Edna appears as the Statue of Liberty, the film concentrates on, what was then, "The most important bond of all — the Liberty Bond."

THE INNOCENT YEARS

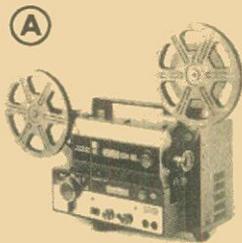

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Alexander Scourby's intelligent narration, delightful period music and stock footage make this a fascinating documentary on the United States from 1900 to WW I.

The homeless, the tempest tossed came to America's shore then. They came through New York City, but the big story was 500 miles away where President McKinley was assassinated. Vice-President Theodore Roosevelt ascended to the Presidency and this marked a new era. Teddy, a forceful man of many careers — was a President America adored; Bullly became the key word.

As the 20th Century progressed, America urbanized and industrialized. The Czars emerged: Rockefeller, Carnegie, Morgan. Mark Twain was the grand old man of American literature while steamboats died. The automobile appeared as a plaything for the rich. Nothing was too good for the American people! In the Good Old Summertime, Yankee Doodle Dandy, May-pole dances, band concerts, the circus, picnics, Lillian Russell, Pickford, Gish, Chaplin and the Kops ... why it was glorious! Ah, but then we have Jack London's eyewitness account of the San Francisco earthquake, floods in Dayton, unrest on the Mexican border and a storm brewing in Europe. By the teens we were less naive; the INNOCENT YEARS were ending.

NEWSREEL

BATTLE OF BRITAIN

From Hitler's invasion of Poland on September 1, 1939 until a declaration of war on Germany and Italy, December 11, 1941, America stood on the sidelines of World War II. Those were years of triumph and power for Nazi Germany. Goebbels, Hitler's chief propagandist, saturated the German populace with slick films concerning the Reich's blitzkrieg victories. This diabolical advertising campaign made the war a myth and Hitler a god.

Many Americans felt that media brainwashing would be decidedly un-American. Naturally, our free and individualists film industry was attentive to any new trends in mass consciousness that might mean profit, but early in the war there was some uncertainty as to who the heavy was. The war gradually revealed itself to be black and white despite our noninvolvement.

The new Fox Movietone News compilation featured on the front cover, BATTLE OF BRITAIN, exemplifies this phase in the 1940 cinema of America. We weren't committed in much more than an emotional sense to the Allied cause. For example, June 14, 1940 the Germans entered Paris and on June 15 the U.S. officially refused the French pleas for help.

August 8, 1940 the air raid sirens began to scream in England and Fox Movietone, always a leader, was the newsreel company that was there in the thick of it. Their tone was shock, dismay and anger. Hitler now was perceived as a monster and isolationism a poison. Churchill, a man as able as Hitler to stir a crowd, magnetized with his eloquence. In an instant the war became a harsh reality. Harsher still because now we knew the good guys were losing. America was gearing up.

No matter what the perspective, it takes little detachment to appreciate and be moved by what happened in the Battle of Britain. Just two months before, the British Expeditionary Force had been evacuated from Dunkirk. They left behind equipment in order to save men. In August of 1940 there wasn't enough hardware in all of Britain to equip one modern division. The Nazis had 100 fully equipped divisions and 10:1 air superiority over the British just 21 miles across the Channel. The Britons response was a fortress mentality where civilians, men and women alike, formed the Home Guard and went to work preparing Britain in every way possible for the onslaught. In the meantime, the Royal Air Force stalled the Nazi blitz and crystallized into a legendary fighting force. In the first four days of the Battle 182 German planes were shot down by the RAF. The next week Goerring, Hitler's air minister, shifted to the coastal cities and suffered similar losses. After ten days and 26 major attacks, the Germans had lost 697 planes vs. 153 RAF losses. Hitler was pressuring Goerring in late August to complete phase 1 of Operation Sea Lion immediately. Goerring's task was 35 major strikes between August 24 and September 5th on industrial centers. The British persisted and inflicted heavy losses on the Luftwaffe. Incensed, Hitler ordered the destruction of London. In four weeks the Nazis dropped 50 million pounds of bombs on London, killing 7,000 and wounding 10,000 more. Because they had lost 900 planes in this four week period, they frantically switched to night attacks. The Home Guard cleared the rubble, fought the fires, manned the anti-aircraft guns, drove the ambulances, etc. while the RAF defended and boldly counterattacked. On Christmas Day, 1940 Hitler unleashed all his air power on London and the RAF went to the skies that night and fought the Luftwaffe by the light of flaming London. The destruction on a daily basis in London and other British cities was unbelievable, but the people held on.

For one year the British successfully stalemated the assembled might of the German military machine. The Nazis killed more than 40,000 Britons and wounded over 50,000 more, but this island, the one obstacle to Hitler's total domination of Europe endured tenaciously.

On the occasion of this film release coinciding with Thanksgiving, 1978, I, for one, am deeply grateful to those courageous Britons who won for the world one year of precious time. THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN. Lest we forget.

John F. Sibley

SLIDE ACCESSORIES

SLIDE PROJECTOR SLIDE CUBE SYSTEM

Bell & Howell's Slide Cube System projectors are an extraordinary way to protect, store, and enjoy your slides. Slide cube projectors are designed to make your slides look beautiful on the screen.

• Quiet operation and superb reliability help make Slide Cube System projectors a great way to get everything out of your slides that you've put into them.

• Cartridges store slides in one-eighth the space for about one-third the cost of clumsy round trays.

• Slide cartridges give your slide collection maximum protection. They keep the damaging effects of dust and lights from reaching your slides. Because they store flat, they also minimize the chance of warping.

• You never have to waste time loading slides into the round tray slots.

• Space is provided on the top of each for your catalog collection.

• Model RC50 comes with remote control forward recall.

• Acrylic top cover.

PACIFIC 231 (1949)

Winner of the 1949 Cannes Film Festival for editing, this film's brilliant photography of French National Railway, PACIFIC 231, created a new dimension in railroad motion pictures. You accompany the steam locomotive from the round-house to the coupling up to its train, then a lovely ride from Paris to Marseilles. Every motion of PACIFIC 231 and its trains is orchestrated to the great symphonic score created for this film by composer Honneger. A must item for railroad fans and students of film. HIGH C'S (1930)
 With CHARLEY CHASE, THELMA TODD, and THE RANCH BOYS

Restricted to the U.S. and Canada.

"High C's" is a wonderful exception to the rule that comedy featurettes were overlong, padded and dull. It stars Charley Chase as a World War I draftee who is sent to France where he meets (and is wooed by) Thelma Todd. When he runs into the Ranch Boys, it's song at first sight proving that war ... at least in this movie ... doesn't have to be hell.

THE GOLD RUSH (1925)¹
 With CHARLIE CHAPLIN, GEORGIA HALE, MACK SWAIN

Scored version composed and performed by William Perry
 Restricted to the United States.

Both Blackhawk's silent and sound versions of "The Gold Rush" are special because this comedy is a true masterpiece. But the exclusive musical score by Bill Perry makes our new sound version even more special. No narration interferes with the action, laughs, or pathos. Instead, music enhances all the famous scenes: The long line of gold-seekers in the mountains and the results of a lone man's arrival (with following bear), Charlie devouring his boots, his companion imagining Charlie's a giant chicken and the rest.
