Our universe operates under certain eternal principles or laws. One of these principles or laws is the law of polarity. Some examples of polarities are light/dark, positive/negative, yin/yang, male/female, proton/electron, good/evil, Alpha/Omega, God/Goddess and so forth. The female principle is the yin principle and the male principle is the yang principle.

The female or yin principle encompasses certain tendencies, functions, movements, directions and vibrations as does the male principle. For example, the female principle encompasses centripetal force, expansion, lighter in weight, colder, darker, wetter, softer, more hollow and expansive, etc. The male or yang principle encompasses centrifugal force, contraction, heavier in weight, hotter, brighter, drier, harder, more compacted and condensed, etc.

According to a very brilliant, in my opinion, Japanese Philosopher named Michio Kushi, in his book "The Book of Macrobiotics - The Universal Way to Health, Happiness and Peace", these universal principles operate constantly in the eternal order of the infinite universe. He tells us that "God and Infinity are one in the same. When the name of God is used, it is often misunderstood as a static personality, and when the term Infinity is used, it is difficult for many people to comprehend. The Infinity/God/Source/All That Is is neither a person nor a phenomenon; it is a universal oneness, embracing everything – every being, every phenomenon- and it is the endless universe itself. The universe does not remain in one state but is changing constantly – transforming continuously, transmuting eternally from the beginningless beginning to the endless end. The infinite universe is a process of absolute dynamic change within which countless relative changes are arising everywhere in every dimension at all times. Yin and Yang are manifested continuously from the eternal movement of one universe. The movement of energy or vibration ultimately appears from these two polar tendencies, yin and yang, which are antagonistic and complementary to each other. In turn, yin and yang are the primary manifestations of One Infinity, or the ultimate origin of all phenomena".

Kushi further states that "In the book of Genesis, we read, "In the beginning, God created heaven and earth". This reveals that One Infinity polarized itself into two complementary and antagonistic forces of yin and yang. Genesis then proceeds to describe the subsequent manifestations or transformations of energy resulting from this polarization, through the stages of vibration (light and darkness), subatomic particles (the firmament or ionosphere above the earth), the world of elements (dry land and water), . . . finally reaching humanity, as represented by Adam and Eve, the first man and woman". However, according to Kushi, "nothing is solely yin or yang and everything is composed of both tendencies in varying degrees".

This is further demonstrated by the universal yin/yang sign. The yin or dark half retains a seed of the yang or bright half and the yang or light half retains a seed of the yin or dark half.

Each and every soul has a spiritual counterpart or twin that is their exact polar opposite. You were created together in the God/Goddess image of the source when your soul was born from the infinite source literally eons ago. One twin polarized to the yin or female side and one twin polarized to the male or yang side. Each of the twins retained a seed of their counterpart. These spiritual counterparts are linked together throughout eternity. Twin souls have deep unconditional love for one another and their love is eternal, pure and the highest form of love. Their love is "divine" in nature and is representative of the love our creator has for us.

This concept is not a new one and, in fact, is very ancient. Plato discusses twin souls in his Symposium. The Sufis refer to twin souls as "sister souls" in the Sufi text.

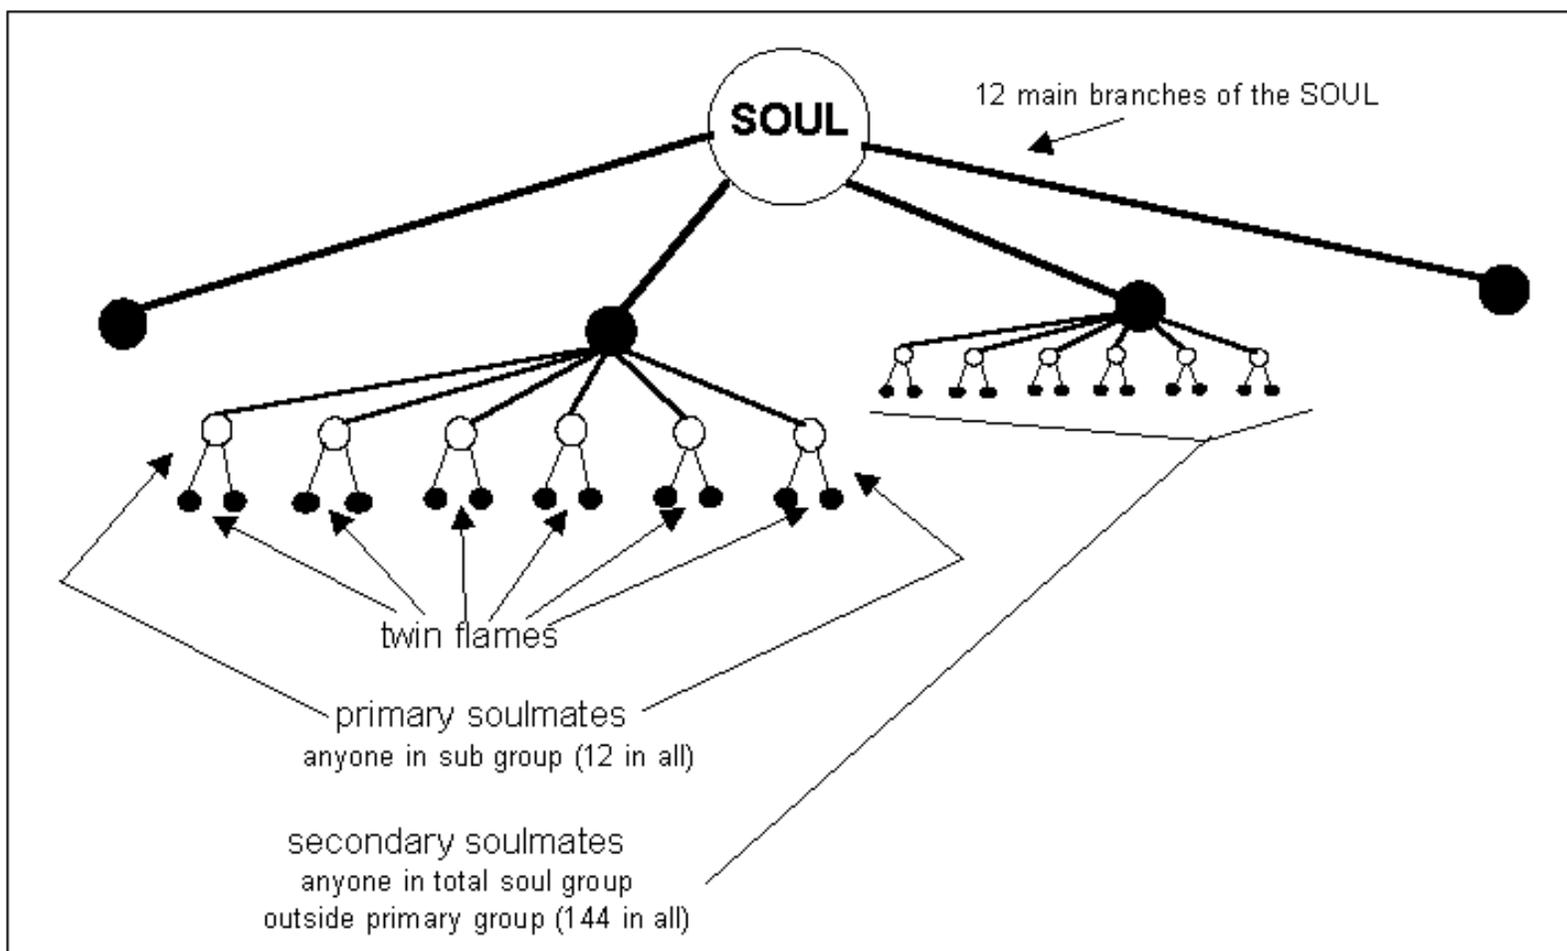

Our natural state is to be in oneness with our twin soul and also our higher selves. Each and every one of us had the "Christ Consciousness" or was totally enlightened and awake. This is how we were in our pre-fall state in the Garden of Eden. Adam and Eve are the original twin souls and they are representative of all twin souls. We eventually aligned too much with this materialistic, 3 dimensional realm and as a result we lost touch with our divine identities and roots. We became separated from our higher selves as well as our twin souls. We fell asleep, so to speak regarding our true spiritual identities and entered into a karmic death and rebirth cycle. We "descended".

The cyclical nature of the universe is that we descend and then we ascend again. It is an eternal process. The Source breathes us out and we begin our descent. The Source breathes us back in and we start to ascend. When the ascension process begins, we again align with our higher selves and our divine counterparts, our twin soul.

When we originally descended from our Source, we started as a large mass of souls and then we started to divide into smaller and smaller groups as we continued to descend. These soul divisions were mathematically precise and based on the number 12 and multiples of the number 12. No group or subgroup divided into any number less than 12. The reason for this is that the number 12 ($1 + 2$) = 3 manifests the Divine Trinity, a very powerful force. The number one represents the self or son and the number 2 represents the pairing of balanced opposites (duality, yin/yang, father/mother) to manifest the Divine Trinity or complete expression. As a sidenote, twin soul pairs vibrate to the master number 11. In numerology, 11 is a master number and represents duality at a higher vibrational rate and expression than the number 2. The number 11 symbolizes spiritual light and truths brought to the world and the human race. When twin souls come together, they provide service to humanity in the form of bringing powerful light and love energies to the world which provides an impetus to higher consciousness on our planet. This concept will be further explained later in this article.

The number 12 is very significant in our physical world. There are 12 astrological signs. All 12 astrological signs together represent a complete human journey on the earth plane. Christ and Osiris each had 12 apostles. Jacob had 12 sons and these 12 sons went forward to build the 12 tribes of Israel. There are many other examples as well.

As I stated earlier, we all started in a large mass of souls called a "Soul Group". There are many, many "Soul Groups" throughout our universe as well as on the earth plane. Each "Soul Group" was born from the Infinite Source. Each one of these "Soul Groups" contains 144,000 Monads and each Monad contains 144 individuals. (Note that 144,000 is perfectly divisible by 12). Therefore, each "Soul Group" born from the Source contains $144,000 \times 144 = 20,736,000$ individual male or female polarized entities. Perhaps at this point, a visual depiction would help.

The circle with the word "SOUL" in it depicts one Monad from one of the Soul Groups containing 144,000 Monads. Each of these Monads in the "Soul Group" contains a total of 144 individuals. Each Monad divided into 12 branches which are called "Oversoul Souls". Then each "Oversoul Soul" broke down into 6 sets of twin souls or flames. Upon the final descent into matter, each of the six sets made the final and very painful separation into male and female twin souls or flames.

You and your twin soul or twin flame together are one of these pairs of 6 in your primary soulmate group. The other 5 sets of twins in your primary soulmate group are known as your "near twins". Since each Monad, as depicted above, contains 144 individuals in total, the other 132 outside of your primary soulmate group in your Monad are known as your secondary soulmates. Sometimes when one meets a "near twin" in life, they can easily mistake them for the one and only true twin soul or twin flame. However, if the one and only true twin soul or flame steps into the picture eventually, the confusion is readily cleared up because there is no mistaking the true twin flame. Your intuition will let you know in no uncertain terms. There is a feeling of spiritual love and awareness unmatched by any other love you may have felt in the past.

Upon ascension, we again begin to reunite with our brothers and sisters. According to Kushi, "upon becoming human, we then start to return to Infinity, through an outward-moving spiral of decomposition and spiritualization, melting personal and individual entities and once again achieving union with the Eternal One or Source".

We become one with our Source or God again and from what I understand there is not greater joy for us to experience. We as humans cannot even begin to comprehend this level of joy!

St. Germain explains ascension as a process of moving further up back through the hierarchies and dimensions until we eventually reach the source again. The first step is to realign with our twin souls, then the individuals in our primary soulmate group a.k.a. "near twins" and the remaining 11 secondary soulmate groups in our Monads, etc. In a channeled message through Paul Yandea entitled "St. Germain on Himself, Soul Groups, etc.", from Spiritual Endeavors.org, St. Germain states that "as members of a Monad take on greater Light in their mastery of remembrance, they contribute to the Soul Group's greater Light in its mastery of remembrance, and as the Soul Group evolves in taking on greater Light, it too, takes on greater amounts of Light to evolve in its mastery of remembrance".

As more and more soulmate constellations begin to reunite, through the process of spiritualization, we will continue to ascend back up through the hierarchies and dimensions until we all reach the source again, the highest dimension of all and the state of perfection. St. Germain also tells us that if all of the universal truths and knowledge were made known to our finite human minds at one time rather than gradually, "our finite human minds would blow a fuse". Therefore, spirit gives us the pieces of truths that we can handle and once we integrate these into our consciousnesses, further truths are revealed to us. This is a never ending process until we once again reach the state of perfection.

Our planet will be experiencing a huge evolutionary leap in consciousness in this New Age. Our planet as a whole will be ascending from 3rd dimension to 5th dimension. The Mayans predicted this end of the old reality as we know it to commence on December 21, 2012. Their calendar ends on that date. Edgar Cayce has prophesied that by the end of this New Age of Aquarius, we will be a completely telepathic civilization. This is a 5th dimensional state of being.

Many light workers are currently in the process of ascending and they in turn will help others to ascend. As we enter this new Age of Aquarius, also known as the "enlightened era", these ancient truths will be coming back into the light and out of the darkness. Many twin souls are beginning to align with their counterparts as well as their higher selves. This process is currently underway. however, it is just in the beginning stages. We will be returning to our pre-fall state when we were one with our spiritual twins and our higher selves and had full consciousness and awareness of our spiritual identities.

This is the plan that the higher forces have for our planet in this new age. We will be entering a "New Reality". But this will not happen overnight. This is a process and not an actual event. It is gradual but inevitable.

It is important to point out that it may not be the plan for you to realign with your twin soul in this particular lifetime. This is determined by divine timing and the plan for your individual twin set. Your twin may not even be incarnated on the earth plane at this point in linear time. Or your twin may be a child or even a baby somewhere on the earth plane. Your twin could even already be in the ascended state in a higher dimension, waiting for you to join them. There are no cut and dry situations when it comes to twin souls.

However, any spiritual work to align with their higher selves that either twin does will naturally “elevate” the other and this will help to expedite their eventual reunion. Rest assured that you will be reunited with your twin in divine timing. Twin souls are eternally connected to one another by a silvery/blue cord which can NEVER be severed. We are also connected to our higher selves by a similar silver cord which is attached to our crown chakra.

There is another reason that Twin souls are coming together at this particular point in our earth’s evolution. According to Dr. Maurie Pressman and Patricia Joudry in their groundbreaking book, “Twin Souls, Finding Your True Spiritual Partner”, “it is believed by many that humanity is on the brink of a quantum leap in consciousness. Enlightened people are preparing themselves for this in their own ways, realizing it is time for us to awaken to our origins and our potential and take responsibility for ourselves and for the earth. We believe that twin souls have a special contribution to make; their coming together in numbers at this time has a reason at both the individual and planetary level. When twin souls join, they generate a vortex of energy that may be seen as a light in the darkness of society’s unconsciousness. In completing each other, the whole becomes greater than the sum of its parts: the two create three, and the third is a very potent force, a force of light and love at an extremely pure level. This kind of energy, which partakes of the energy of both twins, is different from that of individuals or even groups of people working together. It is the special offering that the twins have to give to each other and expend in service to humanity. The image we see is that of a dark auditorium lit by an increasing number of individual flames. Each flame represents the conscious and harmonious relationship between twin souls. Eventually, as the twins multiply, there will be so many flames, so much light, and so much energy of that particular sort on the planet that this will act as a catalyst and help to bring about the expected breakthrough of consciousness”.

We are on the brink of a very exciting and positive time in the earth’s evolution and our own personal evolution. I for one am really looking forward to what is to come!
