💎 Strain 💎 which is a score for the day, which is essentially a measure of how hard you worked on a scale from 1 to 21. With the strain it gives you an estimate of how many calories you burn throughout the day based on your height, weight, and heart rate. While this might not be 100 percent accurate since everyone's metabolism is a little different, it's a great guideline for anyone wondering how much they should be eating to fuel their workouts, lose weight, or maintain their current composition.
