LOST PATROL (1934)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with VICTOR McLAGLEN, BORIS KARLOFF, WALLACE FORD, REGINALD DENNY, J.M. KERRIGAN, BILLY BEVAN and ALAN HALE

John Ford directed this terse war drama about British cavalry men lost in the Mesopotamian desert during WW I. They are pursued constantly by Arab sharpshooters and, like in STAGECOACH, these confining and unifying circumstances allow strong characterizations to emerge.

When the leader of the patrol is killed, McLaglen, the Sergeant, takes command of the eleven survivors. There is Karloff in one of his best roles as the religious fanatic who quotes the Bible like a prophet of destruction, his eyes afire. There is Reginald Denny playing the perfect British gentleman and J.M. Kerrigan as an angry pessimist. McLaglen sees his men perish one by one and perseveres by keeping his head and following his military training.

A classic actioner that is extremely well-paced, LOST PATROL established John Ford's reputation internationally as a director and was a box office smash hit. The New York Times described the film as, "An impressive conception of the agony of thirst and also of scorching heat . . ." Leonard Maltin, in his TV MOVIES, gave the film 4 stars and praised the film as so many have, as a classic. A great tale of men trying to cheat death and destiny.

THE SHRIMP (1930)

Restricted to the United States and Canada
with HARRY LANGDON, THELMA TODD, NANCY DREXEL, JAMES MASON and MAX DAVIDSON
Timid Harry is the boarder in a household full of obnoxious stereotypes. There is glutton, the lazy wife-driving husband, the mouthy blonde, the tough guy. They all have it in for Harry. They trip him, push his face into his food, kick him and laugh uproariously. A girl loves him, but what can she do if he won't stand up for himself?

As he's ambling along in his silly sad way, a man representing a team of scientists singles him out as the most timid man he's ever seen. He takes Harry to an auditorium where an expectant crowd awaits for an experiment to begin. The head scientist, a delightful mad-professor type, sits Harry down in a huge chair while his assistants complete necessary preparations. Harry is injected with a serum which gives him the fighting, tough, tenacious psyche and temperament of a bulldog. He springs from the chair and runs back to the rooming house immediately. In short time, Harry turns the whole house upside down and straightens all his persecutors out, as well as winning the girl. A fantastic and highly entertaining transformation. Do not miss Harry doing what you always wanted him to do!

STUNT CRAZY (20s-50s)

Restricted to the United States and Canada
A high diver who uses very little water yet makes a big splash, is one of the stunt lunatics appearing in this wild and crazy compilation. Stunts were regularly covered by Movietone Newsreels, particularly in the thirties, and we show you some of the top participants in this trend. A man who throws hatchets and even minnows picks at his sweetheart. A barrel rider, playing polo in cars with roll bars, a bridge lumper. The out-landish item of the compilation features an aerial artist who tiptoes out onto a high wire over a chasm in the Swiss Alps with a table, chair and complete meal. He proceeds down with his balancing pole in his lap and offers to enjoy a leisurely meal while spectators on either precipice gape in terror. Great fun!

NOW IN COLOR

THE BIRTH OF A NATION (1915)

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Directed by D.W. Griffith with LILLIAN GISH, MAE MARSH, HENRY WALTHALL, MIRIAM COOPER, ROBERT HARRON, WALLACE REID, BESSIE LOVE, ELMO LINCOLN, RAOUL WALSH and DONALD CRISP
The American Civil War inspired two of the great screen epics of all time — THE BIRTH OF A NATION and GONE WITH THE WIND. Both were stupendous and both have won critical acclaim as enduring masterpieces of the Motion picture art. But of the two, THE BIRTH OF A NATION is the more remarkable, for it burst upon a world that had seen little more than penny-arcade flickers and two-reel comedies, and yet it contained spectacular settings and photography, a story so powerful and controversial that even today it moves audiences to the highest pitch of excitement.

In this story, D.W. Griffith tells of two families, the Stonemans of the North and the Camerons of the South, who become embroiled in the dramatic events of the war and the difficult days of Reconstruction that followed.

NOTE: This version has been fully restored with the original color tints and a full orchestra score, and has had the speed adjusted where necessary so that the action seems normal when projected at sound speed.

First National Company

Chaplin left Mutual and joined First National because he was given greater range and freedom in the making of his pictures. The contract received worldwide publicity. It gave him a million dollars plus a $15,000 bonus for signing, for eight pictures to be done in eighteen months. Chaplin was to be his own producer and bear all costs.

THE BOND (1918)

Restricted to the United States and Canada
Musical score produced and performed by William Perry with ALBERT AUSTIN, SYDNEY CHAPLIN, and EDNA PURVIANCE
In this short, Chaplin depicts the various bonds that so many of us make and share through life. The bonds of friendship, love and marriage. After Edna poses as the Statue of Liberty, the film concentrates on the most important bond of all, at that time, the Liberty Bond.

FEATURES

THE GOLD RUSH (1925)

Restricted to the United States
with MACK SWAIN and GEORGIA HALE
THE GOLD RUSH is one of the most famous of all films ever made and perhaps "the masterpiece of the cinema."
810-04-1128, Standard 8 silent, b/w, 1548-feet $62.98
860-04-1128, Super 8, 1714-feet $69.98

TILLIE'S PUNCTURED ROMANCE (1914)

with MARIE DRESSLER, MABEL NORMAND, MACK SWAIN, CHESTER CONKLIN, EDGAR KENNEDY
A classic in every sense of the word. Adapted in general terms from Marie Dressler's stage hit, "Tillie's Nightmare", it was a farcical parody of the city slicker vs. country girl theme popular in turn-of-the-century melodrama.
810-04-0988, Standard 8 silent, b/w, 811-feet $32.98
860-04-0988, Super 8, 889-feet $36.98

and from rbc CHARLIE CHAPLIN All films are restricted to the United States

THE CIRCUS (1928)

THE CIRCUS is reminiscent of Chaplin's earlier films. Fast-paced, imaginative, with only a touch of pathos, it is Chaplin's most light-hearted feature.
In the first year of the Academy Awards, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences honored Charlie Chaplin with a special award for "Writing, Producing, Directing, and Starring in THE CIRCUS."
780-04-0004, Super 8 magnetic sound, music 72 min. $159.98

CITY LIGHTS (1931)

When Chaplin began filming CITY LIGHTS in 1928, dialogue movies were largely considered a passing novelty.
For Chaplin the challenge (or threat) of sound presented a special problem. And so, while everyone else was converting to sound and dialogue, Chaplin resumed production on CITY LIGHTS as a silent film.
Many call "CITY LIGHTS" Chaplin's masterpiece and it is undeniably beautiful.
780-04-0007, Super 8 magnetic sound, music & sound effects 81 min. $225.00

A DAY'S PLEASURE (1919)

A seldom-seen short film which shows Charlie and his family on a comically disastrous outing.
780-04-0006, Super 8 magnetic sound, music 20 min. $49.98

THE GREAT DICTATOR (1940)

For THE GREAT DICTATOR, his first dialogue film, Chaplin created two new characters, a meek Jewish barber, who is something of an extension of the tramp, and Adenoid Hynkel, a lampoon of Adolph Hitler. The whole project was considered a daring risk of the time, but audiences loved it, although banned in several countries (and not just the obvious ones), it quickly became the most popular success Chaplin had yet experienced.
780-04-0008, Super 8 magnetic sound, dialogue 121 min. . $225.00

A KING IN NEW YORK

Chaplin made a KING IN NEW YORK, in England in 1957, three years after he left the United States, and at a time when anti-Chaplin sentiment was at its peak. The film is a satirical look at the United States of the 1950's.
780-04-0003, Super 8 magnetic sound, dialogue 104 min. . $174.98

MODERN TIMES (1936)

with PAULETTE GODDARD
MODERN TIMES was an ideal vehicle for the tramp's last real appearance on the screen. It is a perfect weaving of all the elements that made Chaplin the most-beloved performer in the world.
780-04-0002, Super 8 magnetic sound, music & effects 89 min. $224.95

PAYDAY (1922)

PAY DAY was Chaplin's last two-reel comedy - also one of his funniest. Charlie goes out drinking with his buddies on payday.

SUNNYSIDE (1919)

Charlie is a hotel handyman in the town of Sunnyside. The boss is a tyrant and Charlie an often inept slave. While bringing the cows in from the pasture, a stray heads in to the congregation filled church. Charlie is knocked unconscious as he attempts to stop the cow. (A wonderful ballet is enacted as Chaplin dreams of dancing with four lovely wood nymphs.)

CHARLES CHAPLIN

A WOMAN OF PARIS (1923)

When A WOMAN OF PARIS opened at New York's Lyric Theatre on October 1, 1923, critical reaction was unambiguously positive.
Despite its importance in film history, A WOMAN OF PARIS has not been available for general audiences since the late 1920's. But in 1976, Charles Chaplin composed a new musical score for his 1923 classic, and has made new prints from his original negative. The excellent prints and the new score by Chaplin ensure that future audiences will have a chance to see this important film as Charles Chaplin intended it to be seen. A WOMAN OF PARIS is no longer a "lost" film.

HI NEIGHBOR (1934)

Wally and Spanky, with nothing to do but sail their homemade sailboat in a puddle, perk up when a Wilshire Moving truck pulls alongside. The driver asks directions to Cherry Street. Spanky and Wally spot a shiny junior-sized fire engine on the back of the truck and round up the whole gang. As the fire truck touches the sidewalk, Spanky, Wally, Stymie and their buddies swarm over it — ringing the bell, turning the steering wheel, and admiring their funny reflections in the side mirror. In spite of their friendly "Hi, Neighbor", the snooty rich kid won't give the boys a ride. But when Wally's girlfriend Jane appears — guess who does get a ride.

Poor Wally, shamed in front of all his friends, broags that he has a bigger and better fire engine. His boast starts a scrounging expedition; and the gang assembles buggy wheels, a window-washer's ladder, a neighbor's hose and some appropriated lumber. With much sawing, pounding, hammering and a very complicated wheel assembly, the 10-man engine is completed.

SECOND CHILDHOOD (1936)

Another birthday. After sixty-five of them, a pill-popping Grandma thinks they aren't worth celebrating. But Spanky's errant airplane brings an unexpected birthday gift to the old gal — her second childhood!

When Spanky's plane zooms through the window, breaking a vase, Grandma declares the proper compensation to be 75 cents. Ready cash not available, Spanky offers all his friends' services for payment: lawn mowing, watering, weeding etc. Grandma quickly accepts, but switches from rocking-chair spectator to mower-pusher when Spanky and Alfalfa don't seem to have the knack.

Having more fun than she's had in years, she flings the piano open and joins Alfalfa in a soulful rendition of "Oh Susanna". Spanky's slingshot inadvertently snags Grandma on her piano bench — and she becomes aware of slingshot power. All her pill bottles become targets, and war is declared!

POKER AT EIGHT (1935)

with CHARLEY CHASE, CONSTANCE BERGEN, BERNARDINE HAYES and TOM DUGAN

When Charley is deceived into thinking he has the power to instantly hypnotize people, he tries to use it on his beautiful wife so he can go out and play poker with the boys. She's on to him though, and the result is a sparkling little comedy that gets sillier by the minute.

Charley hypnotizes his wife into thinking she's a swell guy who doesn't mind him having fun with the boys. To teach him a lesson, she acts like his psychic ability has turned her into a real swinger and NOW she wants to have some fun with the boys. As she pretends to head into town dressed in one of her most seductive dresses Charley returns home, too concerned with his wife to be able to go out and have a good time. They both meet at home, each pretending that they have forgotten something. She forgot her flask, she claims. Nervous Charley can't think straight, and claims he's forgotten his... well, that would be telling! Suffice it to say that he ends up carrying a strange prop, and due to further complications, begins to resemble a madman. The face of a cop who sees him trotting along the sidewalk tells it all!

POKER AT EIGHT ranks with PIP FROM PITTSBURGH and HIGH C's as one of Chase's best.

RAILROAD SPECIAL SALE

MISTAKEN ORDERS

with HELEN HOLMES

Railroad lines were popular settings for silent cinema because tension could be created by trains racing towards destruction or to the rescue. This device is used well in MISTAKEN ORDERS, which stars one of the Queens of the silent serials, Helen Holmes.

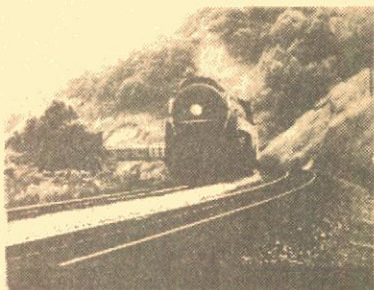

Helen plays the daughter of the vice-president of the railroad. Her brother Vincent is a care-free youth. Helen convinces her father to give Vincent a job as a dispatcher. Vincent is sent to Hynes, a lonely station which is a haunt of a hoodlum named Tony Sharkey. When Vincent arrives, Tony beats him up. Shortly thereafter, orders arrive to delay a freight train until a passenger train has passed. However the orders are not carried out because Vincent is unconscious.

Her brother is in grave danger and two trains are heading for an imminent head-on collision when the daredevil queen Helen Holmes takes charge.

This action packed film, with music and sound effects to enhance the excitement, is sure to delight fans of railroad and suspense.

Never before available in the home market, MISTAKEN ORDERS is new from Blackhawk and on sale this month only.

THE THUNDER OF STEAM IN THE BLUE RIDGE

Photographed by Fred McLeod

We feel that his is one of the most dramatic railroad films ever issued. Most of the scenes were photographed in 1958 in the mountainous area on the Norfolk & Western's main line between Roanoke and Bedford, VA. You'll see the N&W's tough articulated locomotives in the 2-6-6-4 and 2-8-8-2 wheel arrangements, pulling and pushing on the mountain grades, and the N&W modern 4-8-4 passenger locomotives on some of the road's name trains such as the Powhatan Arrow, the Cavalier, and the Pocahontas. In the sound versions, the actual synchronized sound of the locomotives on the Blue Ridge grades, or on the speeding passenger trains, is music for every rail fan.

BLOTTO (1930)

with ANITA GARVIN, TINY SANFORD, CHARLIE HALL

Stan is married to Anita and desperate to go out of town without her. His bachelor chum, Ollie, calls and the two plot how to attend the opening of the new Rainbow Club. Ollie advises Stan to send himself an important business telegram. "Great!", says Stan, "she's so dumb she'll never know the difference . . . but Anita has been listening in on the extension phone. They all head for the speak-easy, separately of course and star in a theatrical finish supplied by Anita!

BRATS (1930)

Unique among all Laurel and Hardy comedies. Stan and Ollie are baby sitters for Stan Jr. and Ollie Jr. and play the parts of both father and sons. Being acquainted with the messes which Stan and Ollie can become involved with adults, we can tell you that their sons are chips off the old blocks — and that the junior members of the families almost break up the long friendship that has existed between their fathers.

HABEAS CORPUS (1929)

Stan and Ollie are hired by a scientist to raise the dead, i.e. to steal bodies from a cemetery for his experiments. Stanley is somewhat leary of the assignment and perhaps a bit concerned by the scientists' peculiar habits, such as saving his cigarette ashes in his jacket pocket.

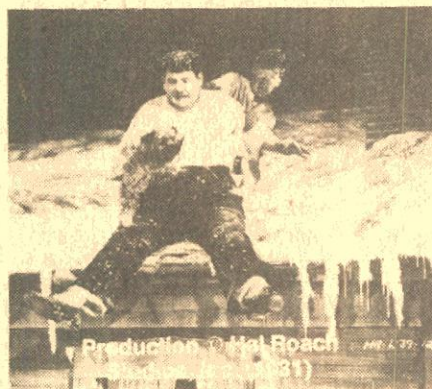

"Don't you think," says Mr. Laurel, "the Professor is a trifle cuckoo?"

"He is as sound mentally as you or I," replies Mr. Hardy.

Meanwhile, the Professor has been taken away by the authorities, presumably to a place where he might meet others of equal mental capabilities. But, of course, Stan and Ollie don't know this so they continue to fulfill their mission.

The boys find the cemetery "haunted" but after many mishaps, including locking themselves out of the cemetery, the dauntless duo get their man, or corpse.

THEIR FIRST MISTAKE (1932)

with MAE BUSCH and BILLY GILBERT

In this one, Ollie is married to Mae Busch — but Mae is getting sick and tired of Ollie being out every night with his bachelor friend, Stan. When it starts to happen again, Mae goes on a rampage. In this moment of trouble, Stan advises friend Ollie that what his friend needs is a baby — a baby would keep Mae busy and the boys could still go out at night.

Ollie, with Stan tagging along, gets a baby, but when they return home they find that Mae has left for good. This poses a whole new set of problems for the boys and some very funny moments for the audience.

THE FLOORWALKER (1916)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, EDNA PURVIANCE, ERIC CAMPBELL, LLOYD BACON, ALBERT AUSTIN, CHARLOTTE MINEAU and LEO WHITE
THE FLOORWALKER deals with Charlie's involvement with a store detective on the escalator in a series of escapades entirely in the slapstick tradition of his earlier Keystone and Essanay productions. In the process, he thwarts some skulduggery on the part of the manager making way with the day's receipts — and wins the girl.

KID'S AUTO RACE and a BUSY DAY (1914)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN
In Kid's Auto Race Chaplin makes his first appearance as the "little tramp." He borrowed his entire costume from fellow Keystone players and a legend was born. The gags all revolve around a camera-happy Chaplin, purposely, endlessly running out to obstruct the photographers view of the kiddies racing down an incline in the background.

With more of the same kind of fast acrobatic slapstick A Busy Day, with Chaplin in dome masquerade as a militant suffragette who catches "her" husband flirting with another woman.

ONE A.M. (1916)

with CHARLIE CHAPLIN (and ALBERT AUSTIN as the cab driver)
Other than for the cab driver; this one is Charlie's solo. You'd never believe what an effort it is for Charlie to "hit the sack" after an evening on the town. The Murphy bed alone seems to have it in for Charlie, but what he goes through to reach the bed is enough to discourage the average drunk. Visual comedy reduced to its essentials. One of the cleverest comedies ever made. Again Chaplin is not cast as the tramp, but as a tuxedoed man-about-town.

THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA (1925)

with LON CHANEY, MARY PHILBIN, NORMAN KERRY

Strange things have been happening at the Paris Opera — you'd almost think the place was haunted, but in this day and age, that's impossible — or is it? For far beneath the reach of daylight lives a misshapen creature whose genius strikes terror in the hearts of all who meet him, including the one he loves.

The original version of THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA has never been equalled in subsequent remakes; all seem to lack the same power and scope brought to the role by Lon Chaney and director Rupert Julian.

SEVENTH HEAVEN (1927)

Restricted to the United States
with JANET GAYNOR and CHARLES FARRELL
Sound version composed and performed by William Perry

SEVENTH HEAVEN is a love story that begins in the sewers of pre-World War I Paris. There are several excellent characterizations and the story combines humor, romance and heroism without bogging down in sugary sentimentality.

Chico (Charles Farrell) works in the sewers but has two grand ambitions: to be a street sweeper and to have a good wife with yellow hair.

The skillful and moving performances of Gaynor and Farrell were the major reasons for the movie's original success and are no less effective today. In his book CLASSICS OF THE SILENT SCREEN (New York: The Citadel Press, 1959), Joe Franklin states, "There is no doubt that SEVENTH HEAVEN was the screen's most popular love story." Now Blackhawk offers you a chance to see why.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS (1922)

with MARGUERITE COURTOT, RAMOND McKEE and CLARA BOW
Clara Bow's films are considered the epitome of the Jazz Age, yet she made her screen debut not in a flapper role, but as a Quaker girl in DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS.

Set in New Bedford, the whaling capital of America in the 1850's, DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS faithfully recaptures on film Quaker life of 100 years ago and the exploits of the whale hunting industry.

THE GREAT K & A TRAIN ROBBERY (1926)

with TOM MIX, DOROTHY DAWN, WILLIAM WALLINH, HARRY GRIPPE, CARL MILLER, EDWARD PIEL, CURTIS MCHENRY and TONY, a horse

THE GREAT K & A TRAIN ROBBERY is perhaps the definitive Tom Mix adventure: short, speedy, light-hearted, full of action and daredevil stunts. Tom plays a detective who is detailed to solve a series of mysterious robberies plaguing the K & A Railroad. He disguises himself as a bandit, boards the train of K & A President Cullen and, with the help of wonder horse Tony, proceeds to capture a dangerous ring singlehandedly.

SEVENTH HEAVEN (1927)

with JANET GAYNOR and CHARLES FARRELL
In this love story there are several excellent characterizations combining humor, romance and heroism without bogging down in sugary sentimentality. Chico (Charles Farrell) works in the sewers of pre-War I Paris but he has two grand ambitions: to be a street sweeper and to have a good wife with yellow hair.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY (1925)

Restricted to the United States
with MARY PICKFORD, WILLIAM HAINES,
WALTER JAMES, GORDON GRIFFITH and VOLA
VALE

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY, played by Mary, is the tomboy daughter of a policeman who divides her time between mothering her father and brother and getting into mischief with the local street punks. Annie's father is killed in gangland warfare, and Annie and Tim swear vengeance. When they learn that one of Annie's favorites, Joe Kelly, is being accused of the murder, Tim angrily shoots him with his father's gun. In the meantime, Annie, with the help of the neighborhood street gang, captures the real killer. Joe is in the hospital in intensive care when Annie goes to visit him. She consents to a blood transfusion which saves Joe's life. Joe heals and becomes a trucker, Tim is cleared and follows his father's footsteps by becoming a cop.

Produced by Mary Pickford Company and distributed by United Artists, ROONEY is a production that has long been famous for its technical excellence. Pickford poured money into this picture and it shows. Exclusively from Blackhawk.

BEGINNER'S LUCK (1935)

Restricted to the United States and Canada
with SPANKY, SCOTTY, STYMIE, BUCKWHEAT, MARIANNE and ALFALFA

Spanky's pushy mother has entered him in an amateur kiddie's contest as a gladiator who recites from Shakespeare's Julius Caesar. Spanky doesn't look forward to a life as a trouper so he tells his buddies to boo him and just generally wreck his performance. While waiting in the wings he meets a sweet little girl whose heart is set on winning the prize and buying a special dress. When her turn comes she flees with stage fright. Spanky resolves to win and give her the prize money, but is unable to cue his pals to the change of plans.

They pepper him with pea shooters, noisemakers and the works, but Spanky carries on. His indignant mother tries to grab him because the crowd is laughing rather than listening, but only has her dress torn off. Spanky brings the house down in this laugh-riot and walks away with the prize.

A great parody of amateur hour type contests, ambitious mothers and pretentious people. Alfalfa appears prominently here in his first Rascals short singing "She'll be Comin' Round The Mountain." The Cabin Kids, the talented quintet of black kids, also appear here singing their rendition of "Dinah".

A TRIP TO THE MOON (1902)

by Georges Méliès

Georges Méliès, a talented conjurer, was the first man to realize that film could be used to create illusions unfettered by logic or probability.

A TRIP TO THE MOON begins at a Congress of Astronomers, with the President explaining his plan for the journey; he and five colleagues will be shot off in a projectile shaped like a large bullet. After a visit to the construction workshops, where the gun to fire the vehicle is cast before their eyes, the scientists are launched amid much ceremony, and they disappear into space.

SINBAD THE SAILOR

Ub Iwerks lets his imagination run rampant in SINBAD THE SAILOR, so that at times this action-packed cartoon borders on surrealism. The story moves rapidly from one absurd scene to another. Sinbad spots a pirate ship and not only does its Captain have an eye-patch and a peg-leg, but the Captain's parrot has an eye-patch and a peg-leg too!

Music and sound effects enhance the action effectively and Iwerks' cartooning mastery is very much in evidence in this colorful story.

THE CRAZY RAY (1923)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with HENRI ROLLAN, ALBERT PREJEAN, MADELINE RODRIGUES, MARCEL VALE, PRE FILS, MYLA SELLER and M. STACQUIT

THE CRAZY RAY is the story of a looney scientist (in the original French prints he is appropriately named Dr. Craze) who, using a powerful ray, has frozen Paris in the midst of its late-night life. The only people who escape the professor's paralyzing power are the night watchman asleep on the top level of the Eiffel Tower, which the ray failed to reach, and a few passengers who arrive by air from Marseilles after the ray's effect has taken hold. Eventually old Doctor Craze is persuaded to switch off his ray and just 24 hours later, life gets going again.

ALI BABA (1932)

The cartoon opens with a pale blue night. A deep voice orders "Open Sesame!" and two boulders open wide to camel riding thieves.

The leader is a pirate in Arab's clothing. His gang have hideous rubber Jack-O-Lantern faces. Whining Arabian music and pounding drums accent the action as the thieves roar through the town vacuuming every valuable that isn't nailed down. The heroes, Ali Baba and son, are trampled and they rent a "U-DRIVE-EM" camel with piston-like humps and scramble after the crooks.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PHOTOPLAY

In 1929, 15 giants of the film industries delivered an important series of lectures at the University of Southern California. Irving Thalberg, Conrad Nagel, Benjamin Glazer and William Cameron Menzies, among others, stood astride the sound and silent eras as they theorized on sound, story, criticism, acting and other aspects of film. This overview of the future of film is authoritative, timely and often prophetic.

Less than 3,000 copies of this maroon cloth, gold embossed with matching slip case, 390 page, profusely illustrated book remain. Published in co-sponsorship between the Academy and the National Film Society, this luxurious volume will become an immediate rarity and collector's item. Available exclusively from Blackhawk Films.

FROM THE SERIES

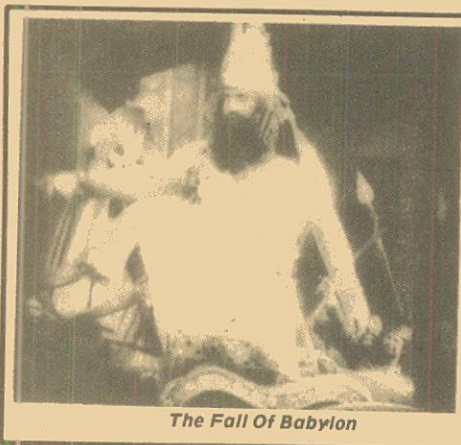

— THE HISTORY OF THE MOTION PICTURE —

Produced By Paul Killiam and Saul Turrell

THE HISTORY OF THE MOTION PICTURE is a unique series of half-hours tracing the development of the 20th Century art of film-making. Some units are condensations containing carefully chosen highlights and key scenes from great classics. Others present anthologically selected material from many sources on specific themes: comedy styles, individual stars, directorial techniques, etc. New musical scores enhance interest for today's audiences, and thoughtful narration pinpoints the significance of each sequence in movie history, recalling the challenges faced by the craftsmen who made them. (Anth.-Anthology; Cond.-Condensation).

These 16mm sound prints are ordered from Blackhawk with the understanding that they will not be copied, reproduced, transferred to other mediums, leased, re-distributed on a rental basis, used theatrically or for television of any kind, all of which other rights are expressly reserved.

CHUCK JONES

HELL BENT FOR ELECTION

HELL BENT FOR ELECTION is a political campaign film for the purpose of reelecting Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944.

Unlike the usual political polemics, issues are graphically illustrated via a wonderful color cartoon with a deceptively simple situation. Two trains, the "Defeatist Special", an antiquated, rickety old train, 1929 vintage and the "Win The War Special", a sleek streamliner with an engine closely resembling FDR are both on their way back to Washington. At a junction they are scheduled to switch to the same track — only one, of course, can go — which one will it be?

BATTLE OF THE CENTURY Pie Fight Sequence (1927)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with STAN LAUREL, OLIVER HARDY, CHARLIE HALL and ANITA GARVIN

BATTLE OF THE CENTURY has been considered a "lost film" for some twenty years and is a Laurel and Hardy classic that has assumed legendary proportions. The second official Laurel and Hardy short made, BATTLE was the first film Laurel and Hardy were billed as such. This was early in the evolution of the duo — just two films back in DETECTIVES THINK the boys had started wearing derbies — but in BATTLE the two emerged as the greatest comedy team of all time. Roach took two gags which, even then, had come to be regarded as cliché and fashioned them into incredible, new and unique sequences. The gags? The banana peels and the pie fight.

Clyde Bruckman, the writer-director responsible for Keaton's SHERLOCK JR. and THE GENERAL and Lloyd's FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE and WELCOME DANGER, directed BATTLE with true comic virtuosity. Leo McCarey, the director of such classics as GOING MY WAY and THE AWFUL TRUTH supervised. The story was Hal Roach's.

The story opens with Stan as a prizefighter and Ollie his manager. Then on to the banana peel and pie fight. Unfortunately, only the pie fight of BATTLE is known to exist today. Blackhawk has sought BATTLE in its entirety since the 50's without luck.

Our customers have written and requested BATTLE more than any other Laurel and Hardy we lack. Therefore, until we find additional material we are releasing the pie sequence. If any of you have information about the whereabouts of the remainder of this fine short, please do contact us immediately.

Charlie Hall is a pie vendor making a delivery when he has a disastrous encounter with Laurel and Hardy. He slips on one of the boy's banana peels coming out of a shop and the fight is on. Every innocent bystander in the area becomes involved in this BATTLE OF THE CENTURY. A policeman notices Stan and Ollie laughing at the fracas and the perennial chase begins.

Credited as establishing this vision of social anarchy and reciprocal destruction in their films, BATTLE is felt by many, Henry Miller included, to be "the greatest comic film ever made."

THE GOLD RUSH (1925)

Restricted to the United States with CHARLIE CHAPLIN, GEORGIA HALE, MACK SWAIN
Scored version composed and performed by William Perry

Both Blackhawk's silent and sound versions of THE GOLD RUSH are special because this comedy is a true masterpiece. But the exclusive musical score by Bill Perry makes our new sound version even more special. No narration interferes with the action, laughs, or pathos. Instead, music enhances all the famous scenes: The long line of gold seekers in the mountains and the results of a lone man's arrival (with following bear). Charlie devouring his boots, his companion imagining Charlie's a giant chicken and the rest.

HIGH C's (1930)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with CHARLIE CHASE, THELMA TODD, and THE RANCH BOYS

HIGH C's is a wonderful exception to the rule that comedy featurettes were overlong, padded and dull. It stars Charlie Chase as a World War I draftee who is sent to France where he meets (and is wooed by) Thelma Todd. When he runs into the Ranch Boys, it's song at first sight proving that war ... at least in this movie ... doesn't have to be hell.

I'M ON MY WAY (1919)

with HAROLD LLOYD, SNUB POLLARD, BEBE DANIELS

Harold, the goofy go-getter, loves Sweet Bebe and dreams idyllic thoughts of marital bliss. However, Snub Pollard and the rest of Snub's family bring Harold's beautiful dreams to a halt and force him to flee the crazy household together with the vows of marriage he sought. One of Lloyd's funniest shorts.

TOP FLAT (1935)

with THELMA TODD and PATSY KELLY

This next-to-last short in the Todd/Kelly series ranks as one of their best. The girls are roommates, but the cultured refined Thelma is irked because Patsy thinks her modern poetry sounds like a grocery list. Thelma stomps out declaring some day she'll be living in a Park Avenue penthouse writing best sellers.

GYP THE GYPSY (1936)

(Abridgement of BOHEMIAN GIRL)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with LAUREL & HARDY, MAE BUSCH, ANTONIO MORENO, SAM LUFKIN and HARRY BOWN
Beautiful cutting from one of Laurel and Hardy's greatest features. Stan and Ollie are thieves for the Gypsy Queen and peel potatoes between forays. Mae is Ollie's headstrong wife who calls her hubby "a bag of suet" and his best friend "woodpecker."

THE WHACKY WEST (1937)

(Abridgement of WAY OUT WEST)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with STAN LAUREL and OLIVER HARDY

The two greenhorn prospectors roll into Brushwood Gulch and bump right into the sheriff. Cut to the Avalon Boys Quartet doing a western swing of "At The Ball, That's All", with Stan and Ollie counterpointing with a pleasant improvised dance. Then into the saloon where they ask about the daughter of a late friend and reveal to double-take James Finlayson that she is an heiress and they have the deed to the gold mine.

SALLY OF THE SAWDUST¹ (1925)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with W.C. FIELDS, ALFRED LUNT and CAROL DEMPSTER

Directed by D.W. Griffith
Music by Jack Ward

Long thought lost, this recently rediscovered classic is W.C. Fields' first and most famous silent feature film.

The romantic hero is played by Alfred Lunt, then a young Broadway juvenile, and the part of Sally, the orphan circus girl, is played by Carol Dempster, one of Griffith's favorite leading ladies.

Fields has the role of Eustace McGarale, a carnival barker who has adopted Sally, and he has ample opportunity to show off his skills in juggling and in conning the carnival customers. In fact, it is in this film that we see brought into focus on the screen the basic character that Fields has been developing throughout his vaudeville and stage careers.

DO IT YOURSELF (1938)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with STAN LAUREL, OLIVER HARDY, BILLY GILBERT, PATRICIA ELLIS, MINNA GOMBELL

"Whenever you want anything done right, always do it yourself," declares a ruffled Ollie in this entertaining abridgement of Laurel and Hardy's BLOCKHEADS. World War I buddies, Stan and Ollie are reunited after 20 years. Ollie has invited Stan over for one of his sweet little wife's wonderful steaks; and this is where the abridgement opens; right at Ollie's front door. The wife is away shopping so the boys wait patiently. Stan does two of his better known gags in the meantime. In the first, he pulls a glass of water and ice cubes out of his suit pockets. In the second, he cups his hands for a pipe and using his thumb as a match, lights it and sits smoking contentedly. Mrs. Hardy, a holy terror in a skirt, enters frowning and not only refuses to cook a steak for Ollie and his "knick-knack" friend but packs up and leaves for mother. Ollie declares that he will cook a meal for Stan without his wife and all by himself! Naturally, catastrophe is the order of the day as these two idiots destroy the Hardy's apartment and then are chased into a fadaway by an outraged Billy Gilbert for conduct unbecoming with his wife.

FREE EATS (1932)

Restricted to the United States and Canada with THE LITTLE RASCALS

A wealthy woman who wants to boost her husband's bid for political office decides to have a lawn party for poor children. Meanwhile, a pack of thieves and con artists plot on how they can crash this affair and garner some loot. The Rascals attend the party, but not alone. A nitwit detective goes as do two safecracking mobster midgets dressed to look like sweet babies. No one except Styvie is wise to these "fidgets". Eventually Wheezer and Dorothy find that Styvie is right and the Rascals catch the phony babies robbing a wall safe.

FREE EATS was the debut of Spanky McFarland. Roach had signed the three year old from Dallas to a five year contract. Spanky could barely walk or talk but his presence before the camera was already natural and charming.

RUNAWAY TRUCK

Restricted to the United States and Canada
with KIRBY GRANT

Madge Tyler (Jeanne Bares) accidentally packs barbituates instead of allergy tablets into her husband's lunch box. That day Jim Tyler is taking his son, Teddy, and a group of boys into a mountain recreation area for a picnic. At the end of his lunch he takes the pills and the group boards his straight truck for the drive down the winding mountain highway. Teddy and he are talking as the pills begin to take hold.

Meanwhile, Sky King (Kirby Grant) and Doc Sawyer (Clark Smith) are out flying in the Song Bird when Penny (Gloria Winters), Sky's remarkable niece, radios them from the Flying Crown Ranch about Mrs. Tyler. They rush to her, discover the pills and immediately call Ranger Frank Harbridge, (Robert Dix) for assistance. By now Jim Tyler has collapsed at the wheel, his foot lodging the accelerator to the floor. Ten year old Teddy, barely able to turn the big wheel and see over the dashboard, desperately tries to keep the truck on the road.

Do not miss this thriller, you will be breathlessly on the edge of your seat in utter suspense.

From 1955 to 1959 Kirby Grant played the heroic Arizonian Sky King. It was a Western setting with frequent western themes, but the series revolved around a very modern rancher who used cars, radios, telephones and the indomitable Song Bird to patrol his Southwestern holdings and get the job done. Sky was a big favorite of the kids then and is today truly some of the best family entertainment available in the home and non-theatrical markets.

This is our first Sky King episode and we do promise more. How much more will depend on the response we receive from you on this very fine episode, THE RUNAWAY TRUCK. Stay tuned. This is a Blackhawk exclusive. 880-98-2875, Super 8 magnetic sound, b/w, dialogue 26 min. $37.98

STRATOS-FEAR (1933)

A Willie Whopper Cartoon by Ub Iwerks

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR (1939-40)

Restricted to the United States and Canada

In the tradition of the London Exposition of 1851, the New York's World Fair of 1939-40 was the biggest and the best International exposition of its day. Built on a former dump heap in Queens in the geo-center of N.Y.C., the Fair's 300 buildings covered over 1200 acres at a cost of $155 million. The theme was The World of Tomorrow and futuristic buildings abounded with much architectural use of glass. 500,000 visitors from 60 countries attended the day. F.D.R. opened the Fair that commemorated the 150th anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as President of the U.S.

MACABRE MOMENTS FROM THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA I (1925)

with LON CHANEY, MARY PHILBIN and NORMAN KERRY

This new edited version of THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA follows the entire story and includes the most intense and spectacular scenes of the original. The suspense mounts as the imminent introduction of the Phantom unfolds. At first he is a mere legend. When the Opera House is sold, the new owners are told they may hear of a ghost of the opera. The men laugh at this, but soon the "ghost" materializes.

The organ score by Goylord Carter adds significantly to the dramatic tension of this classic horror movie.

THE TAHITI AND THE MORRO CASTLE (1930 & 1934)

Restricted to the United States and Canada

Tahiti of the Union Lines, one of the largest liners plying the Pacific, got into trouble August 16, south of the Cook Islands when it lost its starboard propeller and tallshaft and began to leak. All were rescued; but after four days the Tahiti's aft compartments flooded, her bow went 90 degrees and she sank.

The Morro Castle was a new ship of the Ward Line in ferry service between New York and Havana. On the night of September 8, 1934, two days out of Havana, her captain collapsed and died. The same night, off the New Jersey coast, fire broke out in the library. Her acting captain kept the ship on course of full speed, delayed sending an SOS and then abruptly headed for the New Jersey shore. It took 8 days to fully extinguish the fire. There were 133 deaths.

Costly in lives and dollars, these tragedies rank in nautical history as two of the most famous disasters at sea.

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN (1940-41)

Restricted to the United States and Canada

Austria annexed and France and Poland victims of the blitzkrieg. Hitler and the Nazis felt mightily that Europe was theirs. The British Isles stood all alone before the assembled military strength of Hitler. From August 6, 1940 thru mid-1941 the Luftwaffe's mass and indiscriminate bombing of Britain continued unabated. The British put up barrage balloons to ensnare the fighters; they sent a valiant teen-aged Royal Air Force into the skies to doo-fight; they fought the fires and cleaned up the rubble and carried on courageously in the face of this Armageddon. Nazi intelligence failed to perceive that British defenses were on the verge of breaking and Hitler was so obsessed by the prize of Russia that he pulled back his air power and sent it to Russia. This was the highwater mark of the Third Reich.

The British came back stronger than ever and the door to Europe was still open. See the ruin and wreckage of London aflame with the horror of war! See Coventry where 1000 planes dropped a million pounds of bombs on 165,000 people! See the death in the air! Hear Churchill's brave proclamation and be thankful for what the British endured.

Notice: Some vertical scratches were in the original preprint of this subject. Blackhawk has corrected this as much as possible, and the overall quality is good. Due to the importance of this footage, it has been released in spite of these imperfections.

SLIDE ACCESSORIES

SLIDE PROJECTOR SLIDE CUBE SYSTEM

Bell & Howell's Slide Cube System projectors are an extraordinary way to project, store, and enjoy your slides. Slide cube projectors are designed to make your slides look beautiful on the screen.

- Quiet operation and superb reliability help make Slide Cube System projectors a great way to get everything out of your slides that you've put into them.
- Cartridges store slides in one-eighth the space for about one-third the cost of clumsy tray slides.
- Slide cartridges give your slide collection maximum protection. They keep the damaging effects of dust and lights from reaching your slides. Because they store flat, they also minimize the chance of warping.
- You never have to waste time loading slides into the round tray slots.
- Space is provided on the top of each for your catalog collection.
- Model RC50 comes with remote control forward, recall.
- Acrylic top cover.

- 030-32-0120, Slide Cube Projector RC50 $149.95

BLACKHAWK'S 2" x 2" SLIDE READY MOUNTS

These are unprinted cardboard ready mounts for you to use in mounting your double frame (regular 8-perforation, 35mm.) transparencies, or single frame (4 perforation, 35mm such as frames from regular filmstrips), or super slide transparencies. These ready mounts are embossed to hold the transparencies in position, and plastic coated on the inside panels for permanent sealing. To seal, all you need do is to go around the edge of mount with medium hot iron — do not iron over transparency.

NEWSREEL

THE SHRIMP

Langdon was a headline vaudevillian when he came to Mack Sennett in 1923. In two years he rivalled Chaplin, Lloyd, and Keaton as a movie comedian. He played the little boy lost in the big world with brilliant pantomime and great gags by the likes of Frank Capra. A beautiful example of the outstanding quality of his work at this time is FEET OF MUD, (page 23), a 1924 laugh until you cry short.

From Sennett he went to First National where he found his greatest success with such classics as TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP, and THE STRONG MAN. His character was always meek, weak, bewildered and hopelessly funny. At this point Langdon made the mistake of deciding to handle all the scripting and directing himself. His excesses were unchecked and his popularity wanted. He went over budget constantly and stubbornly repeated the same gags until his pathos would become disgustingly pathetic. His personal life was in shambles also, with heavy alimony payments and a generally untenable financial position.

When talkies came in Langdon was no longer the hot property he had once been. He went to Roach Studios, a studio of stars, yet a haven for many has and almost beers. There he starred in a series of eight two-reel comedies which failed dismally. His voice fit his character and he still had his pantomimic artistry, but he often violated his pantomime with dialogue. Pantomime, whether in silents or talkies, is most effective apart from dialogue. There may be other characters talking on the screen, location noises or music, but the principal, the favorite of the camera — if miming — must be apart from the dialogue, silent him/herself. Langdon was fired after one year of Roach because of this and his unmanageability.

After Roach he went on to Monogram and Columbia taking what work was available to him and hoping for a comeback. December 22, 1944 this wonderfully sad clown died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Langdon, like Semon, is a case study of a motion picture artist who needed help to do his best work. He was not an auteur, an all-aspected one-man-show film man. He was a sensational comedian, but he was his own worst director. He made a rut, persisted in staying there and by the time he opened his eyes, the world had gone by, his magic had faded.

The Langdon Roach shorts have been casually dismissed as a group so often that no one wonders anymore. Over the last year six of the eight have been screened at Blackhawk and it is apparent and surprising that many film historians have overlooked one film, THE SHRIMP. THE SHRIMP is important because it works, Langdon is in excellent form. The public is always a fair barometer on something like this, and no matter who Langdon was or what he did before or after THE SHRIMP, audiences who have seen our answer print don't merely laugh, they roar.

The film is a special treat because because this time the little fellow mops up all his bullies and takes control to such a degree that the contrast to his weakling personality earlier in the film is hysterical. For an unbelievably funny two-reeler, THE SHRIMP is definitely recommended.

YOU CAN'T CHEAT AN HONEST MAN (1939)

with W. C. FIELDS, EDGAR BERGEN and CONSTANCE MOORE

Fields is Larson E. Whipsnade, vulgarian and con man supreme. He runs a circus which is, of course, the greatest show on earth. Bergen and "Woodenhead", as Fields calls Charlie McCarthy, don't always agree, but Edgar hangs on a bit longer as he is so fond of Constance. Larson is just ahead of the county sheriff when his luck runs thin, but then there's nothing to do but race his elephants and wagons to the state line! Good nonsense in this well-edited romp. DR. STRANGELOVE OR HOW I LEARNED TO STOP WORRYING AND LOVE THE BOMB (1963)

GEORGE C. SCOTT, PETER SELLERS, STERLING HAYDEN, SLIM PICKENS
In 1963, Director Stanley Kubrick turned an unlikely topic — the nuclear destruction of every living thing — into this classic, "black" comedy. In it a deranged General, Jack Ripper, unleashes a highly unauthorized nuclear attack against "the Rooskies".

From that simple premise evolves a complex comedy loaded with possible improbabilities and characters just this side of mad.

The performance by Scott as a gung-ho General who looks on war as good, clean fun; Pickens as a good ol' boy B-52 pilot; and Sellers in three roles are superb.

In the end, atomic explosions are as common as pie-throwing in a slapstick comedy.

Co-written by Kubrick and Sellers, DR. STRANGELOVE is probably one of the finest films of the last quarter century and certainly one of those comedies for thinkers.

ALI/SPINKS 2

They said he was down, they said he was through, but was he? No, he was back and stronger than ever. Spinks could take the punches, but he couldn't take Ali. Ali, always moving, the masterful athlete. Spinks, the tough young kid, a little scared and with no style whatsoever. It took 15 rounds to do it, but Ali came back and won the title back for the third time! Don't miss this abridgement, jam-packed with highlights. RIDE THE LAST OF THE BIG RED CARS

Climb aboard one of the last of the Pacific Electric's Big Red cars for a high speed run from Los Angeles' 5th and Main Station. Hear the two tone whistle and sing of the wire as Big Red cars, affectionately called "Blimps" roar by bound for Long Beach. Just ten days prior to abandonment, the 16mm cameras of Alan Fishel and seven other contributing photographers put you there for cab-shots and run-bys at the Viaduct, Whistle Alley, Slauson, Watts, Compton, Dominguez, North Long Beach and Ocean Avenue, to name a few. Plus, a dramatic high speed chase at Compton is included. The Pacific Electric — the world's largest electric interurban lives on in this historic film. (Interurban Films)

PACIFIC 231 (1949)

Winner of the 1949 Cannes Film Festival for editing, this film's brilliant photography of French National Railway, PACIFIC 231, created a new dimension in railroad motion pictures. You accompany the steam locomotive from the round-house to the coupling up to its train, then a lovely ride from Paris to Marseilles. Every motion of PACIFIC 231 and its trains is orchestrated to the great symphonic score created for this film by composer Honnegger. A must item for railroad fans and students of film. AERIAL SPECTACULAR (1978)

Bi-planes, monoplanes, rotos, jets, sky divers and the exciting Blue Angels do their stuff in this tightly edited thirteen minute film photographed in vibrant Eastmancolor. See a cross-section of 20th Century aviation which includes dramatic appearances by: The F-4 Phantom, A-4 Skyhawk, B-52 Stratofortress, F-8 Crusader, Chipmunk, Sopwith, Fokker and Nieuport. Also appearing are the Golden Knights parachute team, "The Rocket Man", and a lady daredevil who rides the top wing of a Stearman through a loop. Top coverage of a terrific air show. 770-76-0097, Super 8 silent, color, 13 min. $24.95

THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY (1903)

with G.M. ANDERSON, MARIE MURRAY and GEORGE BARNES

Credited as the first American film to tell a complete story, THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY was an "eastern" western made in New Jersey and employed intercutting to tell the story, captivating the audiences who flocked to see it in 1903.

Max Aronson, one of the performers, later found fame as "Broncho Billy" Anderson, the first cowboy screen star, and the film generated countless imitations as the excitement it created swept across the fledgling industry.

RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE (1925)

Restricted to the United States by Zane Grey with TOM MIX, MARIAN NIXON, WARNER OLAND, FRED KOHLER and WILFRED LUCAS

Musical Score on the sound version is played by William Perry

When Tom Mix first entered the movies in 1910, he was billed as an "Ex-U.S. Marshall, expert roper and broncho buster". He was all of that and more, for he had also been at various times a range rider, a sheriff, a Texas Ranger, and had participated in the Spanish-American War, the Boer War, and the Boxer Rebellion. As a performer, he was a man of action rather than emotion, full of energy and the spirit of fun, every inch a showman who insisted on doing his own stunts.

In 1917, Mix joined the Fox Studios, and as their mainstay made over 60 films for them. By the early 1920s, he was riding high as the most popular Western star in the world.

DOCUMENTARY/NEWSREEL SALE

THE JAZZ AGE

Narrated by Fred Allen

This film presents an impression of prohibition, the noble experiment which produced effects opposite its intent. Al Capone, gang violence in the streets, speakeasies, and college students with hip flasks are depicted.

The bigotry of the era is seen in film clips of the emergence of the Ku Klux Klan, and of the deportation of European immigrants in the wake of the fear created by the Russian revolution and "alien doctrines."

All the other important elements of the era appear in this fascinating movie: the flappers, the jazz bands, the sports heroes like Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth and Knute Rockne, and of course the greatest hero of the jazz age, the 25-year old mail pilot who traversed the Atlantic Ocean in a non-stop solo flight, Charles Lindbergh.

THE JAZZ AGE is captured with all its excitement and glamour in this well-paced documentary narrated by Fred Allen.

QUEEN MARY — GREAT OCEAN LINERS

Restricted to the United States and Canada

Between wars Americans went abroad in droves, and liners kept getting faster, larger, and more stylish by the year. By 1936 one of the greatest of the super liners was completed, THE QUEEN MARY. Over 1000 feet long and 100 feet above water line, she was mammoth. Scenes of her construction are shown with wide shots that emphasize hugeness. Movietone also was present at the christening of the QUEEN MARY. Coverage of various crossings is included with excellent aerial shots, ending with the QUEEN MARY as a troop carrier in World War II.

"SHIRLEY TEMPLE: THE BIGGEST LITTLE STAR OF THE THIRTIES (1976)

Restricted to the United States and Canada

See how this irresistible little girl with big bright eyes, deep dimples, and cute curly hair captured the heart of America and transformed the whole country into her own backyard. Travel with Miss Temple to New York, and watch her roast hotdogs with Eleanor Roosevelt.

Walk the beaches of Waikiki with Shirley as she inspects Honolulu's lifeguard patrol. Watch Tyrone Power, Sophie Tucker, Alice Faye, and others await Shirley's pixy appearance at the Hollywood premier of "Wee Willie Winkie".

WINGS OVER KITTY HAWK

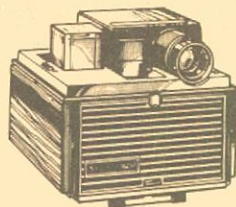

Restricted to the United States and Canada

The Story of Wilbur and Orville Wright

Here's a film that more or less sketches the history of flight. The first event on which motion picture cameras were actually there to record the Wright's early flight, which was almost ignored by any of the newspapers. But their later flights in Europe are well recorded, as were their demonstrations for the U.S. Army. The U.S. Air Force was the result. The Wright Airplane Company was formed. This is the story of two generations of flight as it centered around the Wright Brothers.

WHISTLE WHILE YOU WORK (1937)

Happy, Sneezzy, Sleepy, Doc, Bashful, Grumpy and Dopey whistling, singing, and working in the merriest way as a lively and entertaining musical number introduces the individual personalities of each of the dwarfs.

It's an outstanding excerpt from Disney's first animated feature, SNOW WHITE. Disney had poured $1.5 million dollars into this "folly" by the time it premiered in 1937. Over 1000 people had worked on it including Disney himself on a daily basis.

The work proved fruitful. A special Oscar was awarded to Disney Studios in 1938 for a "significant screen innovation which has charmed millions and pioneered a great entertainment field for the motion picture cartoon." (From Walt Disney Studios.)
